Sometime ago I saw a quote which read, "Now that I have a computer for my genealogical records, I find that they are just as confused as before; however, now my confusion is better organized." When a computer decides to stop working right in the midst of preparing copy for this journal, it certainly created the worst kind of confusion!

Thanks to Patrick McKenna for this information. Dallas Public Library staff member Carol Roark made the local non-fiction best seller list last fall with her new book, Fort Worth's Legendary Landmarks. Ms. Roark, who lives in Fort Worth, has long been active in historic preservation efforts. The book spotlights eighty of Fort Worth's most significant landmark buildings. Published by TCU Press, it retails for $42.50.

All kinds of good wishes for speedy recoveries go to local members Weldon Hudson, Leonard Ingalls and Buster McDuff.

On a sad note, the Society extends sincere sympathy to the family of Mrs. Fairy Hankins as well as to the members of the Montague County Genealogical Society. Mrs. Hankins, who passed away last November, was a long time member of FWGS, and certainly the "guiding light" for the Montague Society.

If you haven't already done so, mark your calendars and send in your reservation for our April workshop on Virginia records. You will again enjoy meeting at the Botanic Garden Conservatory, a real show place of which Fort Worth is justly proud.

HUNTING IN THE GENEALOGY JUNGLE, OR DOING RESEARCH WHEN YOU ARE NOT WHERE THE MATERIALS ARE LOCATED

By Roberta Schenewerk
Interlibrary Loan Manager, Fort Worth Public Library

Wouldn't it be wonderful if every book you needed to do your genealogical research was at your local library? Unfortunately, this is not the case. No library has it all - not even the Library of Congress. Fort Worth Public Library provides a service that helps bridge this gap called Interlibrary Loan (ILL). Through an international computer network (OCLC), the Interlibrary Loan office staff has access to over 10,000 holdings of other libraries. Through reciprocal borrowing and photocopying agreements with these libraries, we are able to fill 75 percent of the requests initiated by Fort Worth Public Library patrons. Here are some recommended methods that you can use to increase your chances of getting the information you need.

WHAT TO ASK FOR:

Genealogy requests can be challenging for both patrons and library staff. Materials are difficult to identify and, even when located, are rarely allowed to circulate. In general, you increase your chances of getting what you need by requesting photocopies of the information you seek. By adding one or more of the options below to the request, the better chance you have of getting your request filled.

1. Provide the name (surname or full name) of the person(s) you are seeking.

If the name is easily found, that page or section may be photocopied. (A specific title must be provided; this cannot be done as a subject request). The more specific you are, the better, especially if it is a common name such as Smith or Jones. A first name, last name, middle initial and a date are most helpful.

2. Request a photocopy of the table of contents or portions of the index of a specific title.

If you do not know if the book will be helpful or not, photocopying portions of the index and/or the table of contents may provide enough information. Again, it is best to specify a name or provide a specific letter of the alphabet rather than ask for the whole index. There is no need to waste time and money copying pages that you do not need. If the table of contents or index information provides what you are seeking, then you can turn in a second request asking for copies of specific pages from that same title.

3. Request photocopies of certain pages.

If you already know what pages are needed from a particular title (for example, if an article is cited in a footnote or bibliography), then request copies of those pages rather than the whole volume.

4. Request location information.

If you want to find out who besides Fort Worth owns a particular title with the possible intent of travelling to that library to view the material, we can provide that information for you. You will simply need to fill out the standard ILL form with a note to contact you with the location information.

WHAT NOT TO ASK FOR AND/OR REASONS WHY A REQUEST MIGHT BE CANCELLED

1. Most genealogy collections are reference collections which are not allowed to circulate. Thus, you decrease your chances of getting your request filled if you ask to get a whole book. On the rare occasion that a genealogy book or microform is lent, it is usually sent with an "IN LIBRARY USE ONLY" restriction.
2. ILL departments are not equipped to do genealogical research. Their staffs are neither trained to do research nor have the time to do so. Your requests must be specific and provide a source. So while you cannot say "Send me any materials you have on Samuel L. Johnson (born 1812)," you can say "Send photocopies of information on Samuel L. Johnson (born 1812) from Loreda Johnson Dinsmore's Journey with the Johnsons, 1808-1980."
3. Do not ask for copies of more than 50 pages from one title at a time. Most reciprocal agreements in Texas libraries stipulate a maximum of 50 copies per request. Many out-of-state libraries will do fewer than 50.
4. If an item is old and/or rare, it is not uncommon for photocopy requests to be denied due to the fragility of the material.

COPYRIGHT COMPLIANCE

Requests for photocopies are subject to copyright laws. In most instances, photocopy requests are legitimate under the fair use clause of the copyright law. Problems arise when someone requests that a whole title be photocopied. In these instances, he is encouraged to seek out the publisher first and attempt to purchase a copy or, if out-of-print, attempt to find a copy of the material through a book locator.

COSTS

Since charges vary from library to library, it is difficult to give any hard and fast rules about charges. However, fees are most likely to be attached to genealogy requests over all other types of ILL requests.

1. The only hard and fast rule I can give you is that Fort Worth Public Library charges a $1.50 return postage fee for any books or microfilm received. This fee is not applied to photocopies as you keep the copies and they are not returned to the providing library.
2. ILL staff will always attempt to get materials from libraries that do not charge before asking for materials from libraries that do charge.
3. Anticipate a fee if the material is not likely to be available in the State of Texas. The majority of Texas academic and public libraries have reciprocal agreements that allow free photocopying of up to 50 pages, but this does not apply to most libraries outside the immediate region.
4. A general "rule of thumb" is that if you anticipate having to pay a fee to get the material through

ILL, then expect to pay at least $5.00 per request. Those libraries that charge to lend materials rarely charge less than $5.00, and many libraries have a flat loan rate of $5.00 to $10.00, with some out-of-state academic libraries charging as much as $20.00 for out-of-state loans.

5. Many libraries will charge to make photocopies.

The number of photocopies an ILL office can make will vary from library to library. As noted above, most Texas libraries will only copy up to 40 pages for free by reciprocal agreement. Many out-of-state libraries will charge for photocopies. If we have to go outside of Texas, expect to pay anywhere from 10 to 50 cents per copy. Expect to pay more for copies from microforms. Some libraries have an additional copy service fee on top of this ranging from $2 to $10.

Have I confused you enough? If you are not in a big hurry and are reluctant to try and guesstimate how much a particular request will cost, go ahead and submit the request with the indication that you are willing to pay nothing. If we are unable to obtain the copies or material for free, you will be sent a cancellation notice which will usually give an estimated cost to obtain the material. Then you can decide if you are willing to pay that fee. If so, turn in a NEW ILL request form making sure to indicate the amount you are willing to pay.

WAYS TO MAKE OUR JOB EASIER

1. Fill out the ILL request form completely and legibly. Provide as much information as you can, following the guidelines given above. We would rather have too much information than not enough. If you know who owns the book, that information is often useful. If you can provide a photocopy of the title or article citation, that is even better.
2. Be sure to fill out the 'WILLING TO PAY' portion of the form.
3. Be realistic and pace yourself. Do not request more materials than you can handle at one time (monetarily or mentally). One of our patrons turned in 15 requests at one time for copies of obituaries indicating a willingness to pay $10 on each request. Well, when 10 came in at one time totalling almost $90, the patron was flabbergasted and had some difficulty paying the amount all at once. Do not let this happen to you.

HOW LONG WILL IT TAKE TO GET THE MATERIAL

The average amount of time it takes to receive material requested through the Interlibrary Loan office is 12 to 14 days. Unfortunately, genealogy requests are not average due to their very nature. Expect genealogy requests to take longer because very few libraries own them, they require going to a special collection often with limited access, they require locating the requested information in the title (this is frequently with the help of a genealogy Librarian) and photocopying it. A more realistic figure for most genealogy requests is 3 to 4 weeks. Information requested from a state historical society can often take even longer - 6 weeks to 2 months. This is largely due to the fact that requests to many of them must be hand processed rather than done via the ILL computer network. Demand upon their collections is great thus causing a backlog of requests in ILL offices which are typically understaffed.

NEWS FROM THE FORT WORTH PUBLIC LIBRARY

By Ken Hopkins
Genealogy/Local History Manager

Access is a key concept in our Information Age. The Fort Worth Public Library is filled with information. As researchers we know, however, that the Library is useful only to the extent that its doors are open and the information is available when we want it. Any obstacle causes delay and frustration. With the need for greater access in mind, the Fort Worth Public Library has recently taken two steps: increasing our Sunday hours and providing dial-in access to our computer catalog.

As of February 8, the Central Library opens an additional two hours on Sundays. This addition brings the Library's total public hours to 70 hours per week. The following is our new schedule:

Sunday	12 pm to 6 pm
Monday-Thursday	9 am to 9 pm
Friday-Saturday	10 am to 6 pm

These hours, of course, apply to the Genealogy/Local History unit. A full-time staff member is available in our unit during this entire period.

A new form of access to the Fort Worth Public Library is also available. Those patrons with a personal computer equipped with a modem and communications software can now obtain dial-in access to our on-line computer catalog. Most personal computers (IBM, IBM compatible and Mackintosh) purchased within the last five years have built-in communications capabilities. To initiate the dial-in service, the patron needs to come to the Central Library's Administration Office at 300 Taylor in downtown Fort Worth between 9 am and 5 pm Monday-Thursday or 10 am and 5 pm Friday, complete an application, and pay a one time $3.00 connection fee.

Once on-line, the researcher will be able to search the Library's on-line computer catalog from the comfort of his/her own home or office. The catalog includes most of the Library's holdings - books, periodicals, microforms and so on - including those in Genealogy and Local History. Searches can be done by Title, Main Words in Title, Author, Subject, Main Words in Subject and Dewey Decimal call Number. You may also look up the status of your own library account, determining what items you have checked out, dates due, and any fines for overdue items.

The value of searching from home is a better use of your time. You can plan your research strategy prior to coming to the Library, determining which books, periodicals and microforms are available about the particular subject that interests you. The on-line computer system is available from 3 am to 12 am, a total of twenty-one hours each day; so you can do your catalog searching during the Library's off hours. Then having selected books and microfilm with their call numbers, you can come to the Library, locate the materials more quickly and spend your time on actual research.

Moreover, searching the on-line catalog is only the first level of the dial-in access. In the coming year, there will be an additional three levels introduced. Level Two, for instance, will allow the patron to place circulating materials on reserve. This service will cost $60.00 per year plus 50 cents for each reservation. Reserves, of course, will not affect genealogical materials, which are all reference and therefore do not leave the Library, but undoubtedly, as library users, you will also check out other books and audio-visual materials.

Level Three will be access to the Internet. You may or may not be familiar with this international network of information, but you should be. Internet gives you access from your personal computer to many library catalogs - at other public libraries, at universities and even at the Library of Congress. There are also genealogical publishers who advertise their publications on-line, discussion groups that focus on specific topics, such as American Indian research, and many other sites that can benefit the genealogical researcher. This service will cost $120 annually.

Level Four will allow the patron to submit a request for Library staff to conduct research. An example of such research for the genealogist might be to have staff look up an obituary in Fort Worth newspapers or a death date on the Social Security Death Benefit Index. The staff will do the research, compile it and deliver it to you by either courier or fax machine. This service will cost $240 annually plus $5.50 per every 20 minutes of staff time and the cost of the delivery.

All of these services - the new Library hours and all levels of dial-in access - the Library hopes will better serve our public and continue to bring you into our doors.

SOME WELL KNOWN TEXAS CATTLE BRANDS

Abstracted from Frontier Times, Vol. 25, No. 10, July 1948

Much of Texas history is written in cattle brands. It is estimated that there are at least 30,000 registered brands in Texas. The custom of branding began before Texas was a Republic and some brands used today originated when Texas was a part of Mexico and under its rule. The purpose of a brand was to enable each owner to mark his cattle so that he could identify and claim them if they strayed or were stolen. Cattle thieving made it advisory to select brands that would be hard to alter or burn out. The practice of burning off one owner's brand and replacing it with another was often done by cattle thieves or rustlers.

First there were the early Spanish brands made compulsory by decree of the Spanish courts. Early Texas cattlemen took two other types, using alphabetical letters or definite objects. Another type, numerous but of little historical importance, was the "road brand" used for only a season when the big cattle drives started northward. Sometimes as many as 50 individual ranchers would bunch their cattle. These each carried individual road brands so that the herds, though miles in length, could be identified and kept together. However, big ranches like the Running W or Laurel Leaf drove individually and used no road brand. In addition to the cattle brands, there was also the practice of swallow-forking and under-splitting an animal's ears - on both cattle and horses.

John Means was a famous rancher in the Davis Mountains. The story is told that he sat down by the side of his barn one day and began making marks in the ground with a stick. One figure he drew was the letter Y but he decided it would be too easy to alter. A little pig with a curly tail gave him the idea of attaching a curl to the lower part of the Y, thus making the "pig tailed Y" brand.

The Running W brand of Captain Richard King of Kingsville, Texas, represents the largest ranch in the world. In early days, this ranch covered three counties and numbered over 1,000,000 acres. The LFD brand (Left-For-Dead) is that of Major G. W. Littlefield of Austin. During the latter part of his life, Littlefield did much to give back to Texas the wealth he had gained through cattle - mostly in the form of bequests to the University of Texas. The Alice Littlefield Girl's Dormitory is only one example of his generosity.

SMS is the brand of S. M. Swenson, one of the cleverest and most picturesque post-Civil War ranchmen, who helped with Swedish migration into Texas. He later became a Wall Street banker and made much money from Texas cotton as well as cattle. Another brand, known as the poker hand (four sixes) is owned by the S. B. Burnett estate of Fort Worth. 77 was the brand of Colonel Ike T. Pryor of San Antonio. It is said that he selected the brand in 1870 when cattle thieving became so rampant in Texas. The first seven is set upright with the second at right angles to it.

The famous XIT brand belonged to the Capitol Land Syndicate of Channing, Texas. That ranch covers ten counties taking in 3,000,000 acres. C. C. Slaughter of Dallas used the Lazy S brand. After the Civil War, some 12,000 of his cattle were branded yearly. Slaughter was also involved in the banking business in Dallas. The Goblet brand was that of John Blocker of Big Wells, Texas, the first president of the Trail Drivers' Association. M K was the brand of Samuel A. Maverick and it was from his name that calves or cows without an owner or brand became known as "mavericks." Half Circle 10 brand belonged to George W. Saunders of San Antonio, who was also a president of the Trail Drivers Association. The O B brand is that of D. H. Snyder of Georgetown, one of the early benefactors of Southwestern University. Col. A. H. (Shanghi) Pierce's brand was known as the Sealions D.

Preston Rose introduced fencing into Texas. He fenced 20,000 [sic] acres with boards in Victoria County before the Civil War. Wire fencing did not come into use in Texas until 1872. Rose also began to improve the Texas steer by crossing him with the Holstein. His brand was the 7 A.

J A is the brand of Charles Goodnight of the Panhandle. It originally belonged to John Adair, an Irish cattle trader, who was associated with Goodnight for a time. The latter is credited with introducing cross-breeding in the buffalo and the longhorn to produce an animal known as "cattalo."

Mrs. Ann Martin, of Mason County, had the Lazy F brand, which was placed on over 250,000 cattle. After her husband died, she managed a general store in addition to ranching. After fencing became popular, she is said to have sold more barb wire than any other ten dealers in the county.

Mark Withers of Lockhart began work as a cow puncher when only 13 years old and cattle were selling for $3.00 a head. He selected the "hat" as his brand.

The three reversed D's, belonging to W. T. Waggoner of Fort Worth, is familiar to all West Texans. S. E. McKnight of Sonora had the Flying U. The Buckhorn was the brand of Mrs. Kennedy of Taylor. Crazy Crosses is owned by Thomas E. Burns of San Antonio. Quarter circle, muley five, belonged to Ira L. Wheat of Fort Stockton and was a hard brand to alter. The Hash Knife was used by the Stevens brothers of Seymour. J. J. Welder of Victoria owned The Buzzard W. The Boxed Y was owned by Julian M. Bassett of Dryden. The Smith brothers of Uvalde had a unique design - the 9H6 - and E Q was that of Elias Queen, famous all over the state for his cattle horses. "Queen Hill" in Williamson County bears his name and is still a famous landmark.

LIVING IN THREE COUNTIES IN THE SAME HOUSE!

Editor's Note: This story, written by Estelle Hudson, was published in the early 1930s in the Houston Post-Dispatch.

Living in three counties in Texas during sixty-two years in the same house without moving once is the experience of Benjamin Franklin Barker, oldest citizen of Somervell County.

Back in 1866, this native Texan moved with his parents into the old log cabin home destined to stand on its own foundation and soil in three counties--first Johnson, then Hood and now Somervell - the latter the second smallest county in the State, organized in 1875.

"Life is good," remarked Benjamin Barker recently while seated in the Somervell County courthouse at Glen Rose. Being one of the County Commissioners, Mr. Barker was in the courthouse to attend a meeting of the Commissioners' Court. Viewing life from the vantage point of his eighty-one years, he thinks life was better as he knew it in the years now gone. The oldest citizen took occasion to reconnoiter, removed the big white felt hat which he wears, and pressed a hand to his eyes as if he would shut out the present while he thought and talked of the past.

"I was born in Hopkins County in 1847. My grandfather, William Barker, came to Texas in 1840 and my father, Wilson Barker, followed him five years later. In 1859 we moved into what is now Somervell County, and built a home about four miles from where the town of Glen Rose now stands. In 1866, we moved across the river to the house where I have lived for sixty-two years. This house had been built for a number of years when my father bought it, and to the best of my knowledge, it is more than eighty years old."

His memory was fresh and clear, his eyes seemed to grow young again as he talked. "They were good days - we got all our meat from the woods - bear, antelope, deer and wild turkey. We had an old steel mill like a coffee mill, and in this I ground the corn into meal. My mother baked this into bread for the family in an oven out in the yard."

"She would card and spin and weave cloth - fine cloth soft and smooth. Jeans were dyed brown with walnut hulls." Barker voiced the wish that he could have another pair of trousers made from that said soft brown cloth. "She was not my own mother but a stepmother, but she was good to me and I loved her. I had to help her for she had a lot to do. I went to school a little after the Civil War. I see men today who have had a chance to get education and have not used it. This worries me."

"I have raised nine children to be grown, eight of whom are living, six daughters and two sons. I was 41 years old before I married and my wife was 30. I just kind of waited until I felt able to take care of a wife, and, too, I stayed on and took care of my old father and mother." The old family clock, which has reached and passed the century mark, has hung on the wall in the same spot for the past sixty-two years. Facing the clock, hanging from a nail, is an old and battered canteen. It was worn by a brother of Benjamin Barker at the time he was killed in the battle of Atlanta in 1864.

"I was not old enough to go to war, but I was in service here in protection of the home country from the Indians from 1864 to 1867. My father was blind for twenty-seven years before he died. We learned the Braille system and devised a method for writing and during those years he wrote a history of the early days as he had known them in Texas." Mr. Barker considers the care of his parents to be the most commendable thing he has done during his life. Both of them lived to be a ripe old age.

Talking of history, Mr. Barker continued, "Everybody danced when I was young. There was some preaching and a lot of dancing and folks were sociable, kind and friendly. The first railroad train that I ever saw was back in December 1870, when I took a herd of cattle to Shreveport to market and it was the biggest trip of my life."

Electricity, the automobile, airplane, moving pictures, phonograph wireless and the radio are among things he has seen take their places in the daily life of men. The fact that he has been able to hear the voices of men and women hundreds of miles distant in all parts of the country and brought this citizen to the conclusion that the radio is the greatest achievement of all.

Uncle Doc, as he is called by friends and acquaintances, was County Commissioner at the time the Somervell County courthouse was built and when his present term of office expires, will have served ten years. "I have never been drunk in my life, never smoked, never been arrested or in a lawsuit," the Commissioner volunteered. He recalls passing through Dallas back in 1859 when he was moving with his parents from Hopkins County to his present residence. "It was not much of a place at that time, he says, but that was near on to seventy years ago."

Additional information by Nancy Timmons Samuels:

Thomas T. Ewell's History of Hood County (1895) mentions that "Wilson Barker, one of the county's first commissioners, was an early comer to the Paluxy Valley....[then] moved east of the Brazos and settled on Georges Creek."

This Barker family lived in Indiana and Illinois before coming to Texas. William, the father of Wilson Barker, evidently died in Hopkins County, Texas, 1846-1850. His widow, Abiah, b. c1787 in Kentucky, four grown sons, and a daughter were on the 1850 census. Wilson's wife was Mariah, born c1820 in Illinois, who died 1850-1852 in Hopkins County. There he m/2 on 25 August 1852 to Eliza J. Bromley/Brumley. She was step-mother to Benjamin F. Barker and his brothers, William Washington and Usher F. L. (called "Linder" on 1870 census).

In 1859 Wilson Barker and his brother Washington (who had married in Hopkins County 4 October 1850 to Elmira Harlow) settled their families in the Paluxy River area of then Erath County--not Johnson County. When they moved east of the Brazos, they were in Johnson County. Both families are on the 1860 census of Erath County. Their post office was Squaw Creek, in present Somervell, but then in Johnson County. Washington Barker was probably the brother who was killed in the battle of Atlanta.

As originally created, Johnson County's western line began on the Parker County line at a point ten miles west of the Brazos River and went south 30 degrees East to the Bosque County line. Going southeast, the line ran through, or near, what is now Glen Rose. Then, people living in the western parts of present Hood and Somervell Counties lived in Erath County in 1860.

In 1970 the Wilson Barker family was enumerated in Hood County and in Somervell County in 1880. By his second wife, Eliza J., he had daughters Laura and Virginia. The son Washington is not found after 1860. Reportedly, "a Barker daughter living in Cleburne" had a copy of the memoir that Wilson Barker wrote.

This story, written by Bill Marvel, appeared in the November 27, 1993 edition of the Dallas Morning News and is the second such feature to appear in the News concerning the restoration of General Worth's tomb.

Fort Worth's name*

Major General William Jenkins Worth can finally rest in peace.

After an eight year, $150,000 campaign, the hero of the War of 1812, the Seminole Indian expedition and the Mexican War, the man who put the Worth in Fort Worth, now lies in a refurbished and restored tomb.

For almost 140 years, General Worth has slumbered beneath a 51-foot bronze-encrusted obelisk at the intersection of two of the most famous streets in the world, New York City's Broadway and Fifth Avenue. But over the years his rest has been increasingly disturbed as transients and vandals have torn down sections of the cast-iron ornamental fence, uprooted the plants around the monument and defaced its granite base with graffiti. Time and traffic fumes have also taken their toll and by 1987, the monument was becoming such an eyesore that New York City's Parks and Recreation Department put it up for adoption.

The year before, the department had established an Adopt-a-Monument program to encourage public-spirited citizens to underwrite the renovation and upkeep of statues and monuments. General Worth's obelisk and tomb was one of the first 20 monuments in the program, which has since become a model for similar campaigns in Dallas and other cities. But while donors adopted almost 30 other pieces of public art, the Worth Monument languished, uncared-for and all but unloved. But then, last year, two major donors stepped forward.

Disappointingly, neither was from Fort Worth. The society had hoped some civic-minded Fort Worth resident would adopt the general's tomb, but aside from $1,000 from the Bass family and $1,000 from the late Bill Turner [neither recent] contributions from west of the Trinity have been nonexistent.

Admittedly, the Fort Worth connection is tenuous. In fact, General Worth never set foot there. He was dying of cholera in San Antonio when a subordinate established the military outpost on the Trinity that was to bear his name. But, then, the general had no particular connection with New York's 23rd Street either, and yet a group of merchants there have contributed money toward the monument's upkeep.

However, the largest donation has come from the Paul and Klara Porzelt Foundation. Established by a German-born businessman with an interest in Beaux Arts sculpture and architecture, this foundation has contributed $85,000 to the Worth Memorial since 1989.

And the second largest contribution is from a retired naval commander, the great-great-grandson of General Worth. "A wonderful fluke connected us," says Ms. Cohen. "We got a call that someone had called the parks department and said he was interested. I followed through." That led to retired Cmdr. James A. Woodruff Jr.

"He came through with the remaining $63,000. His gift also includes an endowment to take care of the monument."

The 87-year-old officer, who lives in Florida, says he first saw the memorial in the 1920s when, odd man out in a family of West Point graduates, he was a midshipman at the U. S. Naval Academy. Five ancestors were graduates of West Point and General Worth had been commandant of cadets there for eight years. Cmdr. Woodruff says he has heard tales of the General from his Grandmother Sprague who was married to an aide of Gen Worth's. "He was a very handsome gentleman. He had a nickname at West Point - Handsome Harry." He also instituted the Point's honor code.

Cmdr. Woodruff says he first started donating small amounts of money for the memorial when he heard of its condition. "But we never could get enough to do the job, so I went all out to pay what was necessary to finish the job. I'd had reports from friends who visited it who said, 'My God, the thing's coming apart.' The fence was broken up. It's a marvelous fence."

The cast-iron fence is a virtual dictionary of 19th century military ornamentation.

The pickets are replicas of the ceremonial sword presented to Gen. Worth by the state of New York. Binding the swords together are bands of oak leaves, symbolizing victory, plus swags and tassels. The fluted posts rest upon replicas of Civil War-era mortars.

Though it's hard to tell from old photos what plants originally graced the monument, floral bulbs and English ivy are being planted. In addition, the granite and bronze have been refurbished and the area around the monument is being cleaned up. Where original stone is missing, granite was obtained from the original quarry and shaped to fit.

When all is finished the monument will once again be an adornment rather than an embarrassment to the neighborhood. A dedication will take place in ceremonies at 11 a.m. Tuesday [November 1995]. In honor of General Worth, Major General Robert J. St. Onge, commandant of the corps of cadets of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, and the Academy Color Guard will participate.

Cmdr. Woodruff says he won't be able to attend. But the family will be represented. General Worth will be there.

DECIPHERING GRANDMA'S RECIPES TAKES A PINCH OF HELP AND A DASH OF FUN

If you were very lucky this past holiday season, you inherited a family cookbook. These volumes, either collections of hand-scribbled recipes from decades ago, or bound books with Grandmother's favorites marked in the margin, are a mother lode of culinary history. Eagerly, you reach for that old cookbook, handed down from one generation to the other - a gravy smudge here, a pumpkin stain there - searching for recipes that will evoke the warmth and tradition of days gone by. Uh, oh. It's as if they're printed in a different language: Butter the size of an egg, a gill of flour, a wine glass of milk, a teaspoon of brandy, a spoonful of saleratus. Saleratus? After studying the old books for a while, you give up and reach once more for the recipe on the back of the pumpkin can. The old recipes are just as good as new, though, once you decipher the terms used in old-time kitchens.

Measurements: Before the advent of level measurements in the late 1800s, cooks relied on the implements they had at hand to measure ingredients. One homemaker might use a coffee cup to measure flour for cake, but her neighbor was often disappointed when using the same recipe because her cup held more or less flour, so the result was different.

Other cooks simply eyeballed ingredients. Someone who had been cooking for 20 years could just look at a scoop of sugar and tell whether it was enough to sweeten her cookies.

Level measurements mean any cook who can read and who uses quality ingredients can duplicate her neighbor's recipe - or even Grandma's - once the "code" is deciphered.

Here's what Grandma was talking about:

- 1 wineglass equals 1/4 cup
- 1 teacup or 1 gill equals 1/2 cup
- 1 tumbler, 1 large coffee cup or 1 glassful equals 1 cup
- 50 drops equals 1 teaspoon
- A few grains, a dash or a pinch equals less than 1/8 teaspoon
- 1 salt spoon or 2 fluid drachm equals 1 teaspoon
- 1 dessert spoon equals 2 teaspoons
- 1 jigger equals 3 tablespoons
- A pound of molasses equals 12 fluid ounces
- A walnut-size lump of butter equals 2 tablespoons; butter the size of a hen's egg equals 3 to 4 tablespoons.

But what about those recipes devised before level measurements came into widespread use? Well, they're easy to figure out, too, if you know the definitions used by early cooks. When a recipe calls for a rounded spoonful of something, it means there should be as much of the substance above the rim of the spoon as below. A heaping spoonful or cupful is as much as you can pile on without it immediately falling off (more than rounding). An even measure? Easy. That's what we call level measures today: a spoonful or cupful leveled off with a knife or spatula.

And what about the difference in names for things 100 years ago? Mastering a few definitions can make translating recipes easy as pie. Saleratus was an old-time course-grained baking soda and can be replaced by modern baking soda. Baking powder used to be single-acting; today's baking powders are double-acting. The baking powder starts rising when it's mixed with liquid, then rises again when exposed to heat, so use one-third to one-half less than the old recipe calls for.

To balance the acidity in molasses or other ingredients, you should use 1/2 teaspoon of baking soda for each cup of molasses, sour milk or buttermilk, or for every tablespoon of vinegar or lemon juice.

Old recipes that call for a cup of yeast refer to sourdough starter, not packaged yeast. But you can substitute by using 1 tablespoon dry yeast for each 4 cups of flour in the recipe. Then add four ounces of water to keep the liquid quantity correct.

When yeast cake is called for, the recipe means compressed yeast, still available in supermarkets in refrigerated sections. Use the quantity specified.

If a recipe calls for sour milk, pour 1 tablespoon vinegar in a glass measuring cup and add milk to the 1 cup line. Wait 10 minutes, then stir and add to recipe ingredients.

What about baking temperatures? Gone are the days when a cook stokes the fire and judges oven temperature by how long she can hold her hand inside without getting burned. (For Great Grandma, if she could hold her hand in the oven for 15 seconds, that meant the oven was very hot; 20 seconds meant it was a hot oven; 30 seconds signified a moderate oven; 60 seconds, a slow oven). Here's a rundown of old and modern oven temperatures:

- Very slow oven, 250-275 degrees
- Slow oven, 300-325 degrees
- Moderate oven, 350-375 degrees
- Hot oven, 400-425 degrees
- Very hot oven, 450-475 degrees
- Extremely hot oven, 500-525 degrees

What about recipes that simply say "bake until done"? If you have a good all-purpose cookbook, check to see the baking time and temperatures for like items. It's also helpful to know that:

- Drop cookies generally bake for 8-15 minutes at 35-400 degrees
- Rolled cookies usually bake for 5-12 minutes at 350-375 degrees
- Cupcakes usually bake for 20 minutes at 375 degrees
- Loaf cakes generally bake for 45-85 minutes at 300-350 degrees.
- Fruitcakes usually bake for 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 hours at 275 degrees.
- Layer cakes generally bake for 20-35 minutes at 350-375 degrees.
- Fruit pies generally bake for 35-50 minutes at 400-425 degrees, pumpkin pies for 50 minutes at 400 degrees, and empty pastry shells for 10-12 minutes at 450 degrees.
- Nut breads most often bake for 40-60 minutes at 325-350 degrees.

Candymaking: Candymaking in the old days was done a lot more by guess than by measurement. Today, home candymakers usually gauge their cooking temperatures and times by a thermometer. Still, as recently as a couple of decades ago, most homemakers filled a measuring cup with very cold water and dropped in a bit of partially cooked candy to see whether more cooking was needed. [Some of us still rely on this!] Old recipes often reflect this, and the method can still be used, but the early day "receipt" books leave modern-day cooks to figure out what's meant by the terms used to gauge the candy's doneness.

Here's what those old recipes mean (the terms describe the look and feel of the candy when dropped into the cold water):

- Thread: 230-234 degrees (syrup runs from a spoon into a fine thread).
- Soft ball: 234-238 degrees (a small amount of syrup dropped into cold water forms a ball that, when removed from water, flattens immediately and runs between your fingers).

- Medium ball: 248-244 degrees (same as soft ball, but ball holds together better when removed from water).
- Firm ball: 244-248 degrees (syrup dropped into cold water forms a ball that holds its shape, but flattens quickly at room temperature).
- Hard ball: 248-254 degrees (syrup dropped into cold water forms a ball that can be deformed by pressure but will not flatten).
- Very hard ball: 254-165 degrees (same as hard ball, but holds shape better).
- Soft (or light) crack: 265-285 degrees (syrup dropped into cold water separates into hard but brittle threads).
- Hard crack: 290-300 degrees (syrup dropped into cold water separates into hard, brittle threads that snap easily).

Can do: In recipes from the 1920s, '30s and '40s, ingredient quantities may be given in can sizes, something every girl once learned in home economics class, but now largely forgotten by both consumers and food packers. Here's what was what:

- An 8-ounce can holds 1 cup, usually fruits and vegetables.
- A picnic can holds 10 to 10-1/2 ounces of 1-1/4 cups; usually condensed soups, some fruits, vegetables, fish and meat specialties.
- A No. 300 can holds 14 to 16 ounces of 1-3/4 cups; usually used for pork and beans, baked beans, cranberry sauce, blueberries.
- A No. 303 can holds 16 to 17 ounces or up to 2 cups; usually fruits and vegetables, some ready-to-serve soups.
- A No. 2 can holds 18 or 20 ounces, or 2-1/2 cups; used for juices, ready-to-serve soups.
- A No. 2-1/2 can holds 27 to 29 ounces, or 3-1/2 cups; usually for fruits, some vegetables.
- A No. 3 cylinder holds 46 ounces, or 5-3/4 cups; usually for juices.
- A No. 10 can holds 6-1/2 to 7 pounds and 5 ounces, or 12 to 13 cups. (one of these is the equivalent of seven No. 303 cans or five No. 2 cans).

Even though translating a special old recipe can take a bit longer than using a modern one - or a packaged mix - using recipes handed down in your family or by a special friend can form a link with the past. They not only provide a treat for the taste buds but a taste of history, too. Grandma would be proud.

Editor's Note: The above article appeared in the January 3, 1996 edition of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. I have yet to try my grandmother's recipe (which I think may have been handed down from her mother). Called "Rolls for Breakfast" the faded handwriting begins, "At three oclock in the afternoon sift three cups of flour, one scant Teaspoon baking powder, one Teaspoon salt and one of sugar into a bucket...."

D. C. Brown, Esq. Jacksboro
Dear Sir,

--I learned that some corn furnished to Co. B. was unsound and that use of it produced a disease, blind staggers, and several of the best horses in the Company died. New grown corn, rotten or smutty corn almost invariably produces this disease. Of course I would not buy it or allow it fed to the horses of my command. Therefore I request that you examine carefully the corn which I contracted with you for a few days ago and see that it is good and sound before sending it out.

If you have trouble getting good corn at Jacksboro you can get it from J. C. Martin, Marchant at Belknap or from Clark of same place. Or from Brooks below Belknap...

REMEMBERING OLD LARISSA COLLEGE

This feature story by Hattie Joplin Roach, was published in the Dallas Morning News, Sunday, Dec, 20, 1931,

A Trinity University coed at Waxahachie in 1931. Her sister at Larissa College in 1856. Separated by more than a hundred miles and seventy-five years, yet startlingly the same. "No, girls don't change much," declares Mrs. Amrina Wade of Mount Selman, a great-grandmother who was one of those first Trinity girls. "Larissa girls talked good times, beaux and clothes, played pranks and knocked the faculty just as college girls of today."

As a financial asset to neighborhood small boys, however, modern college love affairs are almost a total loss. In Larissa days dates were made by note:

Compliments of John Doe to Miss Blank
Will be pleased to call ----evening
And see you to ---

After collecting the required fee, a small boy acted as postman and brought the formal dignified reply:

Miss Blank returns the compliments of Mr. John Doe
And will be pleased to accept ----

Or the young lady may have had cause to decline. A previous engagement. Or take the case of a too-youthful suitor to whose very proper note came this scathing negative answer:

Miss Blank returns the compliments of Mr. John Doe
When you have learned to button your trousers to
Your waist I'll consider accepting your company.

In either case, partially through the inventive genius of a certain Bell, the system has changed--

"Lo, what-ya doin' tonight?"
"Nothing much."
"Be around. Bye."

If you want eyes to sparkle and reminiscent tongues to work, just ask a group of Larissa alumni about suspensions. Not the disciplinary suspensions of today, but those all-too-rare suspensions of rules which permitted to stage a party. Of Greek and chemistry, Spanish and astronomy, there may be left no trace; but suspension red letter events of the collegiate calendar, they never forget. And who ever heard of a play party without "Weavilly Wheat" and "Old Sister Phoebe?" Picture a line of boys and a line of girls, facing each other. The head couple dances down the aisle and back again, then goes foot. The second couple does likewise. So on and on until the party's end. All the while the crowd lustily singing---

"Charley, he's a nice young man
Charley, he's a dandy
Every time he goes to town
He brings the girls some candy.
I won't have any of your weavilly wheat
I won't have any of your barley;
I'll take some flour in half an hour
To bake a cake for Charley."

Or perhaps the tune changes---

"Old Sister Phoebe, how merry were we
The night we sat under the juniper tree,
The juniper tree, heigh-ho."

But, alas, time came when no more cakes were baked for Charley; when Larissonians sat no longer under the juniper tree. Church fathers waked up to the appalling situation. Larissa College had dances! Shades of John Knox! Solemn conclaves, culprits on the carpet, dreadful warnings. Old Sister Phoebe and gay young Charley under the ban. Henceforth only "Snap" and "Marching 'Round the Levee" at play parties, or talking parties enlivened by the college string band.

College girls of today would look in vain for the punch bowl and the chicken-salad-potato-chip plate. Only on extra special occasions were there refreshments of any kind. Then tea cakes and lemonade, lemonade minus the lemons. "The girls were the clinging vines, the boys the strong oaks," says Mrs. Wade. "Our escorts went to the sideboard filled a glass with water, sweetened it with moist lemon sugar and flavored it with drops from the little phial of lemon extract which always came with the sugar. Then they gallantly served the ladies."

While many a Larissa courtship culminated in marriage, the gallant lover kneeling to offer his heart and hand, not every young collegian meant all the lover-like words poured into girlish ears. Take the case of D. H. L. Blank, better known as Dear-Honey-Love, who wanted his handkerchiefs hemmed. Men's handkerchiefs, then bought by the yard like napkins of more recent date, had to be carefully cut apart and painstakingly hemmed. So Dear-Honey-Love spotted a girl who could make exceedingly fine stitches, made his dates, sat on the porch and "wooed her with fine compliments" while she stitched his handkerchiefs. When reprimanded by the landlady, who saw through the ruse and felt sorry for the little lady, he'd reply, "Aw, Mrs. Erwin, don't be hard on a feller. Let him get his handkerchiefs hemmed."

While intercollegiate baseball and football were unknown, modern sport fans needn't pity Larissa. There was intramural sport aplenty. For modern track there was fox - one player being given five minutes start, the balance following in wild pursuit. How B. F. Yoakum, the president's son, who afterward was a railroad magnate, could run that mile of woodland course! Cat and bullpen afforded variation when players were limited, but townball was the sport.

Although coeducational to the extent of accepting both sexes as students, Larissa authorities maintained rigid classroom separation. At the top of college hill were the boys, in a church at the foot of the hill were the girls. And the girls who are left still feel a flare of resentment at the way those masculine highbrows would strut by their windows with books stacked high - "just trying to make us think they were more learned." According, however, to an editorial of the day, the coeds also "evinced superiority in menial culture."

The valedictory address, delivered by Mrs. Wade's sister in 1860 and entitled "The Pleasures of Science" struck many high notes. For example:

"But now, my schoolmates, I would say to you, cultivate your minds, disregard the temporary gratification of the senses. They are as fleeting and evanescent as the passing cloud or the morning dew. Let your motto be 'Onward and yet onward' for perseverance will overcome all difficulties, will lead you up the rugged ascent of the hill of science, open the folding doors in the temple of fame and admit you into the warm embraces of the angel of virtue."

No map of today shows Larissa, but in Pre-Civil War days this aristocratic old town in the northwestern part of Cherokee County was known as the "Athens of Texas." No wonder that the college which bears the same rhythmic Greek name was among the best in the South.

About 1845, through the efforts of the Rev. R. N. McKee and Mrs. S. R. Erwin, mother of Mrs. Wade, a school was opened in a little log house under the management of the Trinity Presbytery, with Mrs. Erwin as the teacher. Such was the humble birth of Larissa College. Today its alumni are scattered from New York to California.

In 1855, under the direction of the Brazos Synod, the flourishing school was chartered as a college. New buildings were provided and Dr. F. L. Yoakum, brother of the historian, was elected president. The pride of the faculty and student body was the big telescope, more than three times stronger than the Yale telescope and, with one exception, the most powerful instrument in the South. Dr. Yoakum, it is said, sold a slave boy to buy it. When the Tehuacana school was opened, the telescope together with other scientific equipment, was sent to it. In 1880, as visiting lecturer, Dr. Yoakum had it set up on the campus for a brief demonstration. Long disuse, however, interfered with its successful operation. When Trinity was moved to Waxahachie this old relic was, in some unknown manner, lost.

In reminiscing about President Yoakum two pictures seem to linger longest in student memory. One is of the doctor saying, with twinkling eyes, "Go with the girls, boys, but be sly about it; always be sly about it." The other portrays him sitting on a rail fence half a day, watching birds build a nest.

After the Civil War, for some reason never made clear to the public, the Brazos synod abruptly severed its connection with Larissa. Three years later the Presbyterians founded a new institution - Trinity at Tehuacana. Although the material assets transferred from Larissa were relatively small, the large institution inherited a priceless asset in the Larissa spirit and tradition. In Trinity archives today one may find the diploma, valedictory address and other papers of Dr. W. H. Pearson, a Larissa graduate. Dr. Yoakum, Larissa's guiding power, has a fitting memorial in the Yoakum Athletic Field, gift of B. F. Yoakum of railroad fame.

Until sectional prejudice drove her away, Miss E. L. Joiner, a Vermonter educated in Canada, was the faculty favorite of Larissa girls. Miss Joiner brought the Maypole festivities and introduced the tableaux. Through her was established the Beehive and senior girls became full-fledged members. Full of envy, the boys brought out the Hornet, full of digs and counter digs. At last bitter strife brought both papers under official ban. After the war, Miss Joiner again came South, married and founded a girls' school at Mound Prairie, Anderson County.

Three-quarters of a century have wrought sweeping physical changes. The buildings are gone without trace of their having been. But the spirit of Larissa lives on. Each August, in ever-thinning ranks, alumni join their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren in one day of joyful reminiscence. Wherever Larissa folk meet together one hears of the glory that has been.

A few years ago a press representative on an ocean liner thus concluded his report..."and some were reminiscing about what they did at Old Larissa, wherever that place is."

ABSTRACTS FROM THE GRAHAM LEADER

Compiled by Barbara Knox

The Leader, west Texas's oldest newspaper, is still in existence. With the motto, "Hue the line, let the chips fall where they may," it was established as a weekly newspaper at Graham, Young County, Texas in August 1876 by CSA veteran, Major J. W. Graves. Graves continued with the Leader for many years. His oldest son, W. Lester Graves, became a printer and editor and later managed the paper for his father. J. W. Graves married Sarah Inman in 1855. He died in April 1911 and she in September 1924. Both are buried in Oak Grove Cemetery in Graham. [from introduction to this feature by Nancy Timmons Samuels]

January 5, 1888.

Stephenville. Ten inches of snow fell here Friday night and Saturday morning - the most ever seen here according to old timers. Hopefully, it means good crops for the farmers this year.

Montague. The drug store of W. R. Brents at Burlington was destroyed by fire Monday, resulting in some $2000 loss. The property belongs to J. S. Stone.

Longview. Henry Brady, employed at the Jefferson Lumber Company in Atlanta, Texas, came to visit his brother for the holidays. He was a man aged 45, sober and greatly respected, but also very deaf! Mr. Brady was walking on the railroad track when he was hit by the train engine which he did not hear.

Tyler. James McGough, one of this city's best citizens, died of congestion Tuesday evening. He was a long time employee of the St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas Railroad Company.

Palestine. Frank Hathaway, who lived near here, disappeared suddenly several weeks ago. His father in Chicago has written concerning him, and friends are very concerned.

Bonham. Sheriff James W. Evans returned from Lamar County Sunday with Jeff Stephens and J. M. Jones who were alleged to have stolen a pair of horses here on Christmas Eve. Jones (also known as Johnson) claims to have been raised in Denton County and Stephens in Lamar County. Both are said to have come here recently from Kansas. The horses have been returned to their owners and the culprits are in jail.

Sherman. Col. James H. Britton died suddenly at Wakefield House.

Local. Bob Hollingsworth has another baby girl at his house. Capt. Guy would be pleased to fill out and sell a number of blank marriage licenses which he has on hand. They are only $1.50. The ministers and deacons of the Red Fork Baptist Association will meet the last weekend of the month. B. S. Daley has decided to postpone his move to Weatherford until the weather is warmer. Judge A. P. McCormick left for Dallas where he is holding U. S. Court. J. E. Parsons and Miss Mattie McLaren were married at the home of the bride's father, J. E. Parsons (in Goose Neck Bend) on Wednesday, Dec. 28, 1887, at 4:00 p.m., the Rev. I. H. Cunningham officiating.

Waxahatchie. The general merchandise store belonging to Ledwell and Ludley at Boyce, six miles east of here, burned Monday with all contents. Origin of fire is not known.

Abilene. The committee on immigration has leased a building where all immigrants may live as long as they please without charge. A room has also been rented to display the agricultural and mineral resources of the county for the benefit of prospectors who come to this city.

Waxahatchie. Ellis County issued 308 marriage licenses in 1887 and 304 in 1886. December has the best showing with 58 marriages in 1887. The College here has opened after the holiday break. There are now three other schools in this city.

San Antonio. At a meeting of the immigration committee Monday, a called meeting was ordered to be held on February 1st with representatives of 52 west Texas counties - two delegates each - with no distinction between organized and unorganized counties. All persons interested in this movement are invited to attend.

Alvarado. J. S. Bingham, brakeman on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe was killed about 12:30 Sunday morning, where he slipped on frozen ground while uncoupling cars. He was a native of Shell City, Missouri.

Galveston. The first of four excursion trains from Boston to California, via Galveston, arrived Wednesday morning. It is said to be the first excursion ever run in the south and has a hotel car, baggage car and four sleepers.

Of note: When the 1890 census is taken, Texas will have over two million people giving her 18 or more representatives in Congress.

Local. A. O. Norris of South Carolina is visiting his cousin, Joe Norris, of Graham. M. L. Lasiter came in from his New Mexico ranch last week. Bud Jowell left Thursday for Castro County. Charlie Gay has returned to his old home in Tennessee. Bob Winder, Weatherford stage driver, was so cold last Saturday, when he reached Christian, that he could not talk and had to be carried into the house. Little "Miss Blizzard" arrived at B. D. Garrett's home Sunday evening. J. S. Wood of Shackelford County, son of Mrs. G. W. Fore of this county, was here on business last week. R. L. McKinney. The long time bad relationship between City Marshal Wardley and J. H. Bingham, editor of the Inquirer, is still in existence. There was another fight between the two and Bingham received serious injuries when he was hit on the head by a pistol. Warden paid his fine, but the matter is to be considered by the grand jury.

Marlin. Wesley Williams, charged with the murder of his wife last March, was tried and sentenced to death. His wife had left him because of cruel treatment and was working as a cook for the family of Col. E. C. Watson. Her husband accosted her when she was preparing supper, trying to get her to return home. When she refused, he struck her on the head with an eight pound weight, causing immediate death.

Local. Jim Graves of Potter County visited relatives here last week. Mrs. Nancy Rae of Brier Bend died at her home last Saturday and was buried in Lower Tonk Valley. Jack Cornish left for Fort Worth Monday and it is rumored that a lady will accompany him when he returns. W. V. Bigham, from Dillingham, reports the birth of a nine-pound child there. The mother is 55 and the father 70. Harry Hodgdon of St. Paul, Minn., brother of Mrs. S. B. Street, is visiting relatives here.

Two young ladies, daughters of William Williams, and a young man named Bobbitt, were skating when the ice gave way putting them in over six feet of water. Miss Bobbitt and two girls, 9 and 13, daughters of Williams, also drowned in trying to rescue them. A small Williams child fell through the ice but was saved by one of the drowning young ladies who threw him out on the ice. Mr. Williams' brother was about a quarter of a mile away and ran to the rescue, but was dragged into the water and also drowned. His mother, Mrs. Williams, was pulled down but her two daughters, ages 7 and 11, threw her a rope and succeeded in getting her to safety.

Brownwood. A mysterious tragedy has occurred here. City Marshal W. A. Butler woke one morning last week to find his four month old baby, (who had been sleeping with the parents), missing. The child was found drowned in the cistern, and the mystery is how such a thing could have occurred. The baby, a first child, had been sick, and mother and father had been up with him until about 3 a.m. when both fell asleep. Neither can remember anything. The only theory is that one parent was responsible while the other was asleep. Two doors would have to be opened, the top of the cistern raised and closed, with the bucket returned, and a return trip made to bed through two doors. Mr. Butler is from Tarrant County. His parents live in Fort Worth where he is well known.

February 9, 1888.

February 23, 1888

When Mr. Levaux came out of his office, three other men came in armed with guns. T. R. Blake and M. B. Owens, who were conducting business in the bank, started to leave, but were detained by one of the robbers. While they were held hostage, one robber took all the money plus a gold watch and other valuables which had been left there for safe-keeping. They then made Levaux open the back door and made their getaway over the back fence to their horses. As they left several shots were fired into the air, exciting the townspeople, but no one was injured. Levaux estimates that some $4000-$6000 was stolen. Marshal J. T. Thomas and a posse were in pursuit in only a few minutes.

He was convicted of a felony several years ago in Comal County under the name of Conway, and escaped from prison after serving part of his time. He came here in 1881 going under the name of Sealy. He has been a good citizen and has many friends. All county officials and many good citizens have signed a petition for his pardon which has been forwarded to the governor.

LAWS OF GENEALOGY

No one in your family tree ever did anything noteworthy, always rented property, was never sued, and was never named in wills. [So much for court records and newspaper writeups!]

Yours in the ONLY last name not found among the 3 billion in the Mormon Archives in Salt Lake City [Did you check the indexes or all 3 billion names individually?]

Copies of old newspapers have holes which occur only on last names [what about old letters?]

You learned that great Aunt Matilda's executor just sold her life's collection of family genealogical materials to a flea market dealer "somewhere in New York City." [If you have a lot of time, it does give you a place to start!]

That ancient photograph of four relatives, one of whom is your progenitor, carries only the names of the other three. [It could be worse - what if there were no names - look on the bright side!]

The will you need is in the safe on board the Titanic. [How did you arrive at this conclusion?]

Mildred A. Jones, 706 La Plata Drive, Farmington, NM 87401

Seek descendants of Joana Martin Corder, who lived in Fort Worth c1910 until her death 1932-33. One son, Wiley Corder; had two daus; whom did they marry?

3-1-96 ADAMSON, TEAGUE, WILSON
Virginia Lawson Long, 2852 Highway MM, Mountain Grove, MO 65711-2653

Jonathan Adamson, b. c1790 Indiana, m. Sarah Teague. He is believed to have d. Tex., possibly Tarrant Co. c1861. Was he there? Also search for Zacheus or Zachariah Wilson, b. 1814 Ky, son-in-law of Jonathan Adamson. Zack perhaps in Tarrant Co. by 1880.

Comment: I do not find either of these men in Tarrant Co. 1850-60-70-80. Indiana was not a state in 1790, was admitted to the Union in 1816. Knox Co., Northwest Territory, created 1787, was Indiana's first county.

4-1-96 MONTGOMERY
Bill Montgomery, 2254 E. 30th St., Tulsa OK 74105

Seek any information on James D. Montgomery, who in 1920 (per census) lived in Tarrant Co. Tex., working in dry goods store, and his son Jesse who was working as an office boy in a packing house. Seek info on James's wf Charlotte and the ch: John Tom, Please, Columbus, Louie, L. Belle, James F., Armitta (Nettie), Birdie S., and Jesse.

5-1-96 EVENS, ALLEN NOLAND
Wanda Williams Lawhon, PO Box 297, O'Donnell, TX 79351

Need info on Marie Evens, who was b. 1917 in Fort Worth area. Her daughter, Judy Allen Noland, was b. Fort Worth 23 May 1936 and was adopted by others. She knows little about her real mother, Marie Evens, except what she has been told. Her adopted mother is deceased. Is anyone working on the Evens line? Judy was told that her grandfather, b. c1875 and d. c1932, was a brick contractor, and her grandmother was b. c1889 and d. c1931, names not known. They or some of the family may have lived in Okla. at one time.

6-1-96 HEMBREE

Eleanor Hembree, 1330 West 6th, Freeport, TX 77541

Seek info re family of Johnson H. Hembree and son George W. Hembree, who liv La Gonda St. in Fort Worth, are on 1910 and 1920 censuses. He d. Jan 1926 and is bur Bridgeport, Wise Co. Have been unable to find obit or d. cert. for him. His wf was Melinda Hembree, and I have her d. cert. I belong to the Brazoria Co. Gen. Soc. and would be glad to exchange research with anyone of your area.

Comment: LaGonda St., in NW Fort Worth, runs from NW to SE, crosses Central Ave. and North Side Drive, and deadends at Grand Ave. and Oakwood Cemetery. Could Johnson H. Hembree have been desc of Dr. J. N. Hembree, b. c1824 Tenn, who liv Denton Co Tex 1860, with (evidently) wf/2 and 5 ch, in the Carter area? This family not found in the area after 1860.

Other Reeces who mov to Tex were brothers Green, Judious and John. Other families who mov with them were: Inman, Queen, Crawford, Sorrels and Chambers. All were from Haywood Co. NC.

Comment: Shirley Cawyer, with your knowledge of Haywood Co families, can you help?

8-1-96 CARNAHAN, WOODRUFF, SHEA, ROBINSON

Joyce A. Prickett, HCR #2, Box 4770, Trinity Center, CA 96091

Seek help from a qualified researcher in Fort Worth area. Am researching above listed surnames of Tarrant Co area. This is a unique case, as the father [name not given] said upon his deathbed, "You'll never be able to find my family!"

Comment: Perhaps a more definitive query might bring help. Robinsons (several different tribes) were legion in this area. One Woodruff family of early Denton Co is something of a mystery. Were your Carnahans connected with those of Cane Hill, Ark.? A number of Cane Hill families were early settlers in Dallas and Ellis Cos, Tex, and were members of Shiloh Presbyterian Church, organized in present Ellis Co.

9-1-96 BOYDSTUN, BURNARD, GARDNER
Thora Moody, 136 E. Hyde St., Apt. 22, Seymour, MO 65746

Seek information re Levicia Boydston b. 31 Jan 1800, m. 1826 in Ky to John Burnard (per Bible record). She was dau of John and Nancy (Gardner) Boydston. Most of the Boydstuns came to Tex 1847-1866, settling in Kaufman, Ellis, Tarrant and Johnson Cos. Levica was called "Vicie." Have located all her siblings. Where was she? Her double-cousin, William Boydston, located in Big Springs, Tex, where a school was named for him. The families were very close, the fathers having married Gardner sisters, Mary and Nancy.

10-1-96 WILKERSON, BOYDSTUN
Thora Moody, 136 E. Hyde St., Apt. 22, Seymour, MO 65746

Seek info re Lucy J. Wilkerson, names of her parents and where in Mo. they were from. Lucy was b. c1848 Mo and m. 1866 John Riley Boydston, b. 10 June 1834, d. 1886, bur. Masonic Cem, Dallas, Tex. Willie and Fannie are bur by their father in Masonic Cem. What happened to Lucy and other ch? Did she remarry?

11-1-96 ANGLIN, EDENS, WINSLETT, WALTON, ROBINSON, BURLESON
LaHonda Jo Morgan, 602 Toroda Creek Road, Wauconda, WA 98859

Seek info re my grandmother, Floyd Ellie Winslett, her parents and grandparents, all of whom were b., liv and d. in Tex. She was b. 1888 Kimble Co. Tex, d. 1922 McCulloch Co. Tex, bur Mercury Cem, McCulloch Co, m/1 in 1904 Thomas Walton (they div 1910-13 in Kimble Co, m/2 John M. Robinson.

Parents of Floyd Ellie Winslett were: Thomas Milton Winslett, Conf vet from Ala, who m. 1880 Hood Co Tex to Sonora Josephine Edens, b. 1862, d. 1929 McCulloch Co. bur Mercury Cem. By 1920 they were div and she subsequently m/2 William Price Burleson. Besides Floyd Ellie, Sonora and Thomas Winslett also had a son, Herbert Winslett, who is said to have joined the "Spanish Marines." In 1921 the family was notified that he was dying in Mercy Hospital, Liverpool, Eng. Need corroboration or additional info re Herbert.

Parents of Sonora Josephine Edens were: Francis Marion Edens who m. Mary Emmeline Anglin of Grayson and Hood Cos.

Comment: All of Floyd Ellie's pts and gpts were not b. Tex. Thomas Milton Winslett was b. Ala c1848 (his pts b. Ala) per 1880 Hood Co census. Francis Marion Edens was b. 1826 Tenn, per 3 censuses (his fthr b. SC, mthr b. Tenn). Numerous Anglins were in the Republic of Texas, are said to have desc from those of Powells Valley, Lee Co. Va. Valentine/Volentine Anglin, b. c1811 Va, liv Ill. by 1835 and was in Houston and Anderson Cos, Tex by c1842, was evidently father of Mary Emmeline Anglin; the family liv Anderson Co 1850. He was the V. S. Anglin, Methodist, who settled in present Hood Co (Acton area) by mid-1850s. By 1860 only his dau Mary E. Edens and a son, William R. Anglin, were in the area (per census).

12-1-96 McCORD, MALDEN/MOUL DIN, RUSSELL, PRIDEMORE, MARSHALL
Kristine Ludwig, 102 Dewitt Cir, Hattiesburg, MS 39402-1029

Like to exch info re Daniel McCord (supposedly b. 3 May 1811, place unknown, d. Mar 1872 Parker Co Tex) and wf Julia Ann Humphries (b. 27 Dec 1844 Mo. d. 7 July 1926 Childress, Childress Co. Tex). She is known to have liv Parker, Jack, Dallas, Cottle and Childress Cos Tex. Daniel McCord is not on any of Parker Co censuses, but he signed the 1855 petition to create county and also appeared on tax lists.

Their ch, all b. Parker Co (1) Mary " Elizabeth" c1863; (2) George D. c1864, later liv Dallas and Childress Cos; (3) Martha J. "Mattie" c1867, m. Felix F. Malden, liv Paducah, Cottle Co; (4) Rebecca 15 Mar 1867, d. 29 May 1957 Dallas Co, m. James B. Russell; (5) Arthur Jackson 17 Sept 1869, d. 9 Jan 1915 Cumberland Co. Ill., m. Lucy C. Pridemore; (6) Sarah J. Oct. 1871, m. Joseph Marshall, liv Dallas, Tex and Lawton, Okla.

Mention has been made that some of these McCords had a stage business in Rising Star, Eastland Co. Tex. There may also have been a connection to the McCords of Bond and Macon Cos, Ill.

Comment: You do not indicate which years Daniel McCord was on Parker Co's tax rolls, and I wonder if he really lived there c1855. A name on a petition to create a county is not positive proof that someone lived there. A certain number of names had to be obtained to petition, and sometimes frontier counties had difficulty meeting the quota. There are many signatures on the Parker County petition of persons who did not live there, but lived in Tarrant, Johnson/Hood, Palo Pinto and other counties. It wasn't entirely "legal," but a lot of liberties were taken. The 1855 Tarrant Co tax roll includes people who lived in later Parker Co and some Palo Pinto persons, but Daniel McCord is not on it. He married in Johnson Co 18 Aug 1861, his wife's name shown as "Juliana Umphries" on their marriage record. Some printed sources have misinterpreted his name as "David."

Ed. note: Ms. Ludwig, with her query (11 Dec 1995) wrote, "I was looking through our local genealogy library's journals and ran across some issues of Footprints. I was very impressed! Your organization publishes extremely valuable information, particularly pertaining to North Texas." We thank her for her comments.

13-1-96 JOHNSON, BLACKBURN

Amir L. Finel, 2610 6th Street, Tillamook, OR 97141

Searching for info on Margaret Mary "Maggie" Johnson, b. 1893, m. 15 Nov 1913 to Clyde Blackburn, Sr. She d. in Fort Worth Tex 8 Oct 1980.

14-1-96 REYNOLDS

Mrs. Fern Reynolds Eudy, 1001 East 4th Street, Odessa, TX 79761

Richard McCager Reynolds came to Tex from Mo in 1850s, settled in Denton Co, in a community called Medlan Mound, which is now Roanoke. His son, Samuel Fletcher Reynolds, came with the parents; did he have any children? Need any info re them. Joe Reynolds owned the Reynolds Cattle Assn in Tarrant or Hood Co. Was he rel to Richard McCager's family? There is a picture and info re Joe's ranching business in the Fort Worth, Texas Cattle Raisers' Museum.

Comment: One should never accept biographical info found in county histories, without verifying the info by other sources. The one you call "Richard McCager" Reynolds was actually Micajah B. Reynolds (Young Co Tex histories notwithstanding). He is shown as Micajah B. or M. B. on tax rolls, land records, censuses, in a biog of a son, and on his tombstone. Connor's Peters Colony of Texas calls him Micajah R., stemming from a misinterpretation of the 1850 census. His wife was nee Matilda

Boyd. The family came from Mo. to Grayson Co. Tex in 1847, and to Denton Co in 1856-57. They are said to have had 5 ch, but only 2 have been identified positively: John Cornelius Reynolds (evidently your ancestor), who m/2 Medlin (not Medlan) sisters and removed to Young Co. and Samuel Fletcher Reynolds, Denton Co rancher and banker. S. F. m/1 Isabell Choat, by whom he had a number of ch, and m/2 Malinda Catherine (Choat) Gillespie, isabell;s wiudowed sister. She was called "Cass" and was my husband's great-grandmother. I can give you considerable info re these families. The Joe Reynolds you mention was of no relation to these.

15-1-96 BATY, HARRIS, MYERS, FRASER, GOODNOW

Fred Myers?); Ireland 1882; Lulu N. 1885; Walter N. 1889 Okla; Russell C. 1890; Carrie A. 1894; Herbert W. 1895 and Lee E. (dau) 1898.

Especially desire info re the son Russell Carlisle Baty, b. 1890 Okla, d. 22 Mar 1944 Los Angeles, Calif, m. 19 June 1923 Ventura, Calif. to Kathryn Elizabeth Fraser Goodnow. Their son, Russell Llewelyn Baty (1931-1983) was the father of my children.

THE VALUE OF GENEALOGICAL PERIODICALS

By Barbara Knox

The number of genealogical periodicals published today is increasing dramatically, perhaps due, in part, to computer desktop publishing and laser printers. All researchers need to be aware of these periodicals and of their value as a research tool.

FWGS exchanges periodicals with over 160 other societies. They are placed in FWPL's Genealogy Department for use by their patrons.

In addition to journals and quarterlies, family newsletters have a wealth of information. Our own Merle Ganier has, for many years, edited the Knight Letter which serves as a clearing house for those doing Knight family research. Other newsletters are published by descendants of a common ancestor in order to exchange information. Some examples of these are the Samuel Searcher, Ray Researchers, Phillips Family News, Beall Family Association and the Morse Society Newsletter.

Hereditary and lineage societies also publish periodicals containing genealogical information. Perhaps the best known is the Daughters of the American Revolution Magazine.

Of course, the best known periodical published by a private business concern is the Genealogical Helper. There are others not so well known, but Southern Queries, edited by Steve Smith, is an excellent example.

According to one local FWGS member, "Sharing is caring." And one purpose of periodicals is just that - sharing and exchanging information. Usually this is done through queries. Different publications have limits on number and length, perhaps charging a fee for non-members of that particular organization. FWGS publishes all queries free of charge, asking only that they have a Texas connection. There is no limit as to information submitted although it may be edited for publication.

Another important feature to be found in periodicals are articles on research techniques. This type of material can be found in Footprints on a regular basis. An example is a detailed article on research in Tarrant County court records. It is important to know that, should you wish to see an early marriage book, it is necessary to call a day or so in advance of your visit so that it may be ordered up from the warehouse.

Stories featuring individual research are always informative. "In Search of My Face" was so named because all the women in the family were said to bear a striking resemblance. "How I Traced My Nicholson Family" gave a detailed step-by-step method. Any article in a "How To Begin" series is especially helpful to the novice. Two other articles of general interest appearing in Footprints concern the correct use of brackets and parentheses and the proper way to publish cemetery records. "Hit the Trail to Butch and Sundance's Favorite Town" [Fort Worth] was reprinted from the original article appearing in an English newspaper. On the "fun" side are the intriguing titles "When All Else Fails, Try the Jails" and "Have You Ever Talked To Anyone in a Cemetery?" - both fact -not fiction.

Since Tarrant County's courthouse burned in 1876, the records prior to that date are almost nil. The few early estate records preserved have been printed in Footprints, in detail and again in abstract form. Any source material concerning this county has top priority. Dr. Pinkney Holt's "Early Recollections of Fort Worth and Tarrant County" is a good example, as is the listing of Confederate veterans who were members of the R. E. Lee Camp #158 in Fort Worth.

If you have Methodist ministers or doctors in your family, you might want to check the abstracts from "Parish Partners" (compiled from Methodist Conference records) and genealogical abstracts from early journals of the Texas State Medical Association.

Other information found in all periodicals include cemetery listings, Bible records and abstracts of vital records, such as birth, death, marriage and census records, tax rolls, voter registration lists, city directories - the list goes on and on.

In checking periodicals, you will be able to keep up to date on the most recent genealogical publications. Most societies are constantly working to publish more source materials. FWGS has recently published Oakwood Cemetery Records and the first book of Generations (consisting of pedigree charts submitted by interested individuals).

Another feature to be found in some periodicals are articles concerning special interests - computer groups and specialized research groups concentrating on England, Germany, etc. Usually the head of the Genealogy Department contributes articles dealing with the latest acquisitions as well as other library news. Ken Hopkins, Manager of the FWPL Genealogy Department, has written a detailed article listing the increasing amount of material to be found on Spanish research. In this issue, he provides information on the new extended library hours and describes the way we will have more access to records via Internet.

In addition to the Society's exchanges, the FWPL has a number of other periodicals which may be seen in the Genealogy Department.

All of the above information will not be of benefit to you unless you can apply it to your own research. One of the best ways to do this is to make a list of your surnames as well as the geographic location involved. Then you can find out exactly what periodicals are available for each location.

In order to ascertain this, you will need to consult indexes which can be found in most Genealogy Departments. Some early ones are Donald Jacobus's Index to Genealogical Periodicals, 1870-1952, Inez Waldenmaier's Annual Index to Genealogical Periodicals and Family Histories, 1856-1962 and the Allen County Public Library Foundation's Periodical Source Index, 1947-1985. [PERSI]. There is also a present day index maintained by the Allen County Library which is published annually.

After determining exactly what will be of benefit to you, the next step is to check the collection of genealogical periodicals found in your library. As a general rule, you will need to use them at the library, since they cannot be checked out.

If you have found a society in your area of interest, you may want to join it so that you can have access to their periodical on a regular basis. Another benefit to such membership is that you will be able to contact individuals who are working on similar lines.

If you have checked with the Fort Worth Public Library and do not find a periodical for a certain area, please contact the editor so that we may consider adding it to our exchange list.

While this article concerns the value of periodicals on an overall basis, it also spotlights Footprints, the quarterly journal of FWGS. Perhaps you may have missed some of the articles mentioned or would like to refer to them again.

And finally, please remember that we are constantly on the lookout for material to be published in Footprints. There are probably many members who have something which will be of interest to all our readers. Do send it in.

EDITOR'S PAGE

As many of you know, the printing of Footprints has, for a number of years, been in the very capable hands of The Barr Company. On behalf of the Society, as well as personally, the editor joins a host of other friends in extending congratulations and very best wishes to Kenneth Barr - recently elected Mayor of the City of Fort Worth.

For those of you who have wished it might be possible to do some "looking around" in the Genealogy Department at the Fort Worth Public Library without actually making a trip downtown, your wish has been granted! Fairy godmother Nelita Snow has compiled a listing of the holdings in the family vertical files which contain a goldmine of information. Nelita has also noted if Bible records are included in a file - so turn to page 70, sit back, relax, read and don't worry about turning into a pumpkin at midnight! But you may find a name that will make a trip worthwhile after all.

Just about the best thing going for persons who plan a big "event" are the words, "It's over!" Lots of compliments have been heard on the April workshop. Everything went precisely as planned - at least as far as the general public was concerned. The weather cooperated, the flowers at the Botanic Garden were beautiful, Mr. Clay was an outstanding speaker, the syllabus was even better than last year, vendors had a field day, and we all learned a lot about Virginia records. Speaking personally, lunch "on your own" was a great idea. A big round of well deserved applause goes to Ann LeFevre, Debbie Pearson and the entire workshop committee. They made it look easy, when it's not always that way. Could it be that the Society has found two permanent workshop chairmen?

The sad note of the day was the announcement that Bill Hutcheson had passed away early Saturday morning, April 27th. Eleanor Hutcheson is a long-time Society member and has worked in many capacities, including four years as President. Our thoughts and prayers are with Ellie and her daughters, Dorothy and Holly. "Mister Bill" will be missed.

Penny Blankinship, new Bible Records Chairman, would like to see everyone contribute a Bible record. Such records are always welcome for publication in Footprints. It is not necessary to have a Texas connection, but a short sketch of the family would be appreciated. Publications Chairman Bertie Dancer notes that if your Bible records are not published, that record of your family may be forever lost.

Another project getting underway is that of copying Tarrant County cemetery records which have not been done. If you would like to help, please contact Weldon Hudson or Penny Blankinship.

And, finally, a request to help all of us involved with the Society's mail distribution. Please direct mail to the editor to her home address - 2616 Sarah Jane Lane, Fort Worth, Texas 76119-4647, and to Nancy Timmons Samuels, query editor/research chairman at 4783 Lubbock Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas 76115-3026.

This is not a Bible record. The following data is carved on a tall white marble stone in the Hayesville City Cemetery, Hayesville, Clay County, North Carolina. NEWS FROM THE FORT WORTH PUBLIC LIBRARY

By Ken Hopkins
Genealogy/Local History Manager

Several great things have occurred in Genealogy/Local History in the past two months. First, we obtained a new half-time librarian. Tom Kellam, previously employed in the History and Literature unit, is now part of the Genealogy staff. Tom is an experienced researcher and is excellent at helping patrons devise a search strategy and discover new sources. So please welcome him.

Second, we are getting a cleaner look. Our service desk, tables, chairs, and carrels are all being taken piece by piece to be refinished and reupholstered. This activity is part of a larger effort to rehabilitate the interior of the Central Library. You may have already noticed that the water-stained ceiling tiles have been replaced. Next, there will be new paint. In the summer, a new carpet will be laid. Those days of water leaks and plastic draped over our shelves are gone.

Third, the Genealogy unit received some new equipment. We now have a Pentium computer with a 7-slot CD-ROM drive. This machine is super fast compared to our old personal computer and is excellent for Family Search and the other CD-ROM databases. Also, we have three brand new microfilm readers with zoom lenses to view the federal censuses and other microfilm.

These positive events have the Genealogy staff, and I hope our patrons, smiling more these days. Unfortunately, all our news is not good.

In March, we were informed by the Texas State Library that next year will be the last time for our funding grant. For years, the Genealogy unit has depended solely on a MURL (Major Urban Research Library) grant for our books/materials budget. MURLs provided federal funds for collection development to large city libraries that had substantial non-resident patronage. After September 1997 that program no longer exists.

With the loss of our grant, the Fort Worth Public Library is going to have to struggle to make up the funds from other sources. We are going to be even more dependent upon the support of the Fort Worth Genealogy Society and our patrons to assist the Library in acquiring new materials.

Nonetheless, the staff of the Genealogy/Local History unit is cautiously optimistic that we will continue to obtain the latest genealogical sources and provide the best quality service to our patrons. We hope to see all of you this summer.

OUR CITY OF THE DEAD

Grandview, Johnson County, Texas

By Kathleen Elmore

Contributed by Wanda Ellerbee
Fort Worth, Texas

Ed. Note: Kathleen Elmore was at one time a schoolteacher in this area. Date of writing unknown.

Of great interest to most Grandview citizens and community is the Grandview Cemetery. It lies on beautiful, rolling terrain with the Briscoe woods as its background. Its surface is dotted by old oaks, elms, cedars and shrubs. In the spring rows of japonica, vermillion, crepe myrtle, occasional spots of bluebonnets and the entrance plots of penecia, nandina and evergreens make the cemetery the most colorful area in the whole country.

The first mention of the cemetery in the county records was January 12, 1859 when F. L. Kirtley sold a tract of 320 acres of land to James F. Scurlock "except for two and one half acres reserved by Kirtley for church and grave yard purposes." This two and one half acres is part of the cemetery today.

In its oldest section may be seen slabs bearing such names as Criner, McFarland, Scurlock, Yeates, Harrell, Pittman, Moore, O'Hara, Hamilton and others commemorated by the names of the Grandview streets. Many unique names are found. There are Centino, Baze, Bencille, Gurnutte, Baillio, Bagaby and Donblazer.

Numerous names begin with Mc: McAdams, McBee, McComas, McCain, McCown, McCowan, McCandless, McDearmon, McDuff, McFerrin, McFarland, McGray, McGowan, McIntosh, McKee, McKinnie, McMaster, McMahan and perhaps others, all evidently of Scottish or Irish descent.

Surnames beginning with the letter H outnumber all others. Among these the name Harrell appears most often. The only marker of the War of 1812 is that of James Rogers (1792-1876). Seven generations of his descendants have lived in Grandview. The seventh generation is represented by Jennifer and Cindy Boyd, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Boyd. Other old inscribed births still visible on stones are Granville Criner, born July 1804 and A. Satterfield born the same month and year. Mary Smith, wife of J. H. Smith, has the birth date 1806.

Old stones lend their enchantment. One may fancy as he steps among them that he walks the paths of the past and sees the old log houses near by - that first Grandview! There was the church, built of logs with a puncheon floor (split logs) and batten doors. Such doors were strips of wood nailed across parallel boards for strength. Inside were the crudest, most primitive seats. Here Grandview's first citizens came to worship and here the first children were taught in school.

Early stones also represent their day. The whetstone grave near the north road has a moss-covered round marker of native stone. It resembles a grind stone or whetstone used in that day to grind or sharpen axes, knives and metal articles. The inscription reads, "Andrew Whetstone, Born June 10, 1876."

Another representative marker is a slab of gray rock about two feet tall bearing only these words "Atta Jones, age 3 years, drowned." Under two oak trees Mary Brand's grave, dated 1841-1877, is covered with fitted rocks, cemented together and built up as a vault, over which now grow masses of honeysuckle vines.

Traditions have come down through the years concerning some who sleep under the ancient mounds. Sallie Princess Chambers (1843-1878) for whose family Chambers Creek was named lay in a concrete-covered grave. One morning years ago, the caretaker was surprised to find the concrete broken into numberless small pieces. It was decided that lightning had struck the concrete during the previous night.

We are all more or less familiar with the tradition of Grandview's "mystery grave." The peculiar cone shaped rocks standing today at the head and foot of "Annie's" grave are certainly unfamiliar types. It was said they came from a cave. They did appear overnight and no one knew who placed them at the grave. Today the footstone is being swallowed by an oak tree and is only partly visible. Long ago the elements obliterated the name "Annie" said to have been printed in red on the headstone. Also, long, long ago the wind tore into threads her dress which was hung in a nearby tree with the hope of identification. Who the "mystery girl" was, from where she came, and what was her intended destination - all this perhaps we shall never know. On May 31, 1867 she and a male companion had come riding horses into Old Grandview, had bought supplies at the general store owned by J. F. Scurlock, Grandview's first postmaster. Next morning her body was found. She had been murdered. In kindness the Grandview ladies prepared her for burial June 1, 1867. This grave lies just south of Aunt Polly Robinson's artistically fenced lot.

Other fenced lots are the two Moore lots with their decorative corner posts and ornamental gates. They lie near the F. M. Sansom lot. The W. H. Pitts single grave enclosure has no gate. One must mount a large rock on the outside and climb over the rusty iron fence in order to clean this lot. The last two fenced lots are William McFarland (1812-1878) and J. C. Woodall (1847-1887). Such fences as these are valued relics from another day. In contrast to all these mentioned symbols of the past are the many beautiful, modern monuments and markers, the well-laid terraces and the new addition across the road.

Twenty years ago a map was made. Six hundred sixty six known lots were found. Doubtless, some lie without markers. There are numbers of nameless stones, small native stones at the head and foot of graves. Connection with relatives has long since ceased. Through the years following the making of the map, many other lots have been added until now, without doubt, Grandview's City of the Dead holds far more names than does the present census of Grandview.

Truly, this spot where our loved ones lie in waiting, is very interesting, quite lovely and most revered.

KINCANON FAMILY CEMETERY

Copied by Weldon Hudson

The cemetery is located on the J. A. Thompson farm in Wise County, Texas. The site, about one acre, is abandoned and grown up with brush and briars [when copied several years ago]. At one time it was fenced, but the gate and back fence are down allowing cattle to come in from an adjoining field. Many stones are broken and scattered about. A number of graves are marked with only field stones and no inscription. All inscriptions were copied with the exception of two medium size stones which were too dim to read.

BOOK REVIEWS

By Christyne Lackey Barr

SIMON CROSBY THE EMIGRANT: HIS ENGLISH ANCESTRY AND SOME OF HIS AMERICAN DESCENDANTS. Eleanor Davis Crosby. Orig. pub. 1914. Reprint. 159 pp. illus., append., indices, paper cover. $15.00, plus $3.50 shipping and handling. Heritage Books, Inc., 1540-E Pointer Ridge Pl., Suite 300, Bowie, Md. 20716. Note: Visa/MasterCard/Checks/Money Orders accepted.

The majority of Crosbys in America were known to be descended from Simon Crosby of Rowley, Mass., who emigrated from England in 1635, but very little was known of this important patriarch's family background and life prior to America. After 36 years of compiling information on the Crosby descendants, however, the author made a breakthrough discovery with the help of an English genealogist, who determined that Simon Crosby's home had been Holme-on-Spalding-Moor, York County, making it possible to research Simon's ancestors as well as his descendants. The family line has been traced back another five generations to 1440 and the birth of John Crosby. The first chapter gives an account of this English ancestry up to Simon's father, Thomas, who eventually followed his son to Massachusetts. There are brief biographies of the Reverends Thomas Shepard and Ezekiel Rogers, the two ministers who influenced the religious convictions that prompted the Crosbys to emigrate to New England. Subsequent chapters focus on Simon, both in England and Massachusetts, other early Crosbys in that state, Crosbys in the Revolutionary War, and "present-day" Crosbys (15 generations after John Crosby in 1914).

THE SMITH-MURPH FAMILY HISTORY by Dorothy Smith Goodwin. 1995. Soft Cover. Spiral Binding. 8x11, 126 pages.

The Murph history begins with Rudolph Morff, who was born about 1833 near Zurich, Switzerland. He came to America, married Barbara Nicelar about 1771, and settled in Orangeburg District, South Carolina, along with other Swiss-German immigrants. He and his wife died in the early 1800s. There were at least three children: Thomas, Henry and John Rudolph. The latter moved to Alabama, married Jane E. Stoudenmier and had children: Barbara, John Henry, Lewis, Sophia, Rebecca, Jacob Astor, Catherine, Elizabeth and John Emanuel.

John Hunter Smith married Harriett Sophia Murph in 1864 and had four children: Julia Elizabeth, William Henry, Mary Edna and Eugene Edgar. Harriett died in 1870, and the next year, John Smith married his sister-in-law, Amanda Lewis Murph. This family moved to Texas about 1875 living in Smith County and also Van Zandt County. Perry Smith, father of the author, was born near Grand Saline in the Creagleville community.

The reader does not have to be a Murph or a Smith to enjoy the many family stories. One chapter has the intriguing title, "Rat Killings - Basket Weaving - Traveling Salesman and Other Tales." The author credits her love for family history to her parents, who demonstrated, by example, the importance of family ties. "It is important for families to stick together, help and love one another." This book reflects the lesson learned since it preserves this family's history for future generations.

FUCHS FAMILY. Compiled by Westal W. Fuchs and Lynette Fuchs Franklin. Henington Publishing Co., Wolfe City, Texas. 1994. 321 pages, 8 x 11 hard cover. Address inquires to Westal Fuchs, 4708 Applewood Rd. Fort Worth TX 76133 or Lynette Franklin, 5011 S. City Rd. 1186, Midland, TX 79706.

The beginning of this book deals with the German background history and records of the Fuchs family. records of the Fuchs family. The immigrants to America were Georg Friedrich Ludwig Fuchs and Elisabeth Karoline Munch. Their two surviving descendants were August Theobold Jakob Fuchs who married Caroline Fingerhuth and Karl Ludwig Freidrich Fuchs who married Dorothea Thoeny. Seven generations have been traced. A family history of Michael and Dorothea Thoeny and their descendants is also given. There are many pictures and reproductions of documents such as diaries, church records, diaries and maps. Individual lines are easily followed by using a Family Code Index. The compilers have produced a well-written, carefully researched family history which will be treasured by every member of this family.

THE LITZLER JOURNAL. The Ancestry and Descendants of John and Sarah Elizabeth Miller Litzler. Written by Andrew August Litzler and edited by Wilma Louis Litzler, Fort Worth, Texas. 1995. Gregath Publishing Company. Wyandotte, Okla. Hard cover. 264 pp. including full name index. Direct inquiries to Andrew A. Litzler, 3504 Glenmont Dr., Fort Worth, Texas 76133-3034.

The author states in his Introduction that this book concerns the history and genealogy of his parents, John and Sarah Elizabeth Miller Litzler. Part I begins with his fifth great-grandfather, Daniel Lutzler and continues with the genealogy of Martin Litzler and Catherine Wendel Litzler. The latter line begins with Wendlin Wendel, born in 1708. Part II contains the genealogy of Sarah Elizabeth Litzler and her parents, Jacob Milton and Susan Virginia Sloneker Miller. Part III is devoted to family ancestor charts, an autobiography and information about other members of Mr. Litzler's family. Part IV contains interesting stories about the family and Part V consists of copies of very interesting correspondence collected during the course of the compilers' research. A listing of marriages (1860-1900) which took place in Alsace, France is also given. This book is an excellent example of preserving the past for future generations.

ONE MOORE FAMILY TREE. Compiled by Margaret J. Wallace. Gateway Press, Inc. Baltimore, MD. 1996. Hard Cover. 230 pp. incl. index. Order from compiler, Drawer R., Mesilla, NM 88046. $30.00 check or money order.

This book chronicles the record of the author's maternal Moore family. The earliest Moore ancestor seems to be John Moore Sr., born 15 July 1731 in Maryland. He and wife Nancy [maiden name not known] had at least four sons: George (b. 1763); John Jr. (b. 1769/70; William (1783-1834) and Abel (1784-1846). John Moore, Jr. married Mary Beeman and were the grandparents of Abel Moore. The book primarily concerns the descendants of Abel Moore and his wife, Susan Stewart. Abel was born in Morgan County, Ill. in 1829 and died ca 1876 Dallas County, Texas. He and Susan were married in Dallas County, Texas 25 July 1860 and they were the compiler's great-grandparents..

The book contains many photographs, pedigree charts and family group sheets and Mrs. Wallace's original artwork, which appears throughout the volume, adds a special touch to this account of her Moore family.

Note: The Society deeply appreciates these books which have been placed in the Genealogy Department of the Fort Worth Public Library for use by their patrons. The editor regrets the delay in the reviews.

ABSTRACTS FROM THE GRAHAM LEADER

Compiled by Barbara Knox

The Leader, the oldest newspaper in West Texas, was established at Graham, Young County, in 1876 by Col. J. W. Graves. It is still in existence today.

March 8, 1888

Baird. Pedro Gonzales, a sheep herder for Messrs. Young and Wilson in south Callahan County was found dead near his camp last Tuesday with a pistol by his side. It is not known whether it was an accident or suicide.

Marfa. D. M. Hickman, merchant at Valentine in Jeff Davis County, was found murdered in his store. No clue as to person responsible.

Fort Worth. W. L. Beason, former resident and alleged murderer, died in the jail here last Thursday. He had been arrested in Meridan, Miss. and charged with forgery, but it was also believed that he killed Miss Genia Watkins in Gainesville last July. The arresting officer said that en route home Beason had confessed to the crime, saying that no one else was involved and that he regretted killing Miss Watkins as soon as he had done so. After he made this statement, he leaped from the train when it slowed to around 40 miles an hour. He was again taken into custody and attended by a doctor at Bellville. After reaching Fort Worth, another doctor was called but gave no hope for recovery from his injuries. Although he did confess to the crime, many people still think that he was innocent.

Local. A letter to the editor from Jack Cornish in Fort Worth states that a good many citizens who left for California have returned and report that the boom there is over.... "it is felt that Texas will have a big boom next year and I have had several inquiries about land in Young County...."

March 16, 1888.

Hamilton. The continued wet and cold weather is critical for range cattle. However, sheep herders are looking forward to a good season since sheep have adequate feed and good shelter.

Calvert were shocked to learn of his death in Fort Worth on the 8th inst. Jim Whitehead of Greer County is visiting friends in Graham. John Fore has just returned from Austin bringing a sample of the granite being used in the construction of the new capitol. A copy of the new song, "Texas State Capitol Waltzes" has been received. It is a pretty piece of music and well worth 60 cents.

Attorneys present at a meeting of the U. S. Court included Hon. J. H. Davenport, Eastland; William Veal, Breckenridge; Lee Young, Stephenville; J. T. Montgomery and J. H. Glasgow, Seymour; D. T. Bomer, Fort Worth; Henry Lathrop and R. G. West, Dallas; John Cobb, Decatur and J. T. Daniels, Gordon.

March 22, 1888.

Waco. George Hall, about 30 years of age and butcher by occupation, committed suicide by taking morphine. He was unemployed and had turned to drink.

Fort Worth. One of the fallen angels in Hell's Half Acre slugged a man to death with a piece of iron, and has been bound over by a local JP.

Local. Ben Gordean, former resident of our city, struck with California fever rented a tent which was washed away and says he is now completely cured of the fever. Col. J. M. Kirby of South Bend will leave to visit his daughter in Wyoming Territory.

April 5, 1888.

Waco. Last Sunday Mrs. Adelia Stenzell was awakened by a noise in her bedroom. She saw a man run out the door and screamed. Immediately she felt a terrible pain in her index finger and the next morning the finger was swollen to three times its natural size, completely covering her ring. A jeweler cut the ring and removed it, and doctors are puzzled over how fright can cause such bad pains and a swollen arm.

ANCESTORS

Ancestors, a 10-part family history and genealogy series, will be aired on the Public Broadcasting Service this fall. This program has been designed to help people with a passing interest in genealogy who never made it past the initial hurdle of where to start and what to do - people who wonder who their grandparents were, but have never heard of Everton Publishers. It has the potential to pull in new library users, new society members, and new customers for genealogical vendors.

The series will be hosted by Jim and Terry Willard, who will interview guest experts and present on-location stories about the impact genealogy has on family relationships. The Willards are natives of Maine, retired teachers, and through extensive research on their own families have found they are sixth cousins through their French-Canadian heritage.

The series will include:

1. What's Your Line, a preview of the series; discussion of some common misconceptions about genealogy and family history; the pedigree chart: one of the most important tools used in searching for your ancestors.
2. Tales in the Attic - how to get started at home.
3. Family Folklore - ways to interview living relatives.
4. Documented Drama - information about sources and why they are important.
5. Treasured Aisles - touring repositories and libraries.
6. American Record's Greatest Hits - introduction to census, military and passenger lists. Stories of ethnic related migration patterns in the United States.
7. Our Ethnic Heritage - focus on black and American Indian records.
8. Hand-Me-Down Genes - compilation of a medical genealogy.
9. Computers Don't Byte - the advantages of using computers and the Internet in genealogy.
10. Leaving a Legacy - tips on family reunions, publishing family histories and sharing information with others.

Comment: If Joseph Coleman Hollingsworth was an adult buying land 1805-1826, he would have been much too old to have been the same as the one who was in Hood's Brigade.

Va, came to Rusk Co. Tex 1853, then to Parker Co. In 1861 he was commissioned second in command of the Frontier Regt, under Col. James N. Norris. Obenchain was tyrannical and unpopular and liked to "brag that he was a desc of Pocahontas," per cattleman Charles Goodnight. Ryan Washington Harrington d. Aug. 1884 and is bur Tarrant Co. Tex. Where? Believe he was b. 29 Apr 1829 Hardin Co Ky; m. Loucetta Whitten. His twin, Bryant Harrington, may have d. 30 Nov 1895 poss bur Estelle, Tex. Need d. date of their mother, Susannah Harrington (nee Goodman), wid of David G. Harrington; was liv with son Ryan when she d. c1875 and was bur on fam farm.

Comment: Ryan Washington Harrington (b. 1874) was son of twin Ryan Harrington, (b. 1829) and wf Mary Loucetta Witten (not Whitten). They are bur in Witten Cem, Tarrant Co, grave markers now missing, but d. 1884 and 1890 respectively. Bryant Harrington (twin) b. 1829, m/1 Mary Ann Waugh and m/2 Lou Woods. He and wf/2 bur Estelle Cem, Dallas Co. in Valley View Road at intersection of Estelle Road, Irving, Tex.

Widow Susannah Harrington with sons Ryan, Bryant and Oren and dau, Elizabeth Willett (whose husband was James Willett), settled in the Keechi Valley, near Black Springs, in NE Palo Pinto Co. in mid-1850s. Her sons were blacksmiths. Black Springs is now known as Oren, named for Oren Harrington. Susannah, Ryan and Bryant came to Tarrant Co c1865 settling on Little Bear Creek in present Colleyville area. Bryant's pre-emption is in that area. Ryan settled on the Jesse Doss and John H. Havens surveys, which adjoined lands of S.C.H. Witten (father of Lucetta). Bryant Harrington evidently sold his pre-emption within a year and mov over county line into Dallas Co. Susannah liv with her son, Ryan and prob d. c1865-1870. The Harrington Family Cemetery (now lost) is said to have had two graves, those of Susannah Harrington and a grandson; it was on the Jesse Doss survey. The loc is near intersection of Cheek-Sparger and Woodpark Lane (per Cushman's NE Tarrant Cemeteries). Ryan and Bryant Harrington are on 1870 census of Tarrant Co, but Susannah is not. Ryan and family are on the 1880 census.

PANNILL

Barbara Knox, 2616 Sarah Jane Lane, Fort Worth, TX 76119-4647

Henry Pannill, b. Va. came to Texas dur Civil War, via Louisiana, and settled his family on "Old Battersea Plantation" in Ellis County. Said to have married Margaret Jones, his cousin, in Va. Several children, one a son who was doctor and daughter named Georgia. Are all the members of this family buried in Ellis County? Where? Am interested in tracing descendants.

EVEN "DEAR ABBY" HAS GENIE CLUES

The man mentioned in the "Dear Abby" column (right) was William Archer Fullingim, who married 11 August 1879 to Nancy Ellen Watson (Denton County, Texas marriages).

Nancy Ellen was daughter of James Andrew Watson and second wife, Martha Renner, who married 1859-60 in Wise County, Texas. He had first married 1856 in Lamar County, Texas, to Sarah A. Jeanette Fullingim, who died, leaving no issue. Martha was the daughter of John and Margaret (Kiker) Renner of Wise County.

William Archer Fullingim was a descendant of Henry and Martha A. (Wade) Fullingim, who lived in Morgan County, Georgia, and Benton County, Alabama, before emigrating west. In Texas, they lived in Red River, Hopkins and Lamar Counties. They and nine of their seventeen children were living in Lamar County in 1850. Henry died, and his widow and some children gradually emigrated west to Wise County, several arriving by the mid-1850s.

Fort Worth Star Telegram
Sunday, March 10, 1996.

Dear Abby: When I read the letter in your column from Polly Schrock, asking about couples who had lived 100 years or longer, I had to write.

Our friends and neighbors, who lived one mile from us for years, lived longer than that.

W.A. Fullingim lived to be 110 years old. He was born July 7, 1855, in Mount Vernon, Texas, and died Aug. 6, 1965, in Lawton, Okla. On his 100th birthday, I baked him a chiffon cake, and I subsequently baked him 11 more until his death.

His wife, Nancy Ellen Fullingim, lived to be 103 years old. She was born Nov. 1, 1860, in Decatur, Texas, and died on April 25, 1964. (I made four cakes for her, starting when she was 100 years old.)

The Fullingims had celebrated their 84th wedding anniversary in August 1963. They lived on their ranch in western Comanche County from 1917 until their deaths. They are buried in Lawton. They had three children and three grandchildren, but no great-grandchildren. The immediate family is gone.

—Delores Callen,
Hobart, Okla.

Dear Delores: Thank you for the input.

FROM THE EDITOR.....

Are you planning to attend a family reunion this summer? Why not take along some of your family group sheets and copies of photographs? It may be that some one at the reunion will be able to add to your data or identify a picture. The highlight of the first big reunion I ever attended was time during which the "family historian" told everyone present just where they belonged on the family tree. Everybody was interested - even the confirmed non-genealogists!

Please take time to complete and return the questionnaire insert in this issue. The Society is constantly looking for volunteers to do many things and of course, we are interested in what you think of Footprints, our programs, workshops, etc. We can't know unless you tell us. By doing so, you will be helping us to help you.

Another way we help is by publishing your queries in Footprints. Please take time to send them in. Remember that they are free to both members and non-members; we ask only that they have a Texas connection.

The Tennessee State Library and Archives has begun a new service. The microfilm copies of the earliest marriages, wills and estates, and deed indexes for each county are available through interlibrary loan. Generally these are records dating before 1860. This service is free, except that your local library may ask that you pay return postage. For a list of available records on a certain county and details about the programs, send an SASE to Public Services Section, Tennessee State Library and Archives, 403 7th Ave., North, Nashville, TN 37243-0312.

Congratulations to long time FWGS member and past President Weldon Hudson and his wife, Lillie, who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary!

HALBERT'S UNDER CEASE AND DESIST ORDER

The following article appeared in the March/April 1996 Newsletter of the National Genealogical Society and is reprinted with permission.

Halbert's Inc. of Bath, Ohio, a mail order firm that markets surname products, has agreed to the provisions of a cease and desist order issued by the United States Postal Service (USPS) in November 1995. "Halbert's," "Family Book Offer," and "Historic Book Offer" are trade names used by Numa Corporation of Akron, Ohio.

On 23 March 1995, the National Genealogical Society (NGS), with the support of the Federation of Genealogical Societies (FGS), submitted to the United States Postal Service's Chief Counsel, Consumer Protection, a 120-page report on Halbert's marketing practices with the request that these practices be investigated.

NGS and FGS also launched a "grass roots" campaign to encourage the participation and cooperation of genealogists nationwide. A brochure and companion flyer entitled "PSSST! Wanna Buy Your Name?" were mailed to genealogical societies and libraries. Societies were asked to reprint the cartoon and brochure text in their newsletters. Librarians were asked to post the flyer on their bulletin boards. As a result, many people wrote to NGS and its Ethics Committee about the solicitation materials they had received from Halbert's and others wrote directly to the U.S. Postal Inspection Service.

On 21 November 1995, the Postal Service issued a supplemental cease and desist order prohibiting Halbert's from further use of certain misleading marketing practices, which included a consent agreement signed by Halbert's. Previous cease and desist orders issued against Halbert's in 1985 and 1988 remain in effect.

The supplemental order issued in November 1995 includes the following provisions:

- * Halbert's was ordered to cease and desist from falsely representing "...that (1) a solicitation for a surname-related product was sent by a relative of the solicitee; (2) a relative of a solicitee was involved in preparing a surname-related publication; or that (3) a relative of a solicitee endorses a surname-related product." The Postal Service contended that the company's solicitations, which advertised books such as The World Book of [surname] and The [surname] Since the Civil War, violated the 1988 consent agreement, because they appeared to be letters from relatives of the addressees urging ~~them to addressees urging them~~ to purchase a recently completed book on their family.
- * Halbert's was ordered to begin displaying prominently the following disclaimer on any advertising for surname-related publications: "No direct genealogical connection to your family or ancestry is implied or intended."
- * Halbert's was ordered to cease and desist from "...representing, directly or indirectly, that advertising has been approved by the United States Postal Service."

The consent agreement entered into by Halbert's in November 1995 contains several other provisions. Halbert's may submit proposed advertising to the USPS General Counsel not more than three times per calendar year to obtain an opinion on whether the advertising violates cease and desist orders. Halbert's must pay $2,000 for each submission to defray investigative, administrative, and legal costs incurred by the Postal Service.

For a period of one year from the date of execution of the consent agreement, Halbert's must, "...within ten (10) days after written request therefor, pay full and unconditional double cash refunds, including postage, handling, and deposits to all consumers who have previously requested in writing to [Halbert's], and not received within thirty (30) days after the receipt of the written request therefor, refunds in connection with any and all surname-related solicitations in use prior to the date of the consent agreement." Halbert's must also accept and honor refund requests from the Better Business Bureau, the Postal Inspection Service, the Ohio Attorney General's Office, and any other duly constituted governmental entity which has received complaints from consumers about its promotions.

- * Under the 1988 cease and desist order, the following conduct by Halbert's is prohibited:
- * Representing that a book is principally about a particular family name and the history of this family
- * Representing that a book contains information about someone's forebears and their emigration from Europe
- * Representing that a book contains information about the heraldry and family crest of a particular family
- * Representing that a book explains how a particular family got its surname
- * Representing that a book explains why someone's forebears immigrated to the New World (the United States, Canada, and Australia)
- * Representing that a book is the result of research through numerous sources by themselves, or someone acting in their behalf, to compile information on persons with the addressee's surname who immigrated to the New World

The Postal Service has advised NGS that Halbert's is a member of the Direct Marketing Association and participates in the Mail Preference Service. Anyone who does not wish to receive future mailings from Halbert's can have their name deleted from the company's mailing lists by writing to Direct Marketing Association, Mail Preference Service, P.O. Box 9008, Farmingdale, NY 11735-9008.

END OF RECORD

LOCAL GOVERNMENT RECORDS ARE A PART OF OUR HERITAGE

By Winston E. Walker III
Archivist, Thomaston-Upson Archives
Thomaston, Georgia

This is an abstract from Mr. Walker's article which appeared in the Ellen Payne Odom Library Family Tree, Vol. VI, No. 2, April/May 1996. It was written because of an incident in which some "stolen" records from Upson and other Georgia counties were offered for sale at a Flea Market in Atlanta. Fortunately, quick action by citizens and proper officials resulted in their safe recovery.

Eternal vigilance should be the catch phrase in regard to all government records, but especially local records. This is not only true for county officials and their staffs who are the public's custodian of these records, but also for the public in general. However, state officials throughout Georgia and Alabama have become alarmed over this particular case.

What is so bad about taking a few old records? In the first place, stealing is stealing whether it be money, equipment or family possessions. But it is especially abhorrent when a criminal steals someone's heritage. These records not only document our property, but our rights and heritage. Quoting H. G. Jones in his book Local Government Records: "Public records are public property, owned by the people in the same sense that the citizens own their own courthouse or town hall, sidewalks and streets, or funds in the treasury. They are held in trust for the citizens by their custodians. Public records may not be sold, given away, destroyed or alienated from custody except in accordance with provisions of any state law relating to their care and disposition."

The information contained in local government records is not necessarily duplicated anywhere else and therefore cannot be replaced. Any genealogist or local history researcher who has come face to face with a burned courthouse knows exactly what I am talking about.

So you see, the theft of any local government record can affect all of us. Not just researchers, but people wanting to prove ownership of land, age, right to vote and all sorts of other day-to-day needs of the average citizen. Birth certificates are in many states non-existent before the 1910s. How do you prove your age without a birth certificate? How do you get a passport, a driver's license, or qualify for social security if you have no birth certificate? How do you register to vote?

My reaction to this comes from years of trying to recover stolen county records. Whether they are stolen for profit or for personal possession, they continue to be stolen. The information contained in unrecovered records is lost to all who would seek to gain the knowledge that is contained in that record. And that brings us back to the beginning - eternal vigilance by our local government officials and each and every citizen. For these are our records, they document our rights and our property. Those who would steal our history and our heritage, steal our past and endanger our future as well as our children's future.

ABANDONED CEMETERY - ERATH COUNTY, TEXAS

Copied in 1972 by Louise Moxley, Fort Worth, Texas

Located on road from Corinth Cemetery south toward Dublin, area is badly overgrown with weeds. An old two place gate was flat on the ground by the Carr marker. Entire area seemed to be covered with stones and rocks which had sunk into the ground. I found only three markers.

Fort Worth. The convention to select delegates to the National Democratic Convention met on the 22nd. To serve at large for the state are: J. W. Throckmorton, Horace Chilton, D. C. Giddings and George Clark. A. W. Terrell of Austin, and J. W. Bailey of Greenville are electors. Among other actions, the committee commended the present Democratic administration and instructed delegates to cast their votes for Grover Cleveland; adopted a Resolution for R. Q. Mills as Vice President and approved the administration of L. S. Ross, Governor of Texas.

Local. Robert Hollingsworth, administrator of the estate of Darius Yeates, decd. has filed his final report and requested to be discharged from duties. Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Norman have gone to Fort Worth to place their little daughter under the treatment of an aurist. John W. Robinson of Albany and Miss Necie Bragdon of this county, were married on the 29th inst at the residence of J. M. Wood. Dr. J. W. Gallaher has permanently located here. Charles G. Hartman died at his residence in this city on the 25th inst. Capt. N. E. Young and P. A. Martin have gone on a prospecting trip to the Panhandle.

A liberal reward is offered for information concerning John N. Palmer and James Ford, sons of Charles B. Palmer and James Ford. The boys are 17 and 18 years old, respectively, and left home in Cresswell, Marion Co. Kansas, April 14, 1888.

Decatur. The Hon. J. W. Booth died suddenly. He was for many years a prominent published and legislator and is well known in this part of the state.

Blum. M. B. Chassard was killed late Sunday evening by a Mr. Henrod at the residence of David Pierce three miles north of here. Chassard's wife, who is Pierce's daughter, had been treated so badly by her husband that she returned home. He followed her and as he started to enter the yard, Mrs. Pierce told him he could not do so. When he paid no attention, the shot gun she was holding accidentally discharged. Chassard grabbed it from her swearing he intended to kill the whole outfit. Young Henrod who was in a room fired the fatal shot. Henrod is now under arrest awaiting his preliminary trial.

June 7, 1888

Hillsboro. A cyclone hit here about 7 a.m. on May 27, lasting for about 15 minutes and causing much damage. In town the Missouri Pacific depot, Methodist Church, Pettit's Academy Cumberland Church were destroyed and almost every other building received some damage. Fortunately, injuries in town were minor. The McGehees, who lived south of town were not so fortunate. Their five-year-old son, George, was found under what was left of a hay stack with critical injuries. The McGehee family had taken refuge with the Rollins family who lived nearby. Mrs. Rollins received a bad head wound, and being near confinement, will probably not live. Thousands of dollars worth of property has been destroyed and it will take months to rebuild.

Waco. Two young ladies were riding a pony here when a mischievous boy struck the animal, causing them to be thrown off. Miss Ida Moore suffered a broken arm and Miss Mollie Hubblea a finger dislocation. It is not known how much rawhide was worn out on the boy!

Osake. [Coryell Co] A mob of young men near here beat a feeble old man over the head with their six-shooters. Two are in jail and, as can be imagined, there is great indignation in the community.

San Antonio. Prof. Charles Herb, Capt. of the Houston Light Guard Band, was one of several riding on a barge when it struck the pier of the San Jacinto bridge. Some of the debris fell across his abdomen completely paralyzing his lower extremities. It is not known yet whether or not his condition will be permanent or fatal.

Austin. E. B. Turner, United States District Judge, died at his home here last Friday evening. There are already several candidates for the vacancy.

Paris. Bob Hutton, one-time prominent citizen, committed suicide. [no reason given and no details]

Of note: Jefferson Davis is 80 years old today and no doubt will have many congratulations from his old comrades and friends.

Local. A writ of injunction has been issued to John Phillips regarding the sale of any community property in any way or using it to take care of his debts until further order by the District Court. This is in accordance with the request to the Court made by his wife, Nancy Phillips.

Alvin Percy Graves, son of J. W. and Sarah C. Graves, born Dec. 11, 1879, departed this life May 31, 1888, leaving bereaved parents, brothers and sisters. He was a devoted scholar of the Sabbath School of the Graham Methodist Church and a tribute of respect was presented on behalf of the School.

Cleburne. The Baptist Sunday School and Calportage Convention of Texas will meet here on June 23. Every Baptist Church and Sunday School is entitled to one delegate plus one additional for every 25 members. Citizens of the town are offering to entertain all delegates and visitors.

June 14, 1888.

Waco. William Martin was shot and killed at Judge O. H. Leland's ranch five miles northwest of this city. The dead man lay where he fell all night until Justice H. C. Mills of McGregor arrived to hold the inquest. The ranch is one of the most valuable in central Texas and Martin drew a good salary as foreman. Mrs. Elijah Harris was employed as his housekeeper for the past two years. Her husband works for John Ford. Yesterday, after finishing plowing, not more than a mile from the ranch, he asked Ford to take both teams home as he was going to see his wife. He has not been seen since - at least not by Ford. Mrs. Harris says that two men rode up to the fence, called Martin over, and then shot him. She and her children were alone in the house all night. It took Justice Mills most of the day to finish the inquest. Martin's fine bay horse and a costly saddle are missing.

Corsicana. Last week The Honorable Marion Martin seemed to be very sure of himself in his race for Governor. He stands a better chance of being struck by lightning than elected Governor of Texas.

Bonham. The Barnetts, who have been charged with the murder of Edwin Morgan the Hermit in 1886, came to town and met some of the State's witnesses. A bloody conflict was about to begin, but Sheriff Evans restored peace. The Barnetts have instituted proceedings against those witnesses charging perjury.

Carthage. Spencer Wilkerson committed suicide by taking laudanum, and a Miss English, step-daughter of Thomas Smiley, attempted to do the same. Dr. J. W. Ross was sent for at once, but Wilkerson was breathing his last when he arrived and the young lady, although alive, is not expected to recover. Wilkerson was a merchant in the county and boarded with the family of the girl. When he left the house on Thursday night, she was with him, and when they did not return that night, a search was begun. They were found lying on the floor, unconscious, in Wilkerson's store, with 12 empty laudanum bottles nearby. No cause can be yet found for this deed.

Waxahachie. A report from the botanist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture covering the past six years, mentions the experiment done by George H. Hogan of Ellis County with Texas Blue Grass. Mr. Hogan reports that this grass is not affected by winter weather and stock of all kind seem to prefer it to wheat of any other fodder available during the winter. He has submitted a detailed and valuable report.

Local. J. H. Randolph and family have returned from Wichita Falls where they have lived since last summer. Mrs. Charles G. Hartman and sister left yesterday for Denison where Mrs. Hartman will live. Five wagons from Polk County, Ark. came through here last Sunday taking Greeley's advice. The citizens of Graham and Young County are invited to attend the match game between Graham and Jacksboro Base Ball clubs on June 20th. Clubs will be in full uniform and seats are reserved for the ladies. G. W. Ellis has announced for County Judge. He has served the past two years as a County Commissioner and Justice of the Peace for Pct. 2. Malcolm Graham has returned from Georgetown University and Evans Mabrey from Thorp's Spring.

Hopkins County. A farmer found an old pot last week containing $18,000 in gold coin. It is supposed that it was hidden by Missouri guerrillas who became robbers after the War.

June 21, 1888.

Austin. Governor Ross has decided that unless the foundations for the new capitol are drained to protect them from standing water he will not accept the building and not sign patents for the land.

Abilene. John Hoeny of Weatherford has purchased the old Abilene Reporter plant and intends to publish a first class weekly paper under the same name.

Palestine. George Numsen received a telegram Monday from Augusta, Houston County, that Mrs. William McLain had shot herself. She has been inconsolable ever since last winter when two of her married daughters took sick and died within an hour of each other.

Wheelwright. Commencement exercises were held at Grayson College with representatives from all over the state, plus Indian Territory, Arkansas and Alabama. The exercises, music and examinations were highly creditable. The faculty was greatly praised by all present.

Longview. Word has been received of a shooting nine miles south of here. Walter Rossen, a young man aged 19 - 20, shot and killed Fletcher Welch who was living on the Floyd place. Welch was about 40 years old and leaves a wife and four children. Rossen is still at large.

Clarksville. Sheriff Dodd and Marshal Wheeler returned last night from Charleston, Mo. with Thomas and William Wortham, who murdered John Hall August 16, 1883. They have been fugitives ever since - going from place to place in Kentucky, Missouri, Indiana and Ohio. Thomas married in Kentucky and his wife and child arrived here yesterday. Both men are in jail awaiting preliminary trial.

Local. William Henry from Pecos County, is visiting his mother and sister. He has been away five years and notes many changes here. W. B. Whitmire of Palo Pinto County, was here for a visit en route to Lincoln Co. New Mexico. George Scoggs, late of Indian Territory, has bought the Hartman property on the east side of town. Everybody is invited to attend the picnic on 11 July on Fish Creek.

Cisco. The Board of Trustees unanimously reelected all teachers for the public schools for another year - it is the 4th year for assistant teachers and the 3rd for the principal.

June 28, 1888

Mesquite. George W. Bounds committed suicide by shooting himself in the head. His brother, C. C. Bounds, was accidentally killed on the railroad a few weeks ago, and it is felt that George was unable to cope with the loss.

Dallas. The Texas Witness, paper for the Cumberland Presbyterian Church has been suspended due to lack of an editor.

Collin County. Farmers are alarmed over web worms. Some places have whole cotton fields which have been devastated by the insect.

Jacksboro. E. Johns Jr. has been appointed sheriff by the Commissioners Court of this county to fill the unexpired term of John D. Rains, deceased.

Jefferson. The case of Bob Hines was closed this afternoon (June 21). After an hour and a half, the jury returned a verdict of murder in the 1st degree - punishable by death. Hines killed a Mr. Barclay in cold blood last March. After he shot the man, he beat him on the head while his victim pleaded for mercy.

Local. J. M. Chism and son, G. W. Chism, of Crystal Falls are visiting relatives. They are father and brother of Dr. Matt Chism [dentist]. Webb and Karl Mulkey of Fort Worth are visiting their grandfather, J. W. Graves. M. M. Hared of Alvord is visiting the E. W. Johnson family. A. J. Gibson has left Tonk Valley to attend school at Cisco. F. L. Thomas is a candidate for County Treasurer. He is a long time citizen here, well known and well qualified. A severe storm last Friday did considerable damage to the crops and fruit trees. The front of Jeffrey's saloon was blown out and the courthouse dome struck by lightning.

12-3-96 MARSHALL

J. R. Marshall, 4729 Shannondale Drive, Antioch, CA 94509-7604

My great-grandfather, William Franklin Marshall, his wife, Caroline and their dau Susie, moved to Henrietta, Clay Co Tex in 1879 from Macon Co. Mo. I am trying to confirm whether he was a Deputy City Marshal in Henrietta, sometime between 1879 and 1900. He d. in Henrietta in 1928. It appears that William Marshall was a good friend of Tex Rickard, Henrietta City Marshal in early 1890s, and he may have been associated with Clair Hilburn and Charles Jacobs, law enforcement officers in Henrietta.

Comment: Was William in Clay Co 1880; what was his occupation, per census? The Wichita Falls, Tex Genealogical Society has published some Clay Co info in the past. Some of their members may live in the Henrietta area and may be helpful.

Seek info re my g-gpts, who lived in Tarrant Co. Tex. William "Bill" Lee m. Mary Wheeler; he d. 1871-72 and she d. 1870-71. They left three sons (1) Shelly, who d. 1910, had family Bible and pictures; he never m., so many family records are lost; (2) D. Walter, was shot and killed in 1892; he was m. (to whom?) and left a son, Edwin, and a dau, name unknown; (3) John Jackson, my grandfather, was orphaned at age one or two; he m. Nora Indiana Hollums in Tarrant Co 20 Nov 1898. I am hopeful that the family Bible left in the care of son Shelly may still be around somewhere.

Comment: Alfred J. (or I., prob Isaac) Lee and brother William Lott Lee came to Tarrant Co from Rusk Co Tex, Alfred arriving by 1850-51 and William 1855-56. William L. Lee m. in Rusk Co Tex 28 July 1852 Martha Ann Treadwell, b. c1836 Miss (prob dau of Oliver Treadwell). William, Martha and first 4 ch are on 1870 census Tarrant Co. It is tradition that small pox took the parents and 2 or 3 of the ch 1870-72; however, Martha may have d. as result of childbirth, having had her last 2 ch so close together.

The brothers, Alfred and William L., settled on land north of Arlington, on either side of the West Fork of the Trinity. By 1860 William L. owned his own survey of 160 acres, north of the river and 1 slave. Alfred owned several surveys, some 2000+ acres and 4 slaves. It is not known who Alfred m. but one wonders if his wf was nee Young, since in 1855 he was agent for Alexander Young (per tax toll) and in 1856 Alfred Lee and Alex Young jointly patented the 640-ac Wm R. Loving survey. Reportedly, Alfred had a dau, Lucy, who m. Dr. James E. Dodson 11 Dec 1889.

You (Ms. Hurt) must be a cousin of Janis Lee (formerly Winslow) of 3424 W. Tulare Ave., Visalia, CA 93277 (in 1989), who was working on these lines. Also, in the 1970s, Mrs. George L. Brown, 2001 N. Sam Houston, Odessa, TX 79761, did much research and furnished background data re the Lees and connections for Old Northwest Texas, Navarro Co 1846-1860, 2 vols, published by FWGS

1981. These books are in Okla City library (see biog sketches for Barnaby, Lee, Hammonds, Jones, etc.). The mother of the Lee brothers, Alfred and Wm L., was Mary Ferguson (dau of Isaac H. Ferguson) who m. 3 times. She m/1 Simeon Barnaby and had a son b. 1821 in Madison Co. Ill; m/2 William Lee, who d. in Ill.; and Mary brought 2 sons to Rusk Co Tex, where her father lived. Mary m/3 in Rusk Co 1848 to Rev. Milton Henry Jones, a Methodist minister and teacher. They are on 1850 census Rusk Co (#541), Mary b. c1802 Ky. Her son, Wm L. Lee (20 b. Ill.) was living with them. Rev. Jones later came to Hood Co Tex, where he d. at Acton.

16-3-96 NASH, MOUSER, PAYNE, FOSTER
Helen Foster Witt, 1016 S. Penn, Roswell, NM 88201

Joseph B. and Fanny Nash liv Marion Co Ky 1850 near Thomas Jefferson Nash and wf nee Elizabeth Mouser (who m. 17 Feb 1848 in Lebanon, Marion Co Ky). Were they the parents of Thomas J. Nash? Need proof. Thomas and Elizabeth Nash came to Tarrant Co Tex, where their eldest dau Apalonia Nash, m. Bailey F. Payne on 31 Jan 1868. The Paynes were my great-gpts. They and her Nash pts are bur Grapevine Cem.

Larkin Payne, b. ca1817 Tenn, liv Smith Co Tenn 1850, had a son "Ballie," presumably Bailey P. Payne. In 1860 Larkin Payne and wf Jane were in Dade Co Ga, and this is the last census I find them. Need proof that Larkin was fthr of Bailey P. Payne. Cora Lee Payne (dau of Bailey and Apalonia), b. 1873, m. Robert E. Lee Foster, b. 1866 Cass Co Tex; their son, Joel Bailey Foster, b. 1889 Grapevine, Tex, was my father, who d. Elida, NM 1942. Need b. & d. certs and obits for any of these people, especially for Thomas and Elizabeth Nash and for Bailey P. Payne.

Comment: Though Tex began keeping b. & d. rec 1903, there were many that never were made of record, well into the 1920s and 1930s. I assume that you have checked the Microfilm Index to Tex Death Records? Thomas J. Nash d. 1906, Elizabeth d. 1925, and the Paynes d. 1925 and 1930. Have you searched in Marion Co Ky records (probate, deeds, tax rolls, etc.) to see if Joseph B. and Fanny Nash left heirs?

Thomas J. (b. 1827) and William P. (b. 1828) Nash, brothers, arrived Tarrant Co 1854-55, per 1867 Voters Register. Thomas J. is on 1855 tax roll (owned no land), but Wm P is not. By 1860 Thomas J. owned some 245 acres; Wm. P. owned no land. Thomas J. Nash bought land at various times from heirs of Ambrose Foster, the Nash farm being located on that survey. Ambrose Foster was a brother to your ancestor, Thomas Jefferson Foster. See Pearl O'Donnel's Trek to Texas (1966).

Thomas J. Nash is on 1870 census Tarrant Co. but not Wm P. In 1880 Wm P. was living in his brother's hh; both stated that their pts were b. Va. One James T. Nash, b. c1833 Ky, lived in Bailey P. Payne hh 1880, gave his pts bpl as Ky (he was prob another bro), was enumerated as widower.

Mosiers arrived Tarrant Co 1854-55 from McDonald Co. Mo. They were Jeremiah K., A. C. and T. W. Mosier. Mosier Valley derives its name from Jeremiah Mosier, who in 1860 owned land and had 15 slaves. Jeremiah was b. c1794 NC. Could he have been of some rel to Elizabeth Mouser Nash? In 1988 Lloyd White, Jr., 5814 Capelwood Way, Dallas, TX 75228, had a query re these Mosiers.

17-3-96 BARNES, BASS

Weldon Hudson, 2807 Cedar Park Blvd., Fort Worth TX 76118. Pho. 817-284-9687;
Fax 817-284-3352.

Seaborn Barnes was a gunman in the Sam Bass outlaw gang and was killed in a shootout with Texas Rangers at Round Rock, Tex 19 Sept 1878. It is tradition that Barnes was b. Cass Co. Tex, that his fthr d. when Seaborn was an infant, and that his mthr and five ch removed to Handley, Tarrant Co. to be near relatives. Seaborn was less than thirty years old when killed. Would like to correspond with anyone re this Barnes family.

Comment: Among refs re Seaborn Barnes are "A Sketch of Sam Bass, The Bandit," by Charles L. Martin (newspaper man), Dallas, Herald Steam Printing House (1880), reprint 1956 by Univ of Okla Press, and Sam Bass by Wayne Gard (1936) reprinted by Univ Nebraska Press 1964, which indicate the Seaborn Barnes tradition that you mention. Gard states that Barnes had "worked in the pottery of A. H. Serrens, five miles south of Denton." Puzzling to me is the 1870 Denton Co census, on which I find Augustus Seren (41 NY, Potter) family, and living in their hh was one Lucina? Barney? male, aged 30, b. Iowa. Could he have been Barnes? Check this census and see what you interpret the name to be (1870 Denton Co. Pct 1, #45-45). Also on 1870 Denton Co census is one William S. Bass (21 Tenn) liv in hh of John D. Thompson (Pct 3, #81-81). Was this Sam? The outlaw Sam was b. Ind.

Mrs. Cecilie Gaziano, 4511 Fremont Ave So., Minneapolis MN 55409 probably knows the most about the Barnes family, but she (in 1992) had not proved Seaborn was a son. Also, T. F. Jones, 416 Delano, Longview, TX 75604, was trying to prove Seaborn's parentage in 1991-92. The question seems to be, "Did John Barnes, the suspected father, d. in Cass Co. 'when Seaborn was a baby,' or did he also come to Tarrant Co?" Mrs. Gaziano says she found John Barnes paid poll tax Tarrant Co 1856 and 1857, and in 1863 John Barnes was taxed for 174 acres Tarrant Co. Also Tarrant Co deed (Vol F, p. 516) shows 1876 land belonging to John Barnes heirs was sold for non-payment of taxes (D. C. Harrison, a relative, acquired it). Tarrant Co deed (Bk C, p. 508), of B. H. Barnes to D. C. Harrison 1877, mentions 12 and 1/2 acres set aside by July 1874 court term to heirs of Martha Barnes, out of estate of C. C. Cannon, decd. B. H. Barnes was son of Martha (Cannon) Barnes, wf of John Barnes. Martha's father, Carter C. Cannon, came from Cass Co Tex to Tarrant Co by 1855, and in 1856 was taxed for 320 acres of one of the M. T. Johnson surveys, on Village Creek. It would seem that the Barnes fam came abt same time. Since there is no 1860 census for Tarrant Co, we cannot know whether a son, Seaborn, may have been listed.

John and Martha (Cannon) Barnes were in Cass Co 1850 (#103), their youngest ch, Martha age 2. Seaborn would have been b. c1850-52, but then he would not have been "several years younger than Sam Bass." It's a puzzlement!

Sam Bass "hid out" in more caves in Texas than George Washington "slept in beds!" Almost every county history of this area of Texas has some story told by some windy old coot, who "knew Sam Bass" or had some experience involving him.

EDITOR'S PAGE

The "in" thing to be doing these days is surfing the Web! And there are certainly a lot of places to go! If you have not heard about it, we have an exciting new project underway in Texas. The Texas GenWeb - a part of the US GenWeb - has come a long way in only a few short months. The long range goal is to make a variety of resources for each Texas county available through the Internet. This may be in several ways, queries, brief histories of counties and communities, available resources for research and historical and genealogical organizations. If you have access to the Web, check out the counties in which you are interested - not limited to Texas by any means.

We have received a letter from Susan Whitmore, Chief, Information and Education Service Section of the National Center for Research Resources in Bethesda, Maryland stating that their organization does not have an index to every known medical doctor in America from 1607. This item was picked up from another genealogical quarterly, and we regret publishing erroneous information.

Marie Gooch is retiring from overseeing the mailing of this quarterly. This job has been in her very capable hands for a number of years, but the good news is that she won't be deserting us completely. Thank you, Marie, for going "above and beyond" on many occasions.

Also I want to thank other members of the staff: Nancy Timmons Samuels for Queries and Comments; Rob Yoder for labels and indexing; Chester Johnson, Eleanor Hutcheson and Christyne Barr for book reviews; Bertie Boyce Dancer for advertising; Weldon Clark for layout assistance; Florine Waters. Pat Colehour, Penny Blankinship, Roy Leach and The Barr Company for mailing and Louise Moxley, Marie Gooch, Merle Ganier and Neal Samuels for proof reading.

The Fort Worth Genealogical Society extends sincere sympathy to several of our members who have lost family members in recent months: Ruth Castillion, Ann Lefevre, Nan and Neal Samuels and Florine Waters.

Lucille Beall McLain, an Honorary Member of the Society, passed away in October. She was preceded in death by her husband, William Hunter McLain, who wrote Alexander Beall, 1649-1744 of Maryland and From Ayr To Thurber. After publication, these books were given to the Society for sale and copies are still available.

And on a happier note, belated congratulations to Frances and Lyndon Malcomb who celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary late last summer. The news came too late for the August issue.

Barbara Knox

PRESIDENT'S PAGE

This year, the activities of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society have included the following:

The Spring Workshop featured Robert Young Clay from the Virginia State Archives, who told us about Virginia resources.

The publication of pedigree charts continues in Generations. We now have five volumes in print. Volume 1 is in its second printing and Volume 6 is in progress. If you need a release form and a sample 4-generation pedigree chart, send an SASE to FWGS.

The regular membership meetings have been preceded by a one-half hour Question-and-Answer session. In response to comments on the survey forms, the business meeting agenda has been changed in order to expedite business and give the speaker additional time. In September, use of an overhead projector to display information resulted in a much shorter business session and everyone seemed pleased. There was even time after the program to check the sales table.

The Beginner Workshops, coordinated by the First Vice-President, have provided useful information for genealogists of all levels of research skills. A brief review of basic research techniques is held at the beginning of each meeting. These Workshops will begin again in January and continue through November, with a change of topic each month.

Footprints continues to be one of the outstanding quarterlies in Texas and in the nation. The section devoted to queries and comments provides much valuable information. The monthly Newsletter serves as a program reminder and contains other helpful data.

Bible records are being collected for publication in Footprints. Records submitted to the Fort Worth Public Library have been photocopied and are being typed for preservation. Copies of original records are available for reference in the Genealogy Department, FWPL. The Society extends its appreciation and thanks to Linda Allmand, Library Director, and the staff in the Genealogy Department for their cooperation in completing this project.

A Home Page for the Society will soon be seen on the Internet thanks to the combined efforts of the Board of Directors and other members.

The 1997 Board of Directors will be installed at the November 25th meeting.

It has been an honor and pleasure to serve as your president and have the opportunity to work with a very capable group of officers, board members and committees. Thank you for your interest and hard work. Let's all work together to make 1997 even better and more exciting.

Dixie Hall Bennett, President

In 1862 Benjamin Patton Ayers (ca 1801-1862) and his wife Emily Cozart (ca 1811-1863) bought a 320 acre farm and set aside two acres on this hillside as a family cemetery. Ayers, who served as the second County Clerk and helped organize Fort Worth Christian Church, was the first to be buried here. An unknown number of graves, which lie outside the fenced family plot, include victims of spring fever and the Trinity River floods. None of their fieldstones have survived. William Alfred Sanderson, a native of England, came to Texas in 1841 and settled in Tarrant County with his wife Isabella Frances Ayers. A farmer and stock raiser, he was a charter member of the First Christian Church of Fort Worth, and served as a Justice of the Peace.

These records are from the Bible of Abner Grant and Telitha Elizabeth Wilson. Abner, the youngest son of John W. Grant and Mary Ann Hugle, was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, and left home when his mother remarried, moving to Pontotoc (later Lee) County, Mississippi. He was a Confederate soldier and he and Telitha are buried in Shannon Cemetery, Shannon, Lee County, Mississippi. Apparently the Bible was purchased after 1881 since there is a notice of an award for the Bible at the "International Cotton Exposition in Atlanta, Georgia, dated December 1881. The Bible passed to Abner's eldest daughter, Nancy M. A. (Grant) Felkins and to her daughter, Nancy E. Felkins. WILLIAM C. YOUNG MASONIC LODGE, NO. 349,
ELIZABETHTOWN, DENTON COUNTY, TEXAS, 1872
By Nancy Timmons Samuels

Elizabethtown Masonic Lodge and school building, around the turn of the century. Picture belonged to Roberta Bush Gillespie, born in Elizabethtown in 1877. Can anyone identify the people in this picture?

The village of Elizabethtown ("Bugtown," some of the pioneers called it, because of the numerous fireflies) came into being around 1860-1862. It was located on the north side of Elizabeth Creek, about four miles west of present Roanoke. On the old Denton Road, it was the only town and the center of all activity in southwest Denton County, prior to 1880. Until some fifteen years ago, there could be seen a few mute reminders of where the town had been—part of the foundation of the Masonic Lodge hall and school, gnarled cedar trees, which once decorated the home of the town doctor, P. C. Bush, a gaping storm cellar, some scattered fence rails, an old well, and the big trees along the creek, where the water was once so clear that one could see the rocky bottom. This was where the local ministers baptized sinners, where the town's women did their washing, and where many couples in buggies were wed under the spreading "marrying tree." Most of these reminders are now obliterated by Interstate-35, where it crosses Highway 114, and by development that some call "Progress."

Part of the old road remains. Going south, one can cross the creek and turn east to the Elizabeth Cemetery, where many of the area's pioneers and early town's people are buried. The cemetery is now the only tangible evidence that there was once a place called Elizabethtown.

By 1860 there were three blacksmiths, a wagonmaker, carpenter, teamster, and a doctor in the area. The 1862 tax roll began to show owners of town lots. New settlers came from the east, and frontiersmen came from the west, seeking a more secure place for their families, during the Civil War and Indian depredation years. In 1868 there were two doctors, and a mercantile business had been established. In 1868 a Minuteman Company was formed at Elizabethtown, to help protect the frontier. By 1869 there were two merchants in the town.

Special Notice to the Secretary.

My Dear Brother:—

Permit me to offer some practical suggestions in the performance of this, your very important duty of making up your annual returns:—

- 1st.—These returns are the permanent records of the Grand Lodge; it should therefore be complete and correct.
- 2d.—This copy you make out is the one put in the hands of the printer, for publishing the Proceedings of the Grand Lodge; each name should therefore be spelled correctly and written plainly.
- 3d.—As this may be the only paper in existence, in case your records are lost or destroyed, it is important that each date should be correctly given wherever there is a blank for it.
- 4th.—As the business of this office is excessively crowded during Grand Lodge, and it is impossible to properly receive and credit dues as fast as received, the law has made it your duty to remit your dues soon or before the annual Communication, and the Returns to be forwarded by the first day of March of each year; otherwise your Lodge may not be reported to the Committee as "square," until too late to get credit in their report.
- 5th.—You will include the active officers among the members, and be numbered with them.
- 6th.—Under the heading of Liaisons and Passings, after entering all that belong to the Lodge, say Remarks, and then enter those who have been transferred, or who have been received from other Lodges.
- 7th.—Those under the heading of Raisings, place also in their proper places, alphabetically, on the Roll of Members.
- 8th.—See that the recapitulation on the back of report is all filled up.
- 9th.—Do not fail to give the date of your Charter.
- 10th.—It is important that I should have your full name and post office address, in order to send you published Proceedings and other matter for your Lodge.

Grand Secretary.

Send Dues before Meeting of Grand Lodge.

Some of these members lived across the county line in Tarrant County. Most can be found on the 1870 and 1880 censuses of Denton and Tarrant Counties. Capt. Billy Bush moved to Mason County in the 1870s. Benjamin Waters was in Young County by 1860.

Elizabethtown, continued

Before 1860 a subscription school was started, known as "Aynes School," with Samuel Aynes as teacher. Methodists and Baptists organized quite early, and a one-room school-church building was erected. In 1866, at the Third Quarterly Conference of the Methodist Church South, brother J. L. Randall "from the class at Elizabethtown" was licensed to preach. At an 1868 conference, Rev. William C. Young was Presiding Elder. His circuit included the Elizabethtown area. By 1870 the town had a number of thriving businesses—dry goods stores, grocers, blacksmiths, saddlers, machinists, two doctors and even a broommaker. The Elizabethtown Post Office was established on 19 December 1870.

On 16 June 1871 the Grand Lodge of Texas granted dispensation to the William C. Young Lodge No. 349, and the charter was granted in June 1872. There were eleven charter members: P.C. and William Bush, E.C. Collett, D.M. Davis, Henry C. Foster, W.W. Fain, J.J. Honeycutt, J.G. Johnston, F.W. [sic] Perry, David Wise, and I.M. Washburn.

The petition for dispensation states, "We live in a thriving village, in which we have a room [emphasis added] suitable for a lodge room . . ." The two-story hall was built after the charter was granted, the downstairs used for church and school purposes, the upstairs for the lodge hall. It was across the road, east of the Dr. P. C. Bush home.

By 1880 there were four or five mercantile businesses, a hotel keeper and a shoemaker, besides the usual vocations. In 1881 the northbound sector of the Texas and Pacific Railroad was built through the area, about four miles east of Elizabethtown. This gave impetus to the establishment of present Roanoke. Although many of its merchants moved over to the new town, Elizabethtown remained an entity until well after the turn of the century. Its most long-lasting merchants were members of the Eads, Reynolds and Harmonson families.

Soon the much-touted Texas Motor Speedway, at Interstate-35 and Highway 114, will begin exhaling its fumes upon the area. To the east, across I-35, airplanes land at Alliance Airport. Hawkwood Medieval Fantasy Faire, a theme park, is being built upon thirty-five acres, east of the old road, on both sides of the creek, between Highway 114 and Elizabeth Cemetery. It remains to be seen just how environment-conscious its developers will be. On 10 August 1996, my husband and I visited the area and were told that the grand opening was to be August 17. The old road was busy with dump trucks. We took a picture of one very old, gnarled tree that had a strip of red rag tied upon it, meaning it was to be removed, I suppose. The old "marrying tree" was gone. The once-clear creek is now green with stagnation, and an occasional auto tire peeps up above the murk. Piles of debris lay between the cemetery road and the creek. It appears that the area between the cemetery and the main road is to be a big parking lot. The Fort Worth Star Telegram (Sunday, August 17, 1996) reported that Hawkwood's opening was a "muddy mess."

In 1979 the Elizabeth Cemetery received a historical marker. The marker has already been stolen once but was later found in a ditch and re-set. The cemetery is well-kept, thanks to an active cemetery association. The sleepers there are now hemmed-in by commercialism—or, as some would say, "by Progress."

Ed. note: Elizabethtown and Elizabeth Cemetery (1977), by Mrs. I. Neal Samuels and Mrs. A. B. Harmonson, over thirty pages of thoroughly documented history, was compiled for the application for the historical marker. Copies were presented to the NSDAR and to the Fort Worth Library in 1978. The most accurate survey of the cemetery is probably that done by Mrs. Harmonson in 1958.

A WINDOW TO YESTERDAY, Christyne Lackey Barr, 1996, The Barr Company, 1000 Macon, Fort Worth, Texas 76102, 8-1/2 x 11, 354 pp, hard cover, partial index. Direct inquiries to Mrs. Barr at the Macon Street address.

This is a most remarkable book detailed with extensive research. The first part consists of the current family, complete with pictures and tidbits that are special to all families. The parents of the author and her husband, down to the births of each of the grandchildren, to whom the book is dedicated, are revealed. Not only are the basic genealogical facts presented, but also enough of day by day enjoyable memories, so that each individual becomes a vital player in this family story. It is so generous of the author to share them.

The six sections following are devoted to the lineage of Zant, Gullede, Barr, Whitson, Lackey, Smith, Reeder and LeMay families, and give many pertinent details about life in their original country before they came to America, their travels here, and including interesting facts about their relatives, environment and livelihoods.

The Zant family, who escaped the persecution of the Church of Rome, made their homes in the caves in the Austrian Alps, near Salsburg. They were known as part of the Salsburgers and followers of Martin Luther, and came to America in 1732 under the leadership of Gen. James Oglethorpe, where they found freedom of religion and free land in the Georgia Colony near Savannah. This section also includes a series of letters written by two brothers during the Civil War, giving a dramatic picture of their camp life, fighting experiences and other ordeals of that war.

Another section studies the English name "Gullede," thought to have been taken by people who lived in East Sussex, near the cliffs and ledges overlooking the English Channel where gulls nested. This family was in Isle of Wight County, Virginia in 1670. There is also a fascinating series of letters written ten years prior to the Civil War by an aunt who lived in North Carolina to her nieces who had moved to Mississippi.

The section of the Barrs details the family who came to America from Ireland because of religious persecution and unfair taxation by the Church of England, settling in South Carolina in 1759. A more complete line is given from 1652 in Ireland to those who fought in the American Revolution. Eventually, a branch of this family moved to Tennessee and then to Texas. The Whitson section begins in Maryland, then to Pennsylvania and Virginia.

Originally from Scotland, the Lackey family fled to Ireland in the early 1600's and to America in the 1700's as Presbyterians, first settling in the Colony of Pennsylvania and then to South Carolina. This branch went to Alabama via Tennessee in the early 1800's but returned to Tennessee.

The Reeders were in Maryland prior to 1665 as Quakers, but eventually moved to Virginia. Micajah Reeder was dismissed from the Church of the Friends during the Revolutionary War because he chose to join the Army and fight. Three brothers went west, each stopping in Tennessee, Alabama, and Louisiana, marrying and rearing their families there before one eventually came to Texas.

The LeMay line, difficult to research because of a courthouse fire in Hanover County, Virginia, appears to have also been shown as May. One Peter May came as a Huguenot to Virginia in 1702. Wills, pensions and court records of several Lemays are given.

Throughout this book copies of original documents are given which adds not only to the documentation, but also further describe the individuals mentioned. This is a delightful aspect of this publication. A comment by the author seems to sum up the feelings that all of us have when we delve into our family research:

"The Lord forgive us complaining when our forefathers paid such a price that we might be here today enjoying the luxuries that they never dreamed of!"

JACOB ABNER GRANT AND ELVIRA AUGUST RUFF. THEIR ANCESTORS AND DESCENDANTS. Compiled by Joe and Jerry Grant, 3804 Glenmont, Fort Worth, Texas 76133. Direct inquiries to the compilers.

This document was generated using the Roots IV genealogy program, saved as a text file and then edited using "Microsoft Word" word processor. The first part of the book is presented as descendant report on John Grant Sr. The second part covers families that are related to the Grants. The third and fourth parts concern the Ruff family, beginning with Johann Ruff. This presentation is excellent, including a complete name index and should be an inspiration to all who wish to publish their own family records, using both a word processor and a genealogy program.

THE JOSE FAMILY UTAH BY WAY OF AUSTRALIA. Hennington Printing Co., Wolfe City, Texas. 1996. Corolyn Holbrook Adams. Direct inquiries to Mrs. Adams at 4424 Ranchview Road, Fort Worth, Texas 76109.

The author shows how one can be successful with the additional use of the Federal Census to fill in the unknown in family research. She has been most fortunate in locating many of the collateral family up to seven generations from William Jose, born in Cornwall, England in 1814. The range of research is developed by the listing at the end of each chapter of the source of the individual. Each page is printed with ample space between entries and a total name index completes this text.

THE DISCOVERY, SETTLEMENT AND PRESENT STATE OF KENTUCKE. John Fillson. 118 pages. This is a reprint of the 1784 publication, complete with the printing of that period which substitutes "f" for "s" in many cases, i.e., "the mouth of the Miffiffippe." It does take awhile to become accustomed to reading the printing, but the book tells of the exciting life and problems with the Indians at that time.

NEWS FROM FORT WORTH PUBLIC LIBRARY

By Ken Hopkins
Manager, Genealogy/Local History

The Fort Worth Public Library has recently announced the acquisition of the records and historical manuscripts of the Tarrant County Black Historical and Genealogical Society. A co-operative agreement between the Library and the Historical Society signed on June 19, 1996, made this announcement possible. These materials constitute the largest accumulation of information on the Black community in Fort Worth and Tarrant County known to exist. The acquisition is very significant to those genealogical researchers working on families of African-American heritage, who are a small but growing portion of the Genealogy/Local History's patronage.

The Tarrant County Black Historical and Genealogical Society was founded in 1977 by twenty-one charter members. Over the years, it has had a major impact in the promotion of interest in Black history and genealogy in the local community. The Society has conducted numerous workshops and programs, made presentations at schools, nominated buildings for historical markers, provided information to journalists and other researchers, and participated in the annual Black History and Juneteenth celebrations as well as other activities of the community. Since 1985 the Society has operated a library and museum, gathering an array of artifacts and archives for exhibition and research.

This co-operative agreement between the Library and the Society transfers the archival portion of this operation to the Fort Worth Public Library. The Library assumes the responsibility for preserving, organizing, and making the historical collections available to the general public. The two organizations also shall collaborate to accession additional historical archives.

The Society's archival holdings comprise some seventy linear feet of materials. Many of those materials are genealogically valuable. They include information on local Black organizations and individuals, photographs, photo albums, scrapbooks, histories of organizations, minutes, newsletters, church bulletins, brochures and memorabilia. Especially important are incomplete runs of two local Black newspapers, the Fort Worth Mind and the Lake Como Monitor, dating from the 1930s, 40s and 50s. The copies of these newspapers appear to be the only ones in possession of a library. They contain obituaries and other news items of local citizens that are likely not included in the major city newspapers of the time.

The Black Historical Society materials will be open to researchers immediately. There is, however, considerable work before the Library will have physical or intellectual control over the collection. Much of the materials has become water-damaged or simply deteriorated from age and use. It will be at least two years before the collection can be fully processed, organized, described and preserved. Anyone who would like to assist in this work or add materials to the collection is welcome. For more information write Ken Hopkins, Genealogy/Local History, Fort Worth Public Library, 300 Taylor, Fort Worth, TX 76102 or telephone 817/871-7740.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF OSCAR ZANT GULLEDGE

Editor's Note: Mr. Gullede's diary (written in 1934) has been published in A Window to Yesterday, by Christyne Lackey Barr. We appreciate Mrs. Barr's permission to use a portion of it. Monroe Gullede and his wife, Margaret Alice Zant, moved to Collin County in 1871. Their fourth child, Oscar Zant Gullede, was born there. Monroe and Margaret Gullede are buried in the Smithfield Methodist Church Cemetery. [Tarrant County]

My father, Monroe Taylor Gullede, was born in Alabama in 1849. When a small boy he was left an orphan and was reared largely by an uncle. He moved to North Georgia in early manhood and there met and married my mother, Margaret Alice Zant, who was the daughter of a wealthy slave owner of that section.

In the early part of 1878, accompanied by my mother's father, Solomon Zant and her brother, James Zant, they moved to Texas, locating on Cotton Wood Creek between what is now Allen and Plano in Collin County. There they planted their first Texas crop and there I was born.

During the summer of 1878, according to my father's statements, they suffered a great grasshopper scourge, the grasshoppers coming in such tremendous numbers that over night they cleaned the fields of all green vegetation and left the people of the country practically destitute of both human food and feed for farm animals.

All of these relatives decided to move farther west. Loading up their ox wagons, they proceeded toward Fort Worth and camped on the banks of what is now Big Fossil Creek near Birdville, in the fall of 1878. It was a wide open prairie section at that time and Birdville was then a small village and trading point. They could have preempted homesteads near here at that time, but not being accustomed to the black land and prairie country, they decided to go on to a sandy, timbered country more like their original home in Georgia.

After a long and tedious journey by ox wagons, contending with bad weather and even icy roads, mostly trails at that time, they arrived in Coryell County and settled on the Cowhouse Creek where they made another crop with better success than they had in Collin County. Then hearing that mesquite prairie lands still farther west were ideal for both farming and cattle raising, they moved to Stevens County in 1879 near the line of Shackelford County, where my father, uncles and grandfather each preempted homesteads.

Our first permanent home was a little log cabin measuring 12 x 14 feet, built of post oak logs, in which father, mother, four children and grandfather lived. But as soon as timber could be freighted from Fort Worth, they built a boxed room near the log house, also 12 x 14 feet, which with the use of trundle beds, gave us ample room for the family, with plenty of accommodations for the occasional guests who dropped by and spent the night.

At this time the government was maintaining a line of forts, including Fort Worth, Fort Davis, Fort Griffin, Fort Graham, Fort Phantom Hill, Fort Concho and a few others, to protect the settlers against Indian raids. Among my first remembrances is the roar of the cannon at Fort Griffin which was some 18 or 20 miles away, at each sunrise and sunset.

18 or 20 miles away, at each sunrise and sunset. The cannon was fired really for a warning to the Indians that the forts were there and the soldiers were patrolling the lines between the forts.

We were never raided by the Indians after we moved out there but they frequently set the prairies afire in the fall in an effort to burn us out. One of our nearest neighbors, Judge Lynch, who lived some six miles from Big Hubbard Creek, told us that just before we moved there the Indian fires got to his place and drove him and his family from the house. They finally took refuge in the waters of the creek and as the fires leaped across the channel of the creek, it became an inferno. He saved the lives of himself and his wife by constantly ducking her and himself, diving under the water, staying as long as they could holding their breath, and coming up for air and then under the water again.

In the year 1880, we were visited by another grasshopper scourge. Though not as destructive as the one in Collin County in 1878, it did shorten the crops to such an extent that the settlers were forced to gather mesquite beans on which to feed the work stock and we children were kept busy killing grasshoppers.

Our nearest trading point at this time was a little store four or five miles away that was named Eolian. This was the principal religious center for the surrounding country. There was another place, a school house known as "Plum Branch" where we also gathered for singing and other social activities. The store at Eolian was operated by a man named Wood. One Sunday our family was invited to eat dinner with this storekeeper. Children had to wait until the grown people had eaten. The mother of our host, whom we all called "Granny" gave us some white biscuits spread with butter and sugar. This was the first biscuit I ever remember to have seen and it was delicious.

Before the railroad was extended from Fort Worth westward, our nearest trading post was Fort Worth, and it was the custom for the settlers to take turns about going to market, always leaving some of the men in the country for the protection of the families of the settlers. As there were no real roads or bridges, it was a long and hazardous journey over the 150 miles from where we lived to Fort Worth and quite frequently wagons on their return trips would get water-bound at the Brazos River and have to wait several days for flood waters to recede before proceeding on home. On these occasions the supplies for the families at home became depleted. I recall one time when the wagons were a week or more overdue, we ran completely out of bread. My father walked several miles to a cabin of a settler who had just moved in. The lady divided her meal and by noon we had plenty to eat at our house.

While living under these conditions, Christmas was still a joyful event for us. One Christmas, I think it was Christmas of 1881, the only gift Santa brought was a big pan full of syrup cookies prepared the night before by our heroic mother. The next morning however, our uncle Jim Zandt came to greet us a Merry Christmas, and upon being told that Santa had not found us, he expressed surprise and assured us that we must not have looked good. Stooping down, he observed scratches on the back of the chimney and assured us that Santa had been there because those scratches proved it. He suggested that we go with him out on the ground and see if he couldn't help us find something Santa had left for us, and to our great surprise, we found the yard strewn with little red fire crackers, and we had a "hot time" of it for a little while.

By June of 1883, I had reached the very mature age of five years. On that notable birthday, I heard my mother calling me from the door of our log cabin kitchen. She took me into the kitchen and told me she had a birthday present for me. Lifting me up on the old bench at the table, she set before me a fried egg. I realize now that the present I received on my fifth birthday was the best one I ever received because it represented more than any other than has ever been given me - the love and thoughtfulness of the giver.

About the year 1881 or '82 a man named Hull came into the country and built the first wire fence, fencing in what was afterwards called "Hull Pasture." This pasture fenced us off from the ranges to the west and raised a terrible furore among the settlers. The horses, especially, had never seen a wire fence and would run right into it and cut themselves badly, often crippling them for life. It caused many deaths among the livestock as wounds became infected with worms and the damage would not be discovered until too late.

In an effort to destroy the fence, some of the settlers would cut the wire, sometimes, for a mile, in fact, almost between every post. On this account, the legislature passed a law making it a penitentiary offense to cut a wire or to pull up the posts and even made it a misdemeanor for a person to carry wire cutters in his possession. At the same time, the legislature provided that no person could fence up an established road, or in any way fence in another person; that they must leave gates through which other settlers could pass.

About the year '81 or '82 the T & P Railway extended its lines on westward through Cisco and the H. & T. C. built out from Waco, also through Cisco with a terminus at the point designated as Albany, 18 miles from Fort Griffin. Fort Griffin had been the metropolis of that section of the country but now was practically abandoned, most of the population moving to Albany, the new county seat of Shackelford County. In '83 they began the erection of the courthouse at Albany, which is still standing. My father, having become discouraged because of drought, grasshoppers and the raids on his crops by wild razor back hogs, decided to move to Albany and work on the courthouse. Our first home in Albany was right near the banks of Little Hubbard Creek in a house known as the "picket house." A picket house was a log house with the logs standing straight up, or perpendicular instead of horizontal. The next Spring (1884) my father purchased a lot in the north part of town and built a boxed house, two rooms and a shed room. The day we moved into this new home, which appeared a palace to me, I was taken with the measles - the older children of the family were just recovering from this disease. It was also my sixth birthday. My mother fixed a bed at the north window and I lay there all day watching herds of cattle pass - going up the trail. During the entire week the cattle passed in an almost continuous stream, and it was said that 16,000 head went that week.

In 1886 began the worst drought that this section had even known. Hardly a shower of rain fell during the years of '86 and '87. The streams dried up, water holes that were never known to be dry were dry, the mesquite grass dried up and literally blew away. Cattle died by the multiplied thousands. Many people cut prickly pears and after burning the thorns off, fed them to their stock. The range cattle ate the prickly pears with the thorns on them, causing many of them to die from what was known as "big jaw," a disease caused by the thorns sticking in the jaws.

During the drought we paid as high as $1.00 a barrel for water - old muddy water that had to be hauled into town from some water hole miles away. In order to purify the water, we would scrape the meat out of the prickly pear and put in the water. This, for some reason, caused the mud to precipitate to the bottom of the barrel and was said not only to clarify but also to purify the water. Before the end of the drought people became destitute for food. A mass meeting was called and it was decided to send committees to the eastern counties where crops had been bountiful and [where they] sold supplies - both food and clothing. The Texas Central Railroad agreed to freight the supplies free. Uncle Tom Baker was selected Commissary man to distribute the supplies as they came in. My father was appointed one of the committeemen.

I do not know how it was done but we lived during the absence of my father. I am sure that my mother did not get even one pea from the storehouse of supplies that were sent in. Mother always managed to have something on the table for us to eat and many were the happy laughs we had around the table. Often we would sit down to meat so poor that it would hardly fry and cornbread. After returning thanks Mother would begin to ask for real delicacies but regardless of what she asked for, we always passed her the same thing as there was only one thing to be passed. But we children would become so amused at mother that we would forget the meager diet.

In 1887 I was employed by Uncle Dick Norman to help on his dairy ranch at a salary of $3.00 per month. My duties were to go out to the pasture in the evening and drive up the cows, milk from 6 to 9 cows, assist with the straining of the milk, help with the churning on churning days and be a general chore boy around the place. Uncle Dick was an albino, and his wife, Aunt Mattie, a pronounced brunette. They had no children and they petted me until I was almost worthless. I stayed with them all winter and when crop time came next spring, Uncle Dick decided I was too small to render the service he needed, so he took me home, and got my brother, two and a half years older than I, to work for him.

I was then employed by Mrs. June Peake whose husband owned and operated the Peak Ranch on Little Hubbard Creek, southeast of Albany. Mrs. Peak felt that she should treat me as a servant and she and I did not get along very well. One day she had Mrs. Conrad the wife of a wealthy merchant and ranchman as her guest and after assisting her in preparing the noonday meal I was told to wait until she and her guest had eaten. When I was called in to dinner, I found that Mrs. Peak had removed all the nice foods from the table - and she sat me down to beans and fat bacon. I proceeded to go to the cupboard and get the food that had been served to the guest and set it on the table, for which I received a very severe scolding, with threats of corporal punishment. I was so incensed that I left the house and went out to the barn and would have nothing to do with Mrs. Peak during the afternoon. That afternoon Mr. Peak, noticing there was some trouble, inquired of his wife what was the matter and she told me of my evil conduct, whereupon he gave her a scolding as severe as she had given me, and informed her that from now on I was his boy. The next morning he took me to the barn where he gave me a beautiful little sorrel pony and from then on as long as I worked for Mr. Peak, I was his constant companion.

After being with him for several months, I contracted typhoid fever and on my tenth birthday was seriously ill. During the next two years I was practically an invalid, could not do any outside work and expose myself to the wind for any length of time, was not even able to go to school. During this time my mother taught me how to cook. At the age of twelve, my father hired me to a Jew named Rose, who lived in Albany but had a store in Cisco. His wife and I got along nicely but on weekends, when Mr. Rose would come home, things were not so pleasant for me. One Sunday morning, I prepared breakfast and was serving the family as they sat around the table, and Mr. Rose, in his very dictatorial way was giving me instructions. Noticing that I was not pleased, he said, Well, kid, I guess you don't like to be bossed. I replied, I don't like too many bosses, and walked out of the dining room. He followed me into the kitchen and proceeded to bawl me out, finally threatening to give me a whipping. I suddenly lost my temper and having seated myself upon a wood box I reached down into the box and sticks began to fly. Mr. Rose rushed hurriedly out of the kitchen and I heard him storming and swearing in the dining room as to what he would do to me. I slipped into the little room adjoining the kitchen where I slept, and hastily gathered up my few belongings, stuffed them in a flour sack and started for home. My mother stayed by me in my refusal to return.

Almost immediately my father hired me out to work on the Webb and Hill ranch, about four miles from Albany. This ranch was in charge of a foreman named Hill. He was an Englishman and a most overbearing person. My duty was to herd goats. There were no women on this ranch - just a bunch of rough, good-hearted cowboys, with the exception of Hill. I almost rebelled at the thought of going out there, but seeing there was nothing else for me to do, my mother in an effort to reconcile me to the inevitable, explained that many of the great men of history have been shepherds. She gave me a little green-backed Bible and bade me read it when I was out on the prairie with the goats.

On account of poverty and my extremely bad health, I had only been able to attend school a short time, but I had learned to read well. I kept my promise to my mother and while the shepherd dog did most of the herding of the goats I read this Bible. I conceived many childish conceptions of its truths, but it has been the foundation of what education I have been able to get. Not having anything else to do I read it through many times, and many of the passages that appealed to me I committed to memory.

Practically every night the cowboys and the foreman engaged in card games. There was also plenty of liquor and many vile stories were told, but somehow the things that I would read during the day would offset the things I would hear at night. Altho Foreman Hill was often unkind to me, some of the cowboys would always champion my cause.

Under my father's agreement with my employers, I was to be permitted to go home every Sunday. So, when harvest time came on the next Spring, one Sunday Foreman Hill told me I would have to go out and help shock oats. I told him I was supposed to go home on Sunday, when he cursed me and told me I would do what he said, I pretended to yield to his demands but soon slipped away from the house, and before he knew it I had a horse saddled and was making my way toward home. The last I heard, he was out in the yard yelling and threatening me. I did not return to the ranch.

After assisting in two or three supper roundups my mother took me with her back to my birthplace in Collin County--to visit one of my father's sisters. My Uncle Jack Watson had a boy about my age and about three times as large as I. I was still very weakly from the effects of the typhoid fever, however, my experience in herding goats had considerably improved my health. I began going to the fields with the other children to pick cotton, and to my surprise, found that picking cotton did not hurt me so I begged my mother to let me stay there until fall. She returned home and I became a very good cotton picker and apparently regained my health. Though I could eat almost anything, I did not gain any. Upon returning home in the late fall I attended school the balance of the term which was the longest period of time I had been able to attend. I continued to go to school what time I could and during the summer of 1897.

I decided there was no future for me there, and with $15 in my pocket, I bought a ticket to Weatherford, Texas. I made every effort I knew to find some sort of employment without avail. After spending several days there, I rode the train to Cleburne, arriving there in the night. Not knowing which way a hotel might be, I took a carriage and instructed the driver to take me to the best hotel. The next morning I inquired of the owner of the hotel if he knew where employment could be found. He said he didn't. I told him I had very little money and I wanted to stay in the best place possible, but that I would have to have a job. His rates were $1.50 a day, board and room. I went out into town and inquired around and returned about noon to the hotel. Late Saturday afternoon while returning to the hotel, I noticed a sign "L. E. Barrow Abstractor" at the entrance of a stairway. I mounted the stairs, introduced myself to Mr. Barrow and told him I wanted a job. I had several letters of recommendation from prominent men in Albany and had a little experience in record work for an abstract firm, so I succeeded in making a contract with Mr. Barrow to secure me a first class boarding place and pay me $5.00 per month for my service.

The next day Monday I began my employment with Mr. Barrow and he sent me to Hazelwood's boarding house. Mrs. Hazelwood's was the best boarding house in the city for men only. Among the young professional men who boarded there were Professor Stribling, who I understand now is Judge

Stribling, Mr. Douglass and Mr. Livingstone who were then partners in a men's haberdashery store (Mr. Livingstone is still in business in Cleburne while Mr. Douglas is traveling for a clothing firm), and my room-mate Joe Joy, bookkeeper for Barton-Lingo Lumber Company.

The Spanish-American War was being fought at this time and also the country was greatly excited over the discovery of vast amounts of gold in the Klondike field in Alaska. My room-mate, Joe Joy, got the "gold fever" and night after night he tried to persuade me to go to Alaska with him. Being at an adventurous age of life, I would have liked very much to accompany him, but having no money, I was unable to do so. He left us and I have never heard of him since.

In the early part of 1898 my father moved to the family to Fort Worth and I came to assist my father in the wholesale and retail wood and feed business, located on the SE corner of 7th and Throckmorton Streets, the site now occupied by Ellison's Furniture Company.

Fort Worth was then a city of a claimed population of twenty-six thousand. Plenty of muddy streets and board side walks, vastly different from the Fort Worth of today. The tallest building in the city was the Brown Dry Goods company, a seven story building, on the corner of 8th and Main Streets, now known as the Wheat Building.

It was about the time of my arrival that Colonel Moss completed what was known as the Nine Mile Street Car Belt Line. This line ran out in the Glenwood section, then south of Magnolia, westward, somewhere south of the old Fort Worth University and back into town, making a circuit of nine miles, from which it received its name. It was a great Sunday diversion for the young people to take a street car ride on the belt line; however, there were practically no houses south of Magnolia, and as the line ran through so much vacant territory, it did not prove to be a financial success.

Since coming to Fort Worth I have more or less identified with religious and educational interests. After doing a great amount of studying at home and attending summer schools at Polytechnic college and TCU, and teaching in country schools, I became principal of the South Fort Worth High School, which position I held from 1910 until 1918, when I resigned to enter the insurance business. In 1910, at the request of some friends, I started a Sunday School in the afternoon in a vacant building on South Hemphill Street. There were no churches in that neighborhood, and this Sunday School grew very rapidly. We soon got the Methodist City Mission interested in their work and with their cooperation we bought some lots on the corner of Lipscomb and Shaw Streets, the property now occupied by the Hemphill Heights Methodist Church.

Fort Worth has always been considered a Western city, noted for its western hospitality and has been designated "The Gateway to the West." Fort Worth has contributed more to the development of West Texas than any other city. It can truly be said that Fort Worth has made West Texas and West Texas has made Fort Worth.

YOUNG COUNTY, TEXAS

ABSTRACTS FROM THE GRAHAM LEADER

Compiled by Barbara Knox
(continuing)

The Graham Leader, established in 1876 by J. W. Graves, is the oldest newspaper in West Texas. It is still in existence today.

July 5, 1888.

Cooke Co. Mrs. Henry S. Dye, living on White Creek, was struck by lightning Sat. AM. She and her husband were in bed when the storm began and she went into an adjoining room. Her husband heard a loud clap of thunder and found his wife lying on the floor, apparently lifeless. He went for help and on his return, found her still alive, but badly burned on her left side. She is not expected to live.

Paris. Pat House was arrested Monday and charged with forging another man's name to a T&P railroad check. He could not give money for bail so is still in jail.

Abilene. The progressive committee has taken steps for a local county fair to be held probably a few days before the Dallas event, where Taylor County will compete in the best county showing.

Local. Harrison Davis and family passed through here on their way to their home in Grayson County. A couple of ferry boats on the Brazos River, one above and one below the mouth of Clear Fork, would benefit every citizen in Young County. J. C. Harl tried to commit suicide last Monday by taking an overdose of morphine but Drs. James and Price saved him. This town celebrated the Fourth with very little activity. The picnic to be held on Fish Creek next Wednesday will give candidates a fine time to show off.

July 12, 1888

Jefferson. Railey Browning, indicted by a grand jury for killing Lewis Rucker, has been convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced to a life term in the penitentiary.

Austin. Governor Ross has appointed W. H. Devine of Erath County Judge of the 20th District to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Judge Nugent. Hon. Richard Moltble [sic] Presiding Judge of the Court of Appeals died on the 5th inst of congestion of the bowels after an illness of only two weeks.

Fort Worth. The Union Labor Convention met the 5th to adopt the platform of non partisan convention and endorse their candidates - this leaves Marion Martin with only the prohibition vote.

Local. Prof. D. H. Harkey died at his home eight miles south of Graham on the evening of the 4th inst. He has been a citizen of this county for eleven years and taught in almost every school in the neighborhood. He leaves a loving wife, three trusting little children and a host of warm friends. A Tribute of Respect to him as a member of the Young County Alliance, "suddenly departed this life," was signed by D. C. Brooks, Secretary of the Alliance.

July 19, 1888.

Mexia. Two men and a boy rode up to Dick Burney's house about dusk on July 9 and forced him to give up $1700 in cash and some jewelry. Burney's wife and children and two lady neighbors were kept under guard while the robbery took place. Burney was taken about 200 yards from his house and turned loose. He had just returned from Chicago where he sold a large number of cattle which accounted for his having that much money in the house. The sheriff was immediately notified and a posse was dispatched before daylight.

Arlington. The Presbyterians are holding a meeting here with Rev. A. G. Molley doing the preaching. Thomas Spruance and E. E. Rankin left Tuesday for the deep water convention at Fort Worth.

Corsicana. It is said by friends of Marion Martin that he will rescind his acceptance of prohibition recommendation and announce as an independent candidate against Mr. Mills.

Local. F. M. Durham has announced his candidacy for the office of County Judge. He has lived on Goose Neck for 3 - 4 years and is well qualified. Will L. Britton and Miss Lula J. On the sick list: Mrs. R. A. Doty, little Maude Case, Mrs. J. B. Crain, and Ed Wallace. Professor J. L. Bower and daughter, Mrs. J. W. Wadley, returned last week from a long visit in east Texas.

Austin. The comptroller has given official notice of the organization of Carson County with Panhandle City as the county seat. There are now 192 organized and 52 unorganized counties in Texas.

Sulphur Springs. Sheriff Pottsboro has returned from Grayson County with Will White, who has been indicted for a number of horse thefts. White is from a highly respected family in this county, but two years ago began stealing. He evaded capture but was recently found in Indian Territory where he was arrested by the U. S. Marshal.

July 26, 1888

Bickham, T. J. Gee, Dr. E. R. Hawkins and Ott Reaves. It was decided to ask citizens of the town to entertain guests at their homes at night and furnish them basket dinners each day at the park. At least 2000 ex-Confederate soldiers are expected to attend.

Wichita Falls. The north bound freight train, Engine #20 was wrecked at Tascosa this morning killing Engineer Will Smith. The trains were switching tracks when the accident happened.

Hico. Deputies Murphy and Long passed through here on their way to Dallas with Henderson Brumley, who caused so much excitement in Erath County last month when he skipped out on his $27,000 bond. He gave himself up with no explanation of why he ran away.

John Orrell, who left here to travel in Mexico and Colorado, has returned, saying this county is the best he has seen. R. J. Harris and Henry Schuster from Seymour are visiting. S. B. Bertie Wason, only eight years old, rescued a baby from a burning house in Dallas. A large number of ladies paraded in Corsicana during the Prohibition election singing and distributing white badges. Tom Brannon, hunting rabbits near Paris, accidentally shot 10-year-old Mollie Coviners in the knee. It will require amputation.

Palo Pinto. Col. C. L. Carter died last week. He had been in bad health for some time and was on his way home from Mineral Wells.

August 17, 1888. [microfilm skips to this date]

Texas Notes. Ellis Richardson, a clerk in the office of the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad, drew $15,000 in the Louisiana lottery on the 7th inst. The Overton Sharpshooter is publishing the reminiscences of the old Green's Brigade written by L. Davidson, Capt. C. C. Linn and Lt. Phil Fulcord. San Antonio. The group in charge of the ex-Confederate reunion to be held here has received a letter from Jefferson Davis stating that he cannot attend. 19-4-96 Farmer, Pittenger
Rick Tonsing, 448 Parkview Vallejo, CA 94589

Asks for info, stories, etc. re White Settlement (Tarrant Co) residents Elijah W. Farmer, b. ca Dec 1831 Tenn, and Amanda Farmer, b. c1845 Tenn, and their parents and siblings. Has Bible of James David and Cherokee Farmer. [See Farmer Bible Record this issue]. Descends from their dau, Cherokee Farmer, who m. Richard Patterson Pittenger.

Comment: Are you interested in genealogical info or just human interest stories? There were a number of Farmer fams, all evidently related, some in Tex by 1850, others came by 1860s and 1870s, liv in several northwest Tex frontier counties. Reportedly desc of Henrico and Halifax Cos Va family. Henry (IV) and Sarah (Echols) Farmer were pts of Rev. John Farmer (b. 1784 Halifax Co. Va) who m. Abigail Reed. John liv Roane Co. Tenn, then to Cass Co. Mo, bef 1839 and d. there 1845 leaving 11 ch. Info re these 11 ch would be very helpful in working out the Farmer fams of Tex. Those of Tarrant, Young and Jack Cos, Tex, were definitely related.

Your Elijah W. Farmer does not appear on Tarrant Co tax rolls until 1856. Others of that surname were here by 1850-1855 per census and tax rolls. Amanda, wf of E. W. Farmer (1870 and 1880) was not the mother of your James David Farmer, whose biog (c1906) states that his mother was Sallie Jackson. The child-ladder of the censuses also indicates that Amanda was not mother of all of E. W.'s ch. I do not find E. W. in Tex in 1850, although he is said to have been here.

Your James David Farmer m. 19 Apr 1883 in Tarrant Co to Martha Cherokee Thompson, dau of Henry J. Thompson (of Jack Co 1870 and Tarrant 1880) and grandau of Robert H. Thompson (of Parker Co 1860).

20-4-96 Shofner, Shoffner
Mrs. Forrest Dutton Poorman, 15300 Magnolia #55, Westminster, CA 92683

Seek info re Shofner/Shoffners of Tarrant Co. Wilson C. Shofner liv Tarrant Co, is on 1870 census, was from Tenn. In Apr 1863 Newton King Shoffner (bro of Wilson C.) came from Madison Co. Ark to Tarrant Co, bought some land, stayed sev months, then returned to Ark. He came back to Tarrant Co in Nov 1864 and remained through June 1865. Gabriel Shofner, my g-gf, lost his wf in 1868, came to Tex and remained until just bef 1880.

Comment: Wilson C. Shoffner is on 1880 census (ED 94, #298-298) liv in Pct 3, which was NE part of the county. Only 2 sons were still at home, Frederick A. and Wilson M. I find no marriages of anyone of this surname. Wilson C. Shofner was b. c1831-33 Tenn, his pts b NC, per 1880 census. He may have come from Bedford Co Tenn, with the Eules, Trigg and other fams, who settled in present Bedford and Eules area of Tarrant Co. Eules and Shofner fams were in Orange Co. NC in 1770s and 1780s. Adam Eules, b. 22 Nov 1778, d. 29 Dec 1843 Bedford Co. Tenn, m. in NC 20 Aug 1803 Dorothea "Turley" Shofner, b. 2 Feb 1783. She was dau of Martin and Catherine (Cook) Roundtree Shofner. Adam and Dorothea Eules had a son, Martin, who was father of Elisha Adam Euless (a sheriff of Tarrant Co). In 1970 Mrs. Louis William Kleasner, Jr., (liv at 2021 So. Parton St., Santa Ana, CA 92707) was author of Euliss Genealogy. Perhaps her book may give Shofner background info. In 1991 Katherine K. Stephens, Rt 2, Box 9A, Tulia TX 79088 inquired about the Euless and Shofner fams of Bedford Co, Tenn, who came to Tex.

21-4-96 Smith, Millsap, Turkett, Williams

Billee Williams Ingram, 5325 Wheaton Street, LaMesa, CA 91942-1768

Like to contact anyone researching Smith and Millsap fams of Tarrant Co area. My g-gf was William Wallace Smith, b. 1 Jan 1813/1817 SC, d. 28 Dec 1879 Tarrant Co. Tex. He m. c1860 in Tarrant Co to Susan Millsap, b. 15 June 1836 Mo, d. 5 Aug 1906 Tarrant Co. She was dau of John W. Millsap and wf Samantha. Who were pts of Wm Wallace Smith? They had 7 ch, all b. Tarrant Co: William H.; Sarah J., James Marion, Thomas, Ruth, Alice (m. Turkett) and Mattie Marthann, b. 1877 Bedford, Tarrant Co., m. James Charles Williams 1901. The Williamses were my gpts.

Comment: The mg of W. W. Smith is not available, since Tarrant Co lost records pre-1876 in a court house fire. I do not find him on 1860 tax roll, or on 1867 Voter's Register. One Wallace Smith had a 150-ac Pre-emption claim (AB #1489), and one W. W. Smith had a 3rd Class 160-acre claim (Ab #1392) but neither had been approved or patented by 1878.

Your W. W. Smith is on 1870 census Tarrant Co. (Pct 2, #377-377), with wf Susan and 3 ch. His wid Sousan [sic] is on 1880 census (ED 95, Pct 3, #358-374), with all 7 ch still at home. Of the many Smiths here in 1870, only 2 others had SC births: C. W. Smith, 37 (Pct 2, #483-483) and Morgan Smith, 39 (Pct 2, #248-248). In 1880 C. W. was still here (ED 96, Pct 4, #215-216), b. SC, his pts b. SC. He named a dau the unusual given name "Quiters." Wm Wallace Smith's dau, Sarah J., may have been the one who m. A. B. Clark 10 Apr 1881; if so, he was some yrs older than she. He was Alex Broy Clark, a widower in 1880, whose wf/1 (nee Hust) had d. in Mar 1880. He was the only A. B. Clark here in 1880. Sarah J. Smith was still unwed in 1880. She and one Sarah J. Smith (widow age 30, b. Ill) were the only 2 of that name in 1880. Alex Broy Clark d. 1918 in Clarendon, Tex. Mrs. Dolores B. Miller, 1813 N. Whaley Ave., Pensacola, FL 32503, has worked on this Clark line.

I find John/John W. Millsap/Milsap on 1850 census Tarrant Co, on tax rolls in 1850s and 1860s, on 1854 School Census, on 1867 Voter's Register, but not on 1870 census. He m. twice, perhaps 3 times, his wf/2 being wid Martha Huett/Huitt who he m. 24 Dec 1851, and one John Milsap m. Mary M. Montgomery 25 Sept 1859, per Dallas Co. Mgs.

22-4-96 Clifton, Robertson, Satterwhite, South, Calhoun

Bertie Boyce Dancer, 225 Chateau Drive, Fort Worth, TX 76134-4604

My g-g-gf, Terry Cisero Clifton, liv Rockwall Co Tex 1900 (ED 86, Pct 3, #61-61), enum as Terry Clifton, age 41, b. Ala. His d. rec. gives his birth as 22 Feb 1860. His wf was Mary Elmina], b. July 1844 Miss, age 55, her fthr b. Tenn, mthr b. NC She had 8 ch, of whom 6 were still living.

Liv in same hh were Charlie Robertson, age 30, b. June 1870, Ark; Jessie Robertson, age 28, b. Mar 1872 Ark; and my gf {Terry} Edward Clifton, age 14, b. April 1886 Ark.

In hh #50-50 were William Calhoun, age 66 b. NC and wf Martha L., age 61, b. Ala, and B. Robertson, age 19, b. Ark. who was a son of Mary E. Clifton. Was there a fam relationship?

Fam tradition says Mary Elmina's maiden name was Satterwhite, possibly incorrect. She is believed to have m/1 Mr. Wolf(e), by whom she had a son; m/2 Mr. Robertson. Her h/1, Wolfe, is said to have d. in CW. When and where (Miss? Ark?) did Mary Elmina m. Terry Cisero Clifton?

Mary Elmina Clifton also had dau, Josephine Robertson, b. 1865 Miss. Per fam tradition, Josephine traveled from Ark to Miss (location unknown) to marry John Pneubern South, b. c1866 Ala. Abt 1900 Josephine and John were said to liv Bowie Co. Tex. They later liv Farmersville, Roscoe and Electra, Tex. Both d. in Calif.

23-4-96 Timmons, Myers, Coop, Mitchell, Waddill

Nancy Timmons Samuels, 4783 Lubbock Avenue, Fort Worth, TX 76115-3026

Seek fam-group info and background data on the Timmons fams, who liv Bell and Coryell Cos, Tex, in 1870s, 1880s and later. Many are bur in Levita and Ater (Sardis) Cems in Coryell Co. Some desc were in Eastland Co, also in Hale Co (Plainview area). Some of their allied fams were Myers, Coop, Mitchell, Waddill. Where did these Timmons come from to Tex? Were they desc of Pontotoc, Miss. fams? Am trying to "fit" them into my some-40-yrs of Timmons research.

24-4-96 Jones

Euphemia L. Griffith, 720 S. Orchard Street, Stillwater, OK 74074-4219

Is anyone "keeping up with the Joneses" of Tarrant Co? I am researching Andrew Mathew Jones, who liv Tarrant Co 1880, with wf Penina and a son, Charles, age 1. He was a son of Neely and Nancy Ann Wilson Jones (in Freestone Co 1860 and Crawford Co 1870). They must have m. in that county. His bro. Jonathan L. Jones, was liv with them 1880 and was a millwright. They liv in Pct 3; what part of the county was that? By 1900 they were in Navarro Co (ED 107, #78-78) and were still there 1910 (ED 97, #35-35). Andrew was b. Dec 1848 Ind, his pts both b. Ky, and Penina was b. Mar 1853 Tex, her pts b. Tenn (per 2 censuses); her fthr b. Ark (per 1 census). Their ch were: Charles L., b. Jan 1879; Annie T., b. Mar 1881; and Ellen E. b. Aug 1887.

Comment: I note that on all 3 censuses Andrew is enum as Andrew M. Jones. He was prob the A. M. Jones who m. in Tarrant Co 31 May 1876 to Permelia [sic] M. Baker. I note that Andrew's wf was Penina/Peninah in 1880 and 1900, but in 1910 she was enum as Matilda. Her name was prob Peninah Matilda Baker.

Of the numerous Joneses in Tarrant Co 1880 and the several in Pct. 3, which was the NE part of the county, there were 2 fams that showed Indiana and Ky connections. One was your Andrew (age 30, b. Ind) and the other was the fam of Charles Wesley Jones (57, b. Ky). C. W. Jones was b. Shelby Co. Ky. and m. Harriet White, went to Ind for awhile (location unknown)(and were in Jasper Co. Iowa by 1850, then to Mo, then to Tex. In Jasper Co. Iowa 1856 State Census, 2 other Jones fams from Ind (relation unknown) had liv in Marion Co. Ind.

Your Penina Jones was dau of James M. Baker and wf Ruth who m. in Dallas Co. Tex. 17 Feb 1848, her surname given as Forester on mg. rec, which is puzzling! She was the widow Preston when she came to Tex, with dau Permelia Preston. The Bakers liv Tarrant Co 1850, had a son James, age 1. Her dau Permelia (age 14) was erroneously enum as Baker and was likely the Permelia Preston who m. Jas. D. White in Dallas Co 4 Nov 1855. One Benjamin F. Baker (age 16) also liv in the hh 1850, was prob rel to James M. The fam liv among the "Missouri Colonists" of So. Denton and NE Tarrant Cos. James M. Baker appears on tax rolls of both cos. He prob d bef 1860. Check Dallas Co Probate Records, Case #56, Jas M. Baker, decd, to find specific info. Ruth Baker was enum Tarrant Co 1870 (#279-279), with 3 ch: (1) J. Y? 21, who was same as son James T? age 1 in 1850; (2) son A. G., b c1851, prob names for A. G. Walker, early surveyor of the area; (3) dau P. M., b. c1853. This dau has to be your Peninah Matilda Baker!

The Baker Peter's Colonists of this area came 1844 from Platte Co. Mo. Nearly all were related to Medlin fams, by blood or marriage, to such an extent that the settlement in Denton/Tarrant Co was known as "Medlin Settlement." These allied fams had been in Cole/Moniteau Cos Mo and went into Platte Co, after the Platte Purchase, from whence the 1844 group came to Tex, James M. Baker included. Others came 1845-1848 from Platte and Moniteau/Cole Cos Mo. In Platte Co Mo 1843, one Larkin Baker made affidavit re land taken up by Hall Medlin, the rec filed in Clinton Co Mo. Hall Medlin's wf/2 was Nancy Baker, whom he m. 8 Sept 1842 Platte Co Mo., and she d. c1848 in Tex, leaving 1 son, Lewis Larkin Medlin (prob named for Lewis Medlin, father of Hall, and for Larkin Baker, perhaps father of Nancy?). One Larkin Baker came to Tex 1844 with the others, was m. and had 6 ch, but was not in the area 1850. One Larkin Baker was on the 1825 tax list of White Co Tenn. These may have been different Larkins but do furnish clues from which to work. Your James M. Baker was certainly related to Nancy Baker Medlin.

Bruce

Susan M. Riddle, PO Box 146, Saluda, NC

Need to locate a book, John Bruce of Shenandoah, written by Violet Laverne Bruce, who lived in Fort Worth on La Sierra Road. My letter to her was returned with a postal stamp marked "deceased." Does anyone in your society or area know about this lady, her book, or what happened to her research? She and my husband descend from the same Bruce fam line.

Crocker, Alexander, Childress, Johnson

Imogene Crocker, 3616 County Road 1018, Cleburne, TX 76031-8081

Need names of Crocker parents who came from Ill to Tex bef 1860 and were pts of the foll ch: (1) John Herman Crocker, b. 2 Oct 1852 Ill, d. June 1913 Seagoville, Tex, m. Mary Etta Alexander 25 Aug 1892 Alvarado, Johnson Co Tex; (2) Thomas J. Crocker, b. c1855 Ill; (3) Frances E. Crocker, b. c1859 Tex; (4) Alex Crocker, b. c1860 Tex; (5) Robert Wesley Crocker, b. 6 May 1860 Decatur, Tex, d. 28 July 1924 Seagoville, Tex, m. 21 June 1888 Dallas Co Tex to Effie Elva Alexander, sis of Mary Etta; (6) Mary Annie Crocker, b. 209 Apr 1863 or 1865 Dallas, Tex, d. June 1937 Blanchard, Okla, m. John Childress, b. 18 Aug 1856 Ga; (7) Harriett "Hattie" Crocker, b. 5 Mar 1868 near St. Jo. Mo, d. 5 Apr 1920, m. Jan 1888 William Preston Johnson, b. 22 Jan 1865, d. 14 Jan 1938, both bur Mt Olivet Cem, Fort Worth, Tex. Robert Wesley Crocker (my husband's gf) is said to have had a bro called "Pete" who "had 15 ch, went on a cattle drive and did not return." Like to corrsp with desc.

Comment: The pts of the above siblings were Robert W. Crocker, Sr., and wf. Elizabeth A., of Wise Co Tex 1860 (#69-71, Decatur PO). He was b. c1831 Ill and she b. c1835 Ill; they came to Tex 1855-59. By 1870 they liv Johnson Co Tex, Alvarado PO, Beat #4 hh 437-438, in hh of one J. M. Patterson. Had 4 ch in 1860 and 8 ch in 1870. Frances E., 3rd ch, was a dau. The 4th ch in 1860 was Alex, age 1 mo. He would have been b. May 1860 if census was enum correctly, according to age on census-yr date. Thus, he was likely same person as Robert W. [Jr?], b. 6 May 1860 and enum as R. W., age 10 in 1870. The dau Mary A. Crocker m. in Johnson Co 2 July 1882 to J. M. Childress (her name given as "Mary J." on mg rec). A son, J. W., b. c1866 Tex, is on 1870 census, enum between Mary A. and Harriet M. Harriet Crocker was shown as b. Tex; perhaps she was b. Saint Jo, Montague Co. Tex, rather than St. Joseph, Mo. The youngest ch on 1870 census was a son, G. W., b. c1869 Tex. You need to locate Robert W. Crocker, Sr. in Ill in 1850, then locate his mg rec to find maiden name of Elizabeth A. Note: J. M. Patterson, with whom this fam was enum 1870, may not have been of any relation; his wife was nee Knight. It could be that the census taker failed to put a fam-dw number by the Crocker hh.

27-4-96 Stanly/Stanley, Cooper

Mamie Cooper, N6827 Co A, Ladysmith, WI 54848

Aft the CW, a group migrated from Ill or Ohio. With them were my gf Joseph Scott Stanly and a cousin, Squire Bond, who went into Nebraska. My gf went to Ida Co. Iowa. We know they went to Bellevue, Kan, and are said to have laid out the town. Their fthr was Geo. Washington Stanley, whose sons were Jonah Chandler, Jacob, John, Jashaw, Joseph and James Stanley. Some of these are thought to have gone to Tex. Does anyone know about these Stanleys?

Would like info re Edward Cooper, or his desc, who left Somerset, Ky ca1855-56, with other Coopers, for Fannin and Burnett [handwriting not clear] Cos Tex. Edward Cooper was b. 17 Aug 1773 in Spartanburg, SC and m. Susannah Cole, b. 1773 SC. Mov to Pulaski Co Ky. Edward was in RW, a Lt. in Roebuck's Regt, SC Militia. His wf, Susanah, age 87, was in Tex 1860 in hh of Calvin Cooper, in Lane [?] Co Tex.

Comment: Do you refer to Belleville, Kan or Belvue, Kan? If Edward Cooper was b. 1773, he was too young to have been a Lt in the RW. There is no Lane Co Tex. Perhaps you mean Leon or Lano Co Tex?
