Dear Vera:

I've known you such a short while that I shall not attempt to imagine what kind of a friend you'd be; but I'll always remember you as the "smiling blond" who accidentally got a "Ding" problem right.

Wishing you all the happiness that the "Future" keeps stored away for good girls, your classmate and perhaps sometime to be a close friend (who knows?)

Vera Looney

March 8, 1920.

Dear Vera:—

You know my opinion of these books!!!!

When you're looking over this book someday in the far future, maybe you'll know some more "scandal" concerning those we know at Houghton, for they seem to be making life exciting.

The breeze blowing thru this broken window is freezing me, but sometimes, think of your friend,

Frances Lirr

Remember the dance the Pendarian gave at Dorothy Babcock's, and I'm sure that will bring you some painful memories.

March 17, 1920

Dear Sara:

I've about run out of things to say in these "graduation" books, so I'll just wish you lots of success and happiness
Lais Benton.

Dora, dear.

March 18, 1920.

Have just returned from the movie, wasn't it great?

Now listen, when you are old and gray remember that away far off in some unknown land a friend of yours is living a quiet life with a "pair" of wonderful — (you know what I mean)

Wishing you great happiness —
As we Bess.

March 9, 1920

Dearest Dorothy —

Well, I haven't known you very long, but that short time I have surely enjoyed. Always remembered the nite you were made a Pindarian and the "cold car". Keep your same sweet disposition and you will never lack a host of friends, "of which I hope I will be considered one. I wish you all the joy, success, happiness etc, that the world can give.

Lovingly,

Jink Harris.

My Dear Nora:

I shall always remember our little talks before school when we would both get to school real early.

I hope you all the happiness, joy and success in life which one could possibly have.

With much love

O. Jeannette Young.

March 10, 1920.

Dearest Nora:

May your road of life be smooth and have few "bumps"; and at the end may you find the proverbial pot of health wealth and happiness.

Love:

Alary + Aunt Mary.

You darling!

I have not known you long enough to say that sincerely but you look like you are one never the less.

I shall never forget your pretty face and your wail—"They are all going out to dinner tonight and are not going to take me!" (Lasse!)

Of course you will have a happy and successful life even if you do hand in eight experiments on one day! I like you very much and love you a great deal more and wish you health and every thing else your majesty may desire. You may remember me all ways as your friend or

Your humble servant, (as you wish!)

March 22, 1920. Rebecca Bradley.

March 17, 1920.

Dearest Dara,

I don't think I can ever forget these first periods in Miss Clayton's room, and also the periods we have spent in Mr. Berry's Physics class. And whenever I think of them I can't help thinking of you, too, and what fun and what scrapes we have had together, especially in Physics. But wasn't it fun? When you think of them please remember your partner in crime, Margaret Carpenter.

P.S. I forgot to say I love you, but I do, anyway, really and truly. There goes the bell, good-bye.

March 21, 1920.

My dearest Dora,

Altho I have not known you so very long, I have grown quite fond of you, my child. We have certainly had some fun, together, haven't we? for instance the day at the Stock Show when you spent three dollars trying to win a cute little Kewpie doll.

Will you ever forget each of our first rides on the "Ferris wheel?" — and Oh, yes! all the fun we had on the whip and air-plane.

I could write on all thru the book but I must stop now and tell you how much I love you and wish you all the happiness in the World, ⁴² Sincerely, Dorothy.

March 23, 1920.

my dearest Dora;

I hope you have all the good times in "State" you are planning to have. And that you may still master all the math.

And hope that our friendship may be continued after school is over.

your friend

Raymond Jones.

March 23, 1920

Dearest Dora,

Never forget our table in the lunch room and the good times we have had at Senior High.

When I go back to Kentucky, won't you think of me some time and write?

Dear Dora, -

Again poor Trig. is suffering from lack of attention, but soon these days of pain, con. ect. will be over, and after this wonderful day comes perchance you glance on this page, I hope you will remember me as a true friend.

Yours at the point of death,

Florence Boos

Dear Dora,

I hope that all your life may be as happy as your school-days have been and are being. I hope also that you will be just as smart, cute and sweet as you are now, and when I haven't known you very long, please remember me as a friend.

Mar. 23, 1920.

My dear Bolshevik;

The suddenness of this turning Red once comes me; and my wits, have not as yet, been collected; Take due notice there of and govern yourself accordingly. As has been said before, by better states men than I, may you always be as happy as a bee - without the sting! I don't mean this as a slam & understand! In closing I will say - Don't get off the narrow way - Don't forget me in the years to come,
your friend,

Mary Anne Ladd

Dearest Dora;

Although our friendship has not been very long it has been most pleasant (to me, at least), and I hope it will be continued in the future. I shall never get over the shock of knowing a girl who took Physics and Chemistry at the same time and did so well in them.

May you have every happiness that this old world holds.

Love,

Dearest Dora:

Whenever I think of you I think of beautiful blonde hair beautifully arranged and always in order. Does it seem funny to tell you that? Well really it's true but besides that I will also think of a very sweet, attractive and charming girl who I hope I may know better sometime.

Sincerely,

Lucy Harding Adams
"Hardy"

My Dear Dora:

I'll never forget the times we've had getting our things in the locker room.

But I can say that I hope nothing worse ever happens to you. It's really not so bad after all.

Always remember me as one who loves you lots.

Dear Dora:

What to say I do not know, but I will start my pen and let it go.

In days long long gone by when in the tomb I may lie and you may be resting sweetly in Heaven, remember me down in old 207.

Say I have got to know that big joke that happened down at the Thirst M.E. and I am just wondering if I was a party to it.

May you always enjoy life as you have down in room 100 and I am sure your life can be nothing else but happy

Dear Dora:

How nice it is of you to let me write in your book! Although I haven't known you for years and years, we have been good friends in the time we have had, haven't we? My best wish and hope is that in years to come you'll still remember me as ^{one of} your friends who was never intended to be a part or writer but who loves you just the same.

Dearest Dora:

You don't know how honored I felt when I opened your book and saw my "bearing countenance" reposing on this page. I can't tell you what I really would like to say 'cause my thoughts are rather "scattered" but I do know that I have enjoyed every minute I've known you and I hope that I shall have many of them to enjoy.

My wish for you is that you may have all the success that you can enjoy -

Dearest Dora,

Do you remember the first time that we met? Well I do, it was in Miss Mac's home room. You were then transferred to some one else's.

As most all of the others have said, I haven't known you very long, but have learned to love you very much.

Oh! will you ever forget the night that Frances, you and my self were in darrain pledges? Well I should say that I won't. But, didn't we have fun?

Dora, my sincere wish for you is that, after you graduate that you may continue to have the great number of friends that you have now⁶⁶ and please don't forget that I am one who Halliburton

My dear Dora,

I'll have to make this short as I am afraid Mrs. Gardner will interfere.

But dear I have certainly enjoyed knowing you and I hope that our friendship will last always.

In the days to come may you always have the best of every thing and always be just as sweet and kind as you are now.

Don't forget me as days go by and we grow older and older.

Loveingly yours,

 you won't see me every day.
 I'll always remember you
 as that one pretty, sweet, pleasing, blond, Dora.

Loveingly,

Dora, dear:
 I have not known
 you very long. Only long enough to learn to love you.

I am going to wish you all the happiness and prosperity in the world as all the others are doing and add my good wishes to the many others which
 I know you already have.

Dearest Dora,
 I consider it a great pleasure to write in your book, but yet it is a terrible job for me to express myself in writing.

I can never forget the first time I ever saw you, I fell in love with you immediately but later I have found out that the more I know you the better I love you.

Can you ever forget one Sunday afternoon  ?? and several other such occasions.

Now Dora in years from now when memory stages a show for you remember me as one of your sincerest friends.

MAJESTIC THEATRE

SUGGESTIONS TO PATRONS

Note—Red Lights Denote Fire Exits

As this theatre is provided with sufficient exits, allowing the emptying of the entire house within a very few minutes, and as the real danger to life and limb is usually caused by the excitement of patrons in their mad rush to get out, the management suggests, in case of fire, that patrons walk, and not run, to the exit nearest their seat, and not try to beat those before them to the street. On passing out, do not stand near the exit or block the passage. By doing this and "keeping your head" there can be no possible danger.

To acquaint the audience with the various means of exits, all doors of this theatre, while always locked, except fire exits with red lights are opened at the conclusion of each performance, to facilitate the rapid clearing of the house.

Requests by mail, telephone or messenger for reservation of seats or boxes will receive prompt attention. Tickets will be held until 2:00 p.m. for matinee and until 7:00 p.m. for night performance.

On Sundays and Holidays tickets will be held only until 6:30 p.m.

Patrons should reserve their seats one week ahead.

Persons finding lost articles in any portion of the house will please leave them at the box office, where they will be restored to the owner.

Physicians who anticipate being summoned professionally are requested to leave the number of their seats at the box office.

Patrons can secure a copy of this program for mailing to friends in this country or abroad by application to the Chief Usher.

All attaches of the Majestic will be readily recognized by their livery, bearing the insignia of the theatre.

Patrons are entitled to and should receive the courteous and respectful attention of every attache. Any information required will be cheerfully given, and it is unnecessary to tender gratuities, as this practice is not permitted by the management, and renders the recipient subject to dismissal.

An agent of the Interstate Amusement Company is constantly in touch with the quest in Europe for Novelty Acts, and this connection affords the management the opportunity to select from the best attractions in the foreign entertainment market.

The management of the Majestic Theatre has adopted the "Alphabet" style of presenting the various features on the program to its patrons. Each act will be designated by a capital letter displayed in a space on each side of the proscenium frame, as the act is about to be produced.

Carriages and automobiles should approach the entrance from the east.

"Hurry and worry are the greatest hindrances to nutrition and recuperation. The cheerfulness of health, the happy, non-careworn life, is worth striving for. Amusements, going to the play, to the concert, to a pleasant party, give rest to the overworked nerves. Therefore our amusements should be planned to give this rest. The value of really entertaining performances is incalculable."

You, Mr. Business Man, should look upon wholesome, downright laughable and exhilarating vaudeville as an investment and not as merely pastime.

YOUR BRAIN won't keep up the merry clip you have been speeding in for the last several years. Better quit running so long "in high" without a little wholesome diversion.

DUNHAM AND O'MALLEY

In the act known as Freeman, Dunham and Company, Miss Grace O'Malley was the company. Now Miss O'Malley is the partner of William Dunham, and a new, yet old amusement alliance has been formed.

Dunham and O'Malley are seen and heard in songs and patter. In the selection of their material they have exercised extreme care, but their material is secondary to their ability as entertainers. Their comical musical capers find strong favor with "big time" vaudeville audiences.

WAIMAN AND BERRY.

Harry Waiman and Irene Berry are real ragtime folks whose repertoire is practically without limitation. They not only play ragtime, but everything else. As entertainers they can be depended on to create unusual enthusiasm during their engagement.

BOB TIPP & CO.

Bob Tipp & Co. are tumblers and athletes. If there is a star in the trio it is Tip. Tip happens to be a dog, and there are few canines can equal his intelligence and cleverness.

NEXT WEEK.

"PUTTING IT OVER"

"Putting It Over," a musical revue with pretty girls who are not girls at all, but ex-soldier boys, is the supreme novelty production of the year. Everyone of the seventeen ex-soldiers in the cast saw service overseas. Five were wounded in action, and five were cited for bravery.

An odd thing about the performance is that there isn't a military touch to it anywhere. The fact that the show was initially designed for military consumption behind the lines in France probably accounts for this, since the boys were fed up with military matters, and therefore did not want to have their daily routine dished up to them on the stage.

"Putting It Over" was a whale of a hit in New York, and has gained great popularity on the Orpheum Circuit. The production, exactly as it was produced in New York, with the original cast, will be seen here.

WRIGHT AND DEITRICH.

To Horace Wright and Rene Deitrich, playing in a real theatre is a good deal like being in a celestial sphere. As members of the Over There Theatre League their stages were anything from shellholes to an improvised platform, and they worked in the rain and the mud, wherever American soldiers might be found.

Their material is composed for the most part of the songs and stories they used "over there." They went big with the dough-boys, but from all reports they could scarcely have registered any stronger than they are now doing with vaudeville audiences.

MAJESTIC BIG TIME VAUDEVILLE

BOOKED IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE ORPHEUM AND KEITH CIRCUITS OF VAUDEVILLE THEATRES

PRESENTING BILLS of UNPARALLELED EXCELLENCE the STARS of
THE VAUDEVILLE, THE OPERATIC, THE CONCERT
THE MUSICAL STAGE

SUGGESTIONS TO PATRONS

NOTE—Red Lights Denote Fire Exits

As this theatre is absolutely fireproof and provided with sufficient exits, allowing the emptying of the entire house within a very few minutes, and as the real danger to life and limb is usually caused by the excitement of patrons in their mad rush to get out, the management suggests, in case of fire, that patrons walk, and not run, to the exit nearest their seat, and not try to beat those before them to the street. On passing out, do not stand near the exit or block the passage. By doing this and "keeping your head" there can be no possible danger.

To acquaint the audience with the various means of exits, all doors of this theatre, while always locked, except fire exits with red lights, are opened at the conclusion of each performance, to facilitate the rapid clearing of the house.

Requests by mail, telephone or messenger for reservation of seats or boxes will receive prompt attention. Tickets will be held until 2:00 p. m. for matinee and until 7:30 p. m. for night performances, and later if arranged for. On Sundays and Holidays tickets will be held only until 7:00 p. m.

Patrons should reserve their seats one week ahead.

Persons finding lost articles in any portion of the house will please leave them at the box office, where they will be restored to the owner.

Physicians who anticipate being summoned professionally are requested to leave the number of their seats at the box office.

Patrons can secure a copy of this program for mailing to friends in this country or abroad by application to the Chief Usher.

All attaches of the Majestic will be readily recognized by their livery, bearing the insignia of the theatre.

Patrons are entitled to and should receive the courteous and respectful attention of every attache. Any information required will be cheerfully given, and it is unnecessary to tender gratuities, as this practice is not permitted by the management, and renders the recipient subject to dismissal.

An agent of the Interstate Amusement Company is constantly in touch with the quest in Europe for Novelty Acts, and this connection affords the management the opportunity to select from the best attractions in the foreign entertainment market.

The management of the Majestic Theatre has adopted the "Alphabet" style of presenting the various features on the program to its patrons. Each act will be designated by a capital letter displayed in a space on each side of the proscenium frame, as the act is about to be produced.

Carriages and automobiles should approach the entrance from the east.

Hurry and worry are the greatest hindrances to nutrition and recuperation. The cheerfulness of health, the happy, non-care-worn life, is worth striving for. Amusements, going to the play, to the concert, to a pleasant party, give rest to the overworked nerves. Therefore, our amusements should be planned to give this rest. We should form habits of furnishing suitable amusement to the children and to ourselves, only we must not lose sight of the aim of life and substitute amusement for work. Some of us find greater pleasure in other work, some in absolute rest. Change is beneficial, if only a meal at a neighbor's or at a restaurant now and then. It is a good rule to dine out once a week, since variety in food is a sort of amusement. Recreation must also be favored by change of thought, by amusements, as we term the brain-resting class of occupations. The value of really entertaining performances is incalculable.

MACK & LANE

A quarter of an hour of sparkling entertainment is offered by Howard Mack and Henrietta Lane in "What's It All About." Mack is an eccentric dancer and light comedian. Miss Lane is not only a splendid foil for Mack's witticisms, but she has a wardrobe that catches the eye of men and women alike.

MARMEIN SISTERS

The Marmein Sisters have a beautifully staged and superbly executed dance routine with piano interludes by David Schooler. The Marmein Sisters are dance sprites whose physical beauty, grace and artistic ability have won them no end of attention in the realm of terpsichore. David Schooler is a master of the pianoforte. Not long ago he was a boy prodigy. Musicians and critics predicted a brilliant future for him, and he has, in a large measure, fulfilled these predictions. The act as a whole is a revelation in music and the dance.

Summer Plans

Contrary to the custom of former years, the Majestic this summer will not be dark.

Elaborate plans for the entertainment of our patrons are being rapidly perfected.

It is still too early to disclose their nature or extent; but patrons may be assured that neither energy nor expense is being spared to maintain the same high standard of entertainment that characterizes Majestic "big time" vaudeville.

Watch this page for further announcements.

JAZZLAND OCTETTE

The only thing that conquered the U. S. Navy was jazz. There was hardly a craft that did not have some kind of a jazz band. The larger the crew, the bigger was the band. The Jazzland Naval Octette is composed of boys, every one of whom saw service "over there." The organization is extremely popular in vaudeville.

HERMAN & SHIRLEY

Herman & Shirley, who present a surprising comedy novelty, "The Mysterious Masquerader," have just returned to America after a two years' trip through England, France, South Africa and Australia. On the Dark Continent, they performed before the native chiefs, who were so pleased that they offered Mr. Herman a hut, and told him he could live there the rest of his life. Miss Shirley appeared on the dramatic stage in leading support of James K. Hackett; also in the leading roles of "The Devil," "Sporting Life," and other successes.

BURNS & FRABITO

The title "Shoo's" may or may not mean anything to the average patron of the two-a-day, but it takes on meaning aplenty when Burns & Frabito get action on it. The act is a humorous conversational affair in which Italy is given the correct amount of ludicrous emphasis.

WATTS & HAWLEY

"Laughs Coated with Melodies" describes the hash of fun submitted by Geo. Watts & Belle Hawley. Watts is a plump chap, and his fun-making proclivities are in the same proportion. Miss Hawley is a corking good looker with an unusual amount of vocal ability.

A First National Exhibitors Attraction

Produced by S. A. Franklin

Putting a tight lid on French-Heels, Sport Models, Six Maids and two Chauffeurs, Mary Pickford as Amy Burke in "The Hoodlum," becomes a Professor-ess of Crapshooting, the Conductor of the Hurdy-Gurdy, a Chambermaid for Bums, and an Enemy to Soap and Water in Her Story of a Girl Who Loved her Poor Father More than She Loved her Rich Grandfather and in the loving discovered a Hero whose Bertillion Measurements exactly fitted her ideal of a husband.

WELCOME

Citizens of Fort Worth, Dallas and North Texas

The first thing the management would impress upon you at this, the premiere opening of THE PALACE is that you are welcome. We want you to "come to see us often and make yourself at home." That slogan has accompanied us through Texas. It is our motto and our platform. Even before quality comes that platform.

THE PALACE marks the birth of an idea loved into life. We hope this child of our dreams will find open arms into the hearts of you. THE PALACE will greet the good fortune of the coming days without a boast, without even a faint syllable of self praise. Let us hope through THE PALACE, the Poets Age of Gold is fast dawning and will usher in a period of photoplay art that will make your next years richer and fuller and sweeter.

May the same kind hand invisible that guides countless millions, light the pathway for THE PALACE. May the same great Being smile upon the workers of this institution even as He has blessed the sunny land surrounding this garden spot of the world. The future of THE PALACE, like other theatres under its management will depend upon an endeavor to provide clean, wholesome, human entertainment, music that thrills with its grandeur, prologues rare in artistry, stage folk whose songs never grow old, AND MOTION PICTURES that will bring a touch of sweetness into oftentimes commonplace lives, so that in our filmland of Make-Believe, at least, we will enable the poor to walk with Kings and the rich to keep the common touch.

Signed, THE HULSEY HABIT (of happiness)

A Careful Giver.—PATIENCE—“ You’re engaged to Fred, aren’t you? ”

PATRICE—“ Yes; but I’m not happy.”

“ What’s wrong? ”

“ I’m afraid he’s selfish.”

“ Why so? ”

“ He asked me for my hand, and I gave it to him.”

“ Of course.”

“ Well, it wasn’t until I had given my hand to him that he put a diamond ring on my finger.”

“ Of course not. But how does that show selfishness? ”

“ Why, it was his hand, wasn’t it? ”—
Yonkers Statesman.

In for Keeps.—It was in Paris. The talkative guide was exhibiting to the interested American tourist the tomb of Napoleon with all the customary flourishes of both language and hands.

“ This immense sarcophagus,” declaimed the guide, “ weighs forty tons. Inside of that, sir, is a steel receptacle weighing twelve tons, and inside of that is a leaden casket, hermetically sealed, weighing over two tons. Inside of that rests a mahogany coffin, containing the remains of a very great man.”

For a moment the American was silent, as if in deep meditation. Then he said:

“ It seems to me that you’ve got him all right. If he ever gets out, cable me at my expense!”—London Tit-Bits.
