GENEALOGY FROM LETTERS

 The program, GENEALOGY FROM LETTERS, which was presented at the November meeting of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society generated much interest and brought audience participation. So -- now we share it, in part, with our readers.

 Miss Mildred Dulaney, Program Chairman of the Society, served as moderator and was assisted by Mrs. J. P. Agerton and Mrs. R. N. Grammer.
--The Editor.

INTRODUCTION

Miss Dulaney: When a person is lucky enough to have had old letters saved in the family, he will find them a very valuable source of genealogical data. The information to be gleaned from letters may be grouped roughly under five headings which we shall take up in turn. These are migrations, vital and personal facts, character, local history and social customs, and amusing incidents. Some of the headings inevitably overlap.

MIGRATIONS

Miss Dulaney: Where people came from and when and where they went are among the many problems in genealogy that letters sometimes solve. A series of twenty-four letters, written by my great uncle, Claud Morgan, when he moved to Texas at the age of 19, to his friend, Henry Johnson in Alabama, show both by the heading and by the content a series of moves.

The first, dated March 21, 1869, had a Marlin, Texas, postmark. One year later there was a Waco postoffice. Then by August there was a box number at Bosqueville, which probably meant that a new postoffice had been established. By 1874 the writer was in school at Mount Calm in Limestone County.

Mrs. Grammer: In a collection of letters which have come to me through the Grammer family, I find many interesting items. From them I learned who H. H. Hobbs was, his connection with the family, and of his travels.

From Courtland, Miss., on Jan. 7, 1828, H. H. Hobbs wrote to his mother, Mrs. Nancy Hobbs in Dinwiddie Co., Va.: "... I have enjoyed good health ever since I first came to this country which was shortly after I visited you in 1819..." In August 1829, from Franklin, Tenn., a son of Mrs. Sally Grammer of Dinwiddie Co. Va., wrote, "Uncle H. H. Hobbs returned from New Orleans about July 15th..." In 1835 this same H. H. Hobbs wrote to his sister, this Mrs. Sally Grammer, that he was enjoying living in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Agerton: The letters which I have of the Wright family show that one of the families moved from North Carolina to Tennessee and settled eighteen miles south of Nashville. Then they decided that better land could be had farther north; so they moved on to Calloway County, Kentucky. It was in Calloway that the son and daughter of Hansel Wright married a son and daughter of Rowland Stone, who were my husband's great great grandparents. In about 1835 Hansel Wright decided to move to Texas to take up land, traveling by wagon train. They first settled at Nacogdoches, and then moved to Rusk County where the older members lived and died.

VITAL AND PERSONAL FACTS

Miss Dulaney: The personal information and vital statistics to be found in old letters is of paramount importance to the genealogist. Often letters will clear up doubtful relationships and even bring in hitherto unknown cousins and lines. It is well to read them with a family chart in front of you so that such phrases as "Aunt Betty" will become clear and you will know just who is meant.

Marriages, deaths, and the cause thereof, children, etc., are to be found all through letters, mixed in next to the price of cotton or the fact that court is in session. For example:

"When you see any of Mr. Allen's family tell them Aunt Katy Garratt is dead. She died last week at Mr. Tom G-- (her son) of pneumonia. She must have been near 80 years of age. They lived at Patrick."

"Sister is now down at Waco. She is to get married on the 20th of this month to a Mr. West of Mt. Calm, quite a nice man. He is a merchant."

Mrs. Grammer: On Sept. 27, 1836, Andrew Park (not a member of the Grammer family) living in Franklin, Tenn., wrote to his friend, William Bailey, who was visiting in Virginia. It was a rather lengthy, newsy letter. Among other things, he said:

"Your friends and acquaintances are generally well. You have probably heard of the death of your particular friend Col. Thomas Hardeman. It is unnecessary to say how much his death is lamented. ... Col. Nicholas T. Perkins heard yesterday of the death of his son Constantine at Tuscaloosa. ... I believe I have gone through the deaths here and will now mention marriages -- Miss Mary Elizabeth Perkins was married on the 8th inst to a Mr. Bradley of Kentucky. Her brother, Wm. Oneal Perkins was married a few weeks previous to a Miss Slaughter also of Kentucky. Miss Mary McGavock was married last Thursday to Mr. Southall. Mr. Harry Hill will give them a party this evening in Nashville. ... Miss Isabelle White (Old Uncle Billy's daughter) is to unite her fate with Mr. Collier tomorrow evening. ..."

Mrs. Agerton: We have a number of letters naming the children of each family, and whom they married, and also telling of the different ones who had died. Cholera was bad, they wrote, but was no nearer to them than Paducah. At the close of a letter, written in 1842, the writer said, "Give my regards to Asa Richards and Family." From one written in 1848 we learned that Vince Wade had moved to Texas, water of the Trinity, in the fall; then returned to Kentucky on a visit, took sick and died there, but his family remained in Texas.

CHARACTER

Miss Dulaney: The appearance, disposition, and character of our ancestors, unless they are famous men, are difficult to come by. Letters and diaries are probably the best source since the writer reveals himself unconsciously. And sometimes the writer speaks of other people. For example:

"Henry, I am truly glad to hear that you have got to loving girls. Henry, you can't realize the love of a nice girl until you are put off among strangers. I spent many lonesome hours when I first came to Texas."

"Zack Alford was married on the 21st of June to a Miss Thorton. He beat himself bad. She is a nice lady aged 16 but I don't see what she can promise herself for just what anyone is when a boy that is what they will be when men. He hasn't got a cent to save his life and not much of anything else."

Mrs. Grammer: Mrs. Grammer's son seemed delighted with Tennessee, for in 1829 he wrote his mothers, "I am pleased with this state and also the People. We have very good Society among us. ... We have fine young ladies here. There is a ball every two or three weeks."

In 1836 he commented on the newly arrived doctor, "I have seen Dr. Thompson since he arrived in this neighborhood and am most pleased with him, an intelligent young gentleman and is enabled to pursue the proper course through life to insure his success."

LOCAL HISTORY AND SOCIAL CUSTOMS

Miss Dulaney: The incidents of local history and the manners in which people lived are of more interest to the historian than to the genealogist, yet we can learn a lot about our ancestors when we know the kind of activities in which they engaged.

"From what I can find out there is not the whiskey used in the country in Texas there is in the old States. Perhaps there is in the cities. Since I have been in the state I have never seen but one or two drunken men."

"We have always hired our teachers and would not have any but the very best. It cost us a great deal. We believe it would pay in the long run. In the place of boarding our children and sending them from home, it was cheaper to hire our teacher."

"Ann, I can beat ma a smoking. Do you smoke, Dink?"

Mrs. Grammer: "Franklin, Tenn., 3 Sept. 1836. ... Gen. Jackson passed through here this week from Florence, on his way to the Hermitage. He had great respect showed to him by the citizens of this county."

"Franklin, Tenn., August 1836. ... Some little excitement occasioned by the candidates for the legislature - Judge Stewart and James Hogan are the only ones. The Van Buren men are running Judge Stewart. ... I have no doubt Hogan will be elected. Many bets are being offered. Gen. Jackson causes a good deal of excitement by his endeavors in favor of Van Euren."

In May 1830, Mrs. Grammer's son wrote, "Mother, I send you cloth for my pantaloons and round about. I will get sister to make my shirts. By making the above mentioned clothes you will confer on me a very great favour." (The sister he mentioned was his sister-in-law.)

Mrs. Agerton: The following expressions came from some old letters written in 1843: "Times are tolerably good. We have the best crops, it is thought there will be more corn raised in this County than ever before. Tobacco has been injured by the rain."

From 1871 letters: "Everything has come down the best prints can be bought for 10¢ per yd. domestic is down to 12¹/₂¢, bacon is 10¢ per pound and corn 50¢ a bushel."

AMUSING INCIDENTS

Miss Dulaney: Some things in letters were intended to amuse the recipient, and others were unconscious, or are funny now in current day circumstances.

A little poking-fun-at-myself seems to be evident in "I am getting tolerable old, but I do not use specks yet. I feel right old some times, but I can milk yet."

Mrs. Grammer: From a letter written from Virginia to Jack in Tennessee in 1832: "Dear Jack ... I told you if you went away before you saw her, you would be disappointed. I mean Miss Susanna. She married Mr. James M. Perkins on the 21 of June. Jack, I don't like it much. I'd rather have you for a nephew than him."

Brother writing to brother in 1833: "Old Peter R. Bison has played the devil and all, he has turned to be a counterfeiter."

Friend to friend in 1836: "Amanda says you could have a fair chance at Elizabeth now if you could choke the old lady off. ... Your old friend Miss Emma is still fishing about and Amanda says she will fish a good while unless you take pity on her. She would make a first rate old nurse."

Nov. 4, 1835 - Son in Tennessee writing to his mother in Virginia: "I understand from a letter that Jack wrote to Buck that he had a very serious notion of going to Texas but I would advise him not to go there now at any rate for war is preparing between Texas and Mexico. ... It is very doubtful how it will be decided."

Mrs. Agerton: I was amazed at the long words used to express some of the most common things. In 1846 when the old grandfather died, his son wrote to his sisters in Texas; "Father departed this life last December twelve months. The disease which terminated his peregrination here below, and unfolded to his unincumbered Spirits a view of the celestial scenes and delectable felicities held in reservation for the faithful, was inflammation of the lungs."

Miss Dulaney: Letters also present problems of many kinds. Nicknames used therein can give much trouble. Who is Toodie? Dink? Some families are more prone to use nicknames than others. Abbreviations such as Tom M, Sis B, can probably be placed from the family chart you work with when reading the letter, or from census records.

Do not confine your reading of old letters to those of your family. Any that were written by people living in the same neighborhood as your family may make reference to your family. Such a sentence as "Tell Will Owen and Jo Stalling I have been looking for a letter from them," locates the Owen and Stalling family in Alabama and would indicate their age as approximately that of the writer. So read all the old letters than you can come across.

GLEANINGS

By Mildred Dulaney

On October 16, 1962 Fremont Rider died. He was editor, poet, publisher, short story writer, printer, economist, real estate developer, educational philanthropist, librarian, dramatist, writer of non-fiction, inventor, architect and genealogist. The following quotation is from the Library Journal, December 1, 1962, "Among 'diversions' genealogy was Fremont's one love. In 1945, he wrote a friend: 'A piece of honest genealogical investigation, based on original source materials, comes nearer to being pure historical research than half the doctoral dissertations in the field.' As early as 1934, he started the American Genealogical-Biographical Index, housed since 1950 in the Godfrey Memorial Library. And in 1959, '...having spent part of this (his) time for nearly thirty years in the endeavor to assist others to do this genealogical work more easily and efficiently, he (writing in the third person as usual) thought he would like to try to do a bit of it himself.' The result was three volumes of Preliminary Materials of the Genealogy of the Rider (Ryder) Families in the U.S. He was then in his seventies, and one wonders if he really knew what he was getting into, for he coped with 49 independent families -- and 'several thousand "strays"' members. In all he inspected over 20,000 printed volumes of genealogy and local histories and '2,000 volumes of manuscript probate and vital records' in preparation." The cause of genealogy has suffered a loss in the death of Fremont Rider.

John Fiske said in Old Virginia and Her Neighbors (Boston, Houghton Mifflin, 1897) "Without genealogy the study of history is comparatively lifeless." A different point of view was expressed by the uninterested member of an otherwise genealogically inclined family. He told a woman contemplating taking up the study, "Don't do it. Genealogy is not a hobby but a disease and the result is as bad as taking dope."

The Mississippi Genealogical Exchange has changed headquarters from Washington, D.C. to 314 Louisville Street, Starkville, Miss. Beginning with Volume VIII the subscription list will be limited to 200 subscribers. If you wish to be one of that 200, act promptly before the lists are closed. Price is $4.00 per year.

Texana is the name of a new publication dedicated to the collection of facts, reminiscences, incidences and articles of historical significance in the dramatic life of early Texas. The price for this new quarterly is $3.00 per year and subscriptions should be sent to Davis Bros. Publishing Co., P. O. Box 1684, Waco, Texas.

New Orleans Genesis, official publication of the Genealogical Research Society of New Orleans, is a quarterly of over 100 pages per issue. The first issue, January 1962, is out of print but may be reprinted if there are sufficient subscribers. The $5.00 per year subscription price is a bargain for the basic genealogical data furnished.

And thanks to Mr. W. E. Roberts who, by his generous cash donation, helped the Genealogical Division of the Fort Worth Public Library purchase California censuses. All of 1850, 1860, 1870 and half of 1880 are waiting for you to read them.

And thanks to Rebecca Smith Lee for including in her new book, "Mary Austin Holley, a biography," relationship charts of the Austin-Phelps-Holley families. Incidentally this book is well worth reading.

And thanks to everyone who has, in any way, helped with the Bulletin this past year.

ANOTHER GIFT TO F. W. G. S.

Another valuable genealogical gift has come to our Society -- the Marriage Records of Greene County, Ga. (1782-1825) and Oglethorpe County, Ga. (1795-1852) compiled by Mrs. Herschel W. Smith.

We feel deeply indebted to Mr. James Edwards of Atlanta, a member of our Society, who reproduced the records and sent them to us. Just as soon as an index to the names of the brides can be made, the records will be placed in the Genealogical Division of the Fort Worth Public Library, which is the depository for all such material sent us.

PROBATE RECORDS - NAVARRO COUNTY, TEXAS

Navarro County was created and organized 1846 from Robertson County, and was named for Jose Antonio Navarro, Texas patriot and signer of the Texas Declaration of Independence. THE LEGEND OF MARY ARMSTRONG

The legend of Mary Armstrong, with known facts woven in, is a story with many unanswered questions.

Mary Armstrong was born in Scotland about 1812. She came to America with her parents who settled in Quebeck, Canada, where they became owners of silk mills.

She was first married to David D. Middleton in Quebec on July 5, 1833.

The history of the Middleton family sounds much like many other families -- There were three brothers, who came from England to the new world: Charles Middleton who went to British Honduras; Andrew to New Orleans; and David to Canada, thence to Texas where he received a league of land in 1838 for having served in the Texas Army.

Three children were born to David D. and Mary A. Middleton: Mary Jane Middleton, who married twice - (1) Pryor Bryon (2) B. F. Barrow, Sr.; David D. Middleton, married Mary Ellen (Mollie) Moss; and Sarah Ann Middleton, married B. F. Barrow, Jr.

After the death of her first husband Mary Armstrong married Malcolm Chisholm, a Scotsman. The license was issued in Galveston, Texas, on July 17, 1841. To this union was born a daughter, named Anne. She married F. A. Hankammer.

Malcolm Chisholm was a boatman, turned farmer who had received a homestead certificate on Nov. 4, 1844, for 640 acres of land in Harris County, Texas, for reason that he had resided in the Republic of Texas three years. He was listed as head of the household in the 1850 census, but was gone by 1860. Family tradition is that Malcolm Chisholm was restless and followed the gold rush westward. He was never heard of again. (Did he make "Pike's Peak or bust"?)

In January - February of 1877, a smallpox epidemic claimed the lives of all four children, a daughter-in-law, and four grand children of Mary Armstrong. The grandchildren who survived were Archibald David Middleton, Ella Anna Hankammer, Benjamin Everett Barrow, Solomon Ewing Barrow, and Mary Permillia Barrow.

Mary Armstrong died alone, sitting in her rocking chair, on Nov. 7, 1878, a widow twice over, with none of her four children living, and only five grandchildren and two sons-in-law left as next of kin.

I think she died of a broken heart -- this great-great-grandmother of mine, Mary Armstrong.

GLEANINGS

By Mildred Dulaney

We read once of someone who searched long and diligently to locate the family and finally was successful when an old school book was found in an attic with a name, date and place scribbled on the flyleaf. This provided the needed clue.

It is in hopes that someone else will find useful the same kind of information that the following notes have been copied from the fly-leaves of some old books.

Locke's Essays published 1716 - "Blackwell. Div. Johan Evan, Cant. Alumn. 1717." On the opposite leaf, "E. C. Rowan, Cartersville, Ga."

National Fifth Reader, published 1860. "Lizzie B. Dixon, Harrisburg, Penn. Anna S. Dixon. Frank Ross, Council Bluff." On opposite leaf -- "Council Bluffs Journal - At the home of the bride on the morning of the 12th inst. by Bishop Vana, Miss Sima (Serma?) B. Ross to Willie C (V?) ought Byard." (Byard has been scribbled over and may not be correct.)

Boeuf's French Grammar, published 1834 -- "Clara H. Bridgman Sept. 10" 1838."

Aeschylus Eumenides, published 1853 -- "John S. Wallace, Lexington Ky. 1885 February"

Dictionary of the Bible, published 1870 -- "Geo. M. Brush, Baxter Springs, Kansas, April 20th 1870"

Swinton - Language Primer, published 1879 - "Alla Mountcastle, McKinney, Texas, 1885 -- Alla is a bad girl."

Brook's Ovid, published 1853 -- "Benjamin H. Anthony's Book." In pencil in a different handwriting -- "Coppehusic High School, Glouster County Virginia." In the original ink handwriting -- "Presented to Alexr Hogg by Benjn H. Anthony, Dec. 4th 1854"

Plutarch's Lives, no date -- "Jennie Clarke Edrington, Henry Clay Edrington." On opposite page -- "Jennie C. Edrington, Brazos County, Texas, Jany. 20th 1869"

Creeds and Confessions published by the Presbyterian Board of Publication -- "T. Lacy Worston, Fort Carbon, Sep. 26, 1869."

Georgii Buchanan's Paraphrasis Psalmorum Davidis, published 1737 -- Bookplate "Charles Areskine, of Alva, Esq., Lord Justice Clerk."

FROM THE EDITOR --

Someone once said, "The early census takers were marvels when it came to spelling." And I say - so were the county clerks, the ship clerks, and just about every person in public office in our earlier days. It is evident that the question "How do you spell it?" so frequently asked today was never said. Now I am wondering just when people began to be concerned about the spelling of their names.

Frank X. Tolbert, writing in the Dallas Morning News on January 20, 1963, points out that some of our Texas towns were named by poor spellers. There was a Mrs. Eugenia McGloin who donated five acres for a railroad station and intended to name it for herself - Eugenia or Eugene, but the hired sign painter spelled it YOUGEEEN and so it remained. Mr. Tolbert's favorite mis-spelled town is WHON in Coleman County. It was meant to be JUAN in honor of a well-known cowhand of Latin ancestry.

An item in the Waco News-Tribune under the date of January 24, 1963, is headed "Your Name May be Clue to Your Age." Very interesting observation, but not novel to a genealogist. Popular names for girls today, so the writer says, are Lori, Cari, Billye, Cheryl, and Jackie. Such hyphenated double names as Mary-Lee and Jo-Anne are being used. Current favorite names for boys include Kevin, Sean, Colin, Brian, and Keith. He also comments that sons are no longer "juniors;" instead they have II, III, IV after their names. So right he is.

And more about names -- don't forget to send in your queries with names, names and names.

Thanks for reading!

F. W. G. S. MEETING IN MARCH

On March 25 in the auditorium of the Continental National Bank at 7:30 P.M., we are to have the pleasure of having Mr. Max W. Ulery, Director of the Federal Records Center, with us again. He will tell us about the Center in its new location at 4900 Hemphill.

Then we shall have a member-participation program on "Success in Your Search." What success have you had in the past year in research on your family lines? Or the lines of others whom you were helping? Where did you find the records? What led you to search those records? Have you found anything to help you in our Bulletin or in the exchange bulletins in the library? Have you had assistance from another member of the Society?

In order to give everyone an opportunity to present his findings, please limit your report to three minutes, but do come prepared to take part.

"Genealogical research doesn't call for a lot of expensive equipment -- just a notebook, a few pencils, an inquisitive mind, and a willingness to ask questions, and dig for facts."

T C H S - F W G S MEETING

The combined meeting of the Tarrant County Historical Society and the Fort Worth Genealogical Society at Texas Christian University, Monday evening, February 25, preceded by a buffet dinner, was entertaining and educational.

Dr. Nevil E. Neal and Dr. Ben H. Proctor, associate professors of history at the University, discussed Texas during and after the War Between the States. These two young professors make history as exciting as a show-stopping act on Broadway. They work well together and the excitement of their historical story never lets down. They are eager to tell of their discoveries in research, and they make history a living thrilling experience for their audience.

When the members of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society present in the audience were asked to stand, it was gratifying to see the great number of genealogists present. The gracious, soft-spoken president of the historical society, Mrs. Will Collins, extended an invitation to the genealogists to meet with the historical society again at some future date.

THE FIRST FIFTEEN YEARS OF ORGANIZED MONTAGUE COUNTY, TEXAS

By Renne Allred, Jr., Bowie, Texas

Montague County, Texas, was created out of Cooke County by an act of the Legislature in 1857. It was named after Colonel Daniel Montague, who was District Land Surveyor at Gainesville when the County was created. The county was organized August 2, 1858, and held its first election on that date.

The county has had three courthouses. The first was built in 1858-59 and was a log building. It burned on February 25, 1873, and all of the records of the county were forever lost, except in those instances where old instruments were re-recorded, and they are scattered throughout many volumes purchased after the fire. For fifteen years thereafter the county records were housed in two buildings in the town of Montague, which was and is the county seat. In 1888 a new native stone building was erected. In 1911 this building was so severely damaged by a windstorm the structure had to be torn down. The present courthouse, a red brick structure, was commenced in 1912 and completed in 1913.

In 1958 my law partner, Marvin F. London, the present county judge, spent many months preparing a record of the county and precinct officials during the period from 1858 to 1958, which is believed to be correct, and with his permission there is submitted here the early officials of the county.

The first County Judge was William Fanning, elected June 25, 1866 and served through 1869. He was also the first Chief Justice in 1858 and 1859, was County Clerk in 1860 and 1861, and later served as a Justice of the Peace.

There were three other Chief Justices, as follows: Jesse P. Quinn, 1860-64; M. Gilbert, 1864-65; and Thomas L. Wade, 1865-66.

Under the Constitution of 1869, a Police Court, composed of five Justices of the Peace, one of whom was Chief Justice, controlled the affairs of the county. The Court sat as the Commissioners' Court, as the County court, selected all Grand Juries and jurors. Each Justice assessed the taxes in his own precinct and presided over the Justice Court of his precinct. The Police Court sat as an Appeal Court in all election contests. Each Justice was elected for a term of four years. This Constitution was in effect from 1869 to 1876. During some part of this period, the following were Chief Justices, in addition to those previously named: J. A. Gordon, James M. Grigsby, M. M. Knight, W. T. Waybourn, and A. J. Talley.

The following, who were never Chief Justices, served as Justices: G. B. Crain, R. A. Green, John S. Love, Chesley Marlett, A. B. P. Mayfield, John Scanland, W. J. Wagnon, and L. B. White.

Serving the Court as Constables were J. R. Fitzgerald, E. A. Hart, G. Holmes, William Murrell, George McCain, H. W. Newberry, J. T. Palmer, T. J. Parr, James Stone, A. J. Tucker, and J. J. Wamick.

Montague County was not placed in a Congressional District until 1869, at which time John C. Conner of Sherman, Grayson County, was our representative. The first Congressman who lived in Montague County was elected after the turn of the century.

We had no County Attorney until 1875. The first one was A. L. Matlock, who was an attorney in the county for several years prior to 1875. Other attorneys during the first fifteen years were John Quigley, John H. Stephens, and John Scanland.

Sheriffs of the county prior to 1870 were James R. Baggett, William Brumley, J. W. Emerson, C. C. Farris, Luther C. Glass, James H. Green, Willis Lavender (the first sheriff), E. W. McCampbell, and John P. Stroud.

District Clerks during the same period were John H. Cox, Jasper Hagler, William Jeffries, and Sevier Shannon.

County Clerks were William Burnes, J. M. Cox, Marion M. Hagler, William A. Hearn, Ben Kribbs, C. C. Quillen, and Holloway Williams.

Tax Assessors-Collectors were Joseph Boydston, Charles H. Lavender, Richard Rigor, Alphonse Templeton, and Warren G. Wilkerson.

County Treasurers were David Avis (also County Commissioner, and the father of the first white child, J. D. Avis, born in Montague County), Isaac Burnett, and Wilson Gilbert.

Commissioners were J. I. Bott, Allen Bruns, Robert Edwards, Albin Gordon, Aaron Haining, Frederick Hamilton, W. M. Harper, James B. Jackson, Alexander Mayfield, Austin Morris, Archibald McDonald, W. H. Perryman, Stephen Roberts, Evan S. Singleterry, A. H. Smith, and Rufus Wheeler.

Justices of the Peace (but not under the 1858-65 Constitution) were Henry Braden, H. L. Carlin, Wilson L. Fletcher, David S. Hagler, J. E. Harrell, John W. Holding, L. W. LaForce, W. A. (Bud) Morris, Littleton Nowlen, Chas. P. Quinn, L. D. Riddles, H. Spears, R. R. Thompson, J. R. Wheeler, and L. B. White.

Three other constables for the Justice Courts were D. Booker, James M. Gibbons, and J. G. Fitzgerald.

County Surveyors were Frank M. Potty, Anderson White, and John J. Willingham.

(To be concluded in the April Bulletin)

Editor's Note: The second part of this story of Montague County will list the families who lived there during its first fifteen years.

 TITLE DEED

I, J. Henry Shaw, the grantor herein,
 Who lives at Beardstown, Cass County, within,
 For Seven hundred dollars, to me paid today,
 To Charles W. Wyman do sell and convey lot Two (2) in Block Forty (40),
 said county and town,
 Where the Illinois River flows placidly down,
 And warrant the title forever and aye,
 Waiving homestead and mansion, to both a good-bye,
 And pledging this deed is valid in law,
 I add here my signature, J. Henry Shaw.
 (Seal) Dated July 25, 1881.

I, Sylvester Emmons, who lives at Beardstown,
 A Justice of Peace of fame and renown,
 Of the County of Cass and Illinois State
 Do certify here that on this same date,
 One J. Henry Shaw to me did make known
 That the deed above and name were his own;
 And he stated he sealed and delivered the same
 Voluntarily, freely and never would claim
 His homestead therein; but left all alone,
 Turned his face to the street and his back to his home.
 S. Emmons, J.P.

GLEANINGS

by Mildred Dulaney

Congratulations to the Central Texas Genealogical Society! The Society has been fortunate in securing a grant of $4338 from the Cooper Foundation, a foundation set up in honor of Madison A. Cooper and Martha Roane Cooper. Grants are given for projects that will be of benefit to the citizens of Waco. The money will be allocated in the following way: Basic genealogical books - $2405, books by states and counties - $1533, a microfilm reader - $400. This money will enable the group to build up the genealogical collection very rapidly. Again, Congratulations for their wonderful achievement.

The Birmingham Genealogical Society is publishing two volumes of Bible and cemetery records, chiefly pioneers of Alabama, but not confined to them. Volume one is mainly Bible records (103 pp. plus 23 pp. of index) and is ready for distribution. Volume two will be larger and will be ready about the middle of March. It too will be completely indexed. Only a limited number are being printed, so order promptly from Birmingham Genealogical Society, 4320-6th Ave. So., Birmingham, Ala. The price is $5.00 each, or $9.00 if both are ordered at the same time.

"References for Searching for Loyalist Ancestors" is a bibliography published in the Tree Talks of the Central New York Genealogical Society, December, 1962. Many of the sources listed are annotated. This magazine published many original county and other records and merits the attention of anyone working on families in the central New York area.

"Index #1, Confederate Pensioners of Texas" is being published in the Austin Genealogical Society Quarterly. These veterans and widows were residents of Texas, but not always born or serving in Texas. Copying and publishing the indices will take a long time.

At the end of December a Southern Society of Genealogists was formed. Mr. Raymond Clark of Washington, D. C. is president and the other officers come from Georgia, Texas, Alabama and Florida. Applications for Founding Fellows close May 1, 1963. "Persons wishing to become members will be required to submit the following credentials: (1) A recent picture of himself; (2) Certified proof that he has completed a genealogical study; (3) a college degree or its equivalent; (4) Membership in at least four genealogical societies." Those who are interested should apply to Mrs. Frank R. Stewart, Troy, Alabama.

"The hereditary combinations capable of arising from the union of two human beings is not less than several hundred trillions. A single couple could give rise to enough offspring -- no two alike -- to people several planets."

100 YEARS AGO

Head Quarters 38th Miss March 1 1863

Dear sister I take my pen in hand to inform you that I am well at present. You must excuse me for not writing sooner. We are expecting to be paid off soon. I expect this month. I will draw seventy dollars this time. You dont know how anxious I am to hear from you. I saw Doctor Boyd the other day and had a little chat with him. I gave that letter to one of the men in the artilary and Mr. Boyd said he had not received it. I am getting used to camps and dont mind it much. Dear sister I hope we will (meet) again some time. I wrote to Cousin Emily the other day but I have never received any answer yet. I expect they will give me a furlow in the spring. We get mighty little to eat. I am getting awful tired of this company. I wish I could get a transfer into another company. We took a gunboat a few days ago. I dont think we will stay here all this spring. We have a good place to go bathing in the river. All our troops, twelve months troops time last of March. We have church here every Sunday. I hope we will camp here till next winter and I will have fun in the spring going in swimming. Dear sister you do not know how hard the duty is we have to do up here. I have been in the camp only most five months and I have never seen such hard times before. We were mustered for pay yesterday. Oh how I wish I had some butter and eggs and cakes. The officers get plenty of favors and we privates dont get any at all. We have good houses to stay in. Oh how different it would be If I had a good home. I will send some money to get some clothes when I draw dues. Sister you dont know how much help to my mind if I had some interesting books to read. I am so lonesome here. My little testament is a good friend to me. I would write oftener If I had the paper, it cannot be gotten easily.

Families of Montague County, Cont'd.

In the names listed on the foregoing pages are three who are considered outstanding early day settlers - John Scanland, Levi Perryman, and W. A. (Bud) Morris. Judge London advises that from his extensive investigation in preparing a list of all County Officials for 100 years, 1858-1958, he found that these three men who were in Montague County in 1858 were probably the most outstanding of the early day settlers and did more toward the organization of Montague County than any other three men.

John Scanland was attorney at Adora City, a town no longer in existence but which was near Bowie. He was also captain of the Texas Rangers, the County Surveyor 1860-1862, Justice of the Peace in 1874-76, and after being elected county judge in 1879, died twenty-three days later. He is buried in Montague Cemetery.

Levi Perryman was captain of the Rangers, stationed at Forestburg, and later was sheriff and Tax Collector during the years 1874-76 and 1879-80. He is buried at the Perryman Cemetery near Forestburg.

W. A. (Bud) Morris was probably the most outstanding of the three. It was he who really helped organize the county. He was elected and served in more offices than any other man. In addition to serving as captain of the Rangers stationed at Dye Mound and Deputy Sheriff, he held during his lifetime the following offices:

Justice of the Peace, 1869
 District and County Clerk, 1870-1873
 Tax Collector, 1881-1884
 County Surveyor, 1901-04; 1907-08; 1915-18; 1923-26
 County Treasurer, 1909-12
 State Representative, 1919-22

Editor's Note -- The George W. Henson listed on Page 9 was the grandfather of Renne Allred, Jr., his mother having been Mary Magdalene Henson.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We are deeply indebted to Mrs. Glen Armstrong for sending us her compilation of excerpts from the book entitled "The Scotch-Irish in History," written by the Rev. James Shaw, D.D. and published in 1899. When space in the Bulletin permits, publication of the article will be made.

Also we want to thank the Rev. Rhea Kuykendall for sending more data on the Kuykendall family to be filed with data he has previously sent.

GLEANINGS

By Mildred Dulaney

The Thursday issues of the Jackson (Mississippi) Daily News now carry a column on "Family Trees." The column was started in February and queries are printed free of charge.

The Bulletin of the Central Texas Genealogical Society is being changed from a bi-monthly to a quarterly. It is felt that the bulletin would be improved by providing more time to organize and edit its contents before final draft.

Borderland Books of Anchorage, Kentucky, is reprinting a pamphlet of which there is only one known copy in existence. The pamphlet has 23 pages and contains the names of over 675 men, their rank, and comments as to the acreage to which they were entitled. The title is "A List of Officers of the Illinois Regiment, and of Crockett's Regiment Who Have Received Land for Their Services. A List of the Illinois Regiment Who Have Not Received Lands for Revolutionary Services. A List of Non Commissioned Officers and Soldiers of the Illinois Regiment, and the Western Army, Under the Command of Gen. George Rogers Clarke, Who Are Entitled to Bounty in Land. A List of Captain Francis Charloville's Volunteers Entitled to Two Hundred Acres of Land Each," by John H. Smith, Richmond, 1833. There is an introduction to the reprint by G. Glenn Clift, Assistant Director and Editor, Kentucky Historical Society. Price is $2.00 and orders should be sent to Borderland Books.

One genealogist of our acquaintance has recently taken advantage of the Greyhound Bus Company's "99 Day, $99" trip offer. He made stops and checked on family records in such places as Memphis, eastern Alabama, Atlanta and Elberton, Georgia, Washington, D.C., New York City. He then turned west and went to the Pacific making stops in several of the larger cities. On the way east again, a stop was made in Salt Lake City where so many genealogical records may be found, in Colorado, in Fort Worth where the Genealogical Department of the Public Library was consulted, and then home again. All along the route visits were made with relatives and family data collected. Other genealogists who have the time might find this an inexpensive way to do their research. Unfortunately the trip is not available in the summer, but you may wish to make plans for next fall if it is offered again.

Word has come from Mrs. Gertrude Crook Dean, Box 166, Magnolia, Texas, concerning the organizing of a Gray Family Association, with dues of $1.00 per year. There will be a publication called "Our Gray Line Bulletin." Those with Gray ancestors should write Mrs. Dean.

GLEANINGS

By Mildred Dulaney

The Dallas Local History and Genealogical Society will hold its ninth annual institute and workshop on Friday and Saturday, May 24th and 25th, at the Dallas Public Library. Members of other societies are invited. The guest speaker will be Mrs. H. A. Knorr, nationally known author, editor and compiler of many books of Virginia County Marriage records and holder of numerous offices, both active and honorary, in various hereditary and patriotic societies. On Friday evening Mrs. Knorr will speak on "Migrations Into and Out of Virginia." At a luncheon on Saturday her topic will be "Virginia Court House Records," with special emphasis on the "burnt counties," adjusting calendar changes and other problems. Other experts will be on hand to conduct seminars. Plan now to attend.

The checklist of genealogical books pertaining to "Great Britain and Ireland" prepared by the staff in the Fort Worth Public Library Southwest History and Genealogy Department has merited mention in the April, 1963, issue of The American Genealogist.

A few months ago this column announced the organization of the Permian Basin Genealogical Society. The Society has now started publishing a magazine, called The Treeshaker, with the first issue dated April, 1963. It will be a quarterly with Mrs. W. L. Pettit, Mrs. I. V. Wolf and Mrs. M. R. Manns comprising the editorial staff. Subscriptions are $1.00 per year. The plan is to include Bible records, cemetery records, family histories, queries and other articles of interest to researchers. A copy has been placed in the Genealogy Department of the Fort Worth Public Library where you may examine it.

Another new bulletin is Kansas Kin, published four times a year by the Riley County Kansas Genealogical Society. Volume 1, number 1 bears the date of January 1963. All good wishes to the group in all their endeavors.

Another magazine which has not come to our attention before, though it is in the second year of publication, is The Thompson Family Magazine. It carries abstracts of Thompsons from various censuses, various Thompson lines, queries and other items of interest to people working on Thompson lines.

Those looking for Civil War material should check the January 1963 issue of A Bulletin of Local History and Genealogy of the West Texas Genealogical Society which lists veterans buried in Taylor County, commemorative headstones placed at unmarked graves. There are also a few names listed under "Headstones Secured for Unmarked Graves of Soldiers of Other Wars."

Quoted from General Features Corporation as published in newspapers, "A genealogist is a person who traces your family history as far as your money will go."

HEMPHILLS SETTLE NEAR BASTROP IN 1835

--Bastrop Advertiser, Aug. 2, 1956

C. W. Hemphill, a farmer of Bastrop County, was born on the farm where he still resides, Sept. 28, 1948, a son of C. M. and Elizabeth (Snoddy) Hemphill, the former a native of Ga. and the latter of Alabama.

C. M. Hemphill came to Texas with his father and family in 1835. The latter, Col. William Hemphill, settled on the Brazos River, and was accidentally killed soon afterward. He had a family of nine children: Zeno, M. L., A. B., W. A., Ulysses, Andrew, C. M., the father of our subject; Ellen, who married Captain Jack Nash, and Eloessa, who married a merchant of Bastrop, M. O. Diamond. Two of the children died before coming to Texas, and the remainder lived in this county until their deaths.

In 1836 C. M. Hemphill located the farm where his son, C. W., now resides. He was a member of the Ranger service, and suffered the privations and hardships of a pioneer life. His farm of 800 acres was well improved. His death occurred in 1862. He was married in 1845, and his wife survived him until 1874. She came to this state with an uncle, Edwin Alexander, who was robbed and killed by Mexicans.

Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill had seven children: Margaret, who married W. S. Miller, is now deceased, leaving six children; C. W., our subject; Gillespie, a resident of the old homestead; Prudence, wife of W. B. Bryant, a farmer of Bastrop County; Tony E., still unmarried; Cuba, wife of Wade Hemphill, a distant relative; and R. L., at home.

Gillespie, the second son, was married in December 1873 to Miss Alice Bryant, a daughter of William Bryant, a native of Tennessee. The latter came to Texas in 1836, and, after several changes, located in Bastrop County

County where he died about 1884. At one time he was a member of the Ranger service with Captain Jack Hays. His five children were all born in this county: Sally, J. L., Jennie, W. B., and Alice.

...From the family of Hemphill originated the name for Hemphill's Prairie. Near the center of this prairie was established a post office, cotton gin, blacksmith shop, a one-room schoolhouse, and a church. The little village was named Goodman. Mrs. G. B. Miller was the post mistress for many years. After the coming of autos and better roads, the community soon ceased to exist. About this time there was only one family of the Hemphills still residing there. The others had moved away or died.

... C. W., Gillespie and family, Lee, and Toni lived together on the original homestead, purchased as stated in 1835. ...

Gillespie Hemphill and his wife, Alice E., were the parents of nine children: one boy, William Gillespie, died in infancy; and eight girls, all of whom are still living: Annie E. married Robert Dorn Burleson; Cora Lynn married S. L. Brannon; Nora Glenn married Russell Berry; Beulah Alice married Hartford Jenkins; Florence Gertrude married Samuel T. Hillman; Claude Eugenia married William Robert Price; Stella Ernest married William Stoker Watson; and Kate Kimbrough who married Frank James Swartz.

Robert J. Price was one of Bastrop County's best loved pioneers. Read the tribute to him in the July 1963 Genealogical Society Bulletin.

UNION PRISONERS OF WAR at CAMP FORD, TYLER, TEXAS

Editor's Note: In the Fort Worth Public Library, Southwest Collection, there are three issues of a publication, called THE OLD FLAG, Vol. 1, Nos. 1-3, February-March 1864. The editor and publisher was J. P. Robens, one of the prisoners of war; the place of publication was given as New York.

From the Preface we learn that "THE OLD FLAG was published during an imprisonment of 13 months in Tyler, Smith County, Texas; upon a sheet of unruled paper, in imitation of print, a steel pen being employed in the absence of a Hoe Press. ... By this process but one copy could be issued of each number, which was read aloud at the various cabins by some member of the Mess, and when all had read, or heard it read, the same was returned by the Subscriber to the Office of Publication." A list of officers who were prisoners appeared in the issue of Feb. 17, 1864. In the folder with the three issues is a printed list of the officer prisoners. No explanation of the printed list is given.

The following list, giving rank, name, company, where captured, and when was compiled from both the hand-printed list and the machine printed list:

Those working on the Civil War may want to consult Guide to Federal Archives Relating to the Civil War by Kenneth W. Munden and Henry P. Beers. Ask for it in the Business and Technology Division of the Fort Worth Public Library under this number: GS 4.6/2:C49. Having the number avoids a delay while it is looked up, since only the number enables the attendant to locate the book. A Guide to the Archives of the Government of the Confederate States of America is being compiled and will be published at a future date.

New Mexico Genealogist for April 1963 has "Tips for Longevity of Microfilm" which every user of microfilm should read.

Genealogical Newsletter and Research Aids is valuable because of the indexes printed. The Spring 1963 issue has an index to "Miscellaneous Bible Records" and "Newly-Published County Histories." The name of this magazine is being changed to Genealogical Annual Index to Periodicals and Family Histories. We are all grateful to Inez Waldenmaier for her fine work along these lines.

Congratulations to the Seattle Genealogical Society which celebrated its fortieth anniversary on April 30th!

The Kansas City Genealogist (April 1, 1963) has published "Some Sources of Genealogical Material in Iowa" which lists material by geographical location, including the cities of Des Moines, Iowa City, Washington, Segourney, Delta, Oskaloosa, Knoxville, Chariton.

The first issue of the Graham Leader was published August 16, 1876. A complete file has been given to the Fort Belknap Archives and is available for research on Young County families.

The Central Texas Genealogy Society is taking pre-publication orders for McLennan County, Texas, Marriage Records, 1850-1870. The book will be limited to 300 copies, with a choice of two covers -- paperback at $3.75 or clothbound at $5.50. Order from the Society, % Waco Public Library, 1717 Austin Avenue, Waco 1, Texas.

A new quarterly in Texas -- "Genealogical Tips," Vol. 1 No. 1, published by the Tip-O'-Texas Genealogical Society, Harlingen, made its debut in May.

"Do genealogists, professional and amateur alike, realize that many attempts are being made to close vital records to public use, or set fees for examining them?" asks the New England Historical and Genealogical Register in the April issue. A report there indicates that some records in Connecticut have been closed to the public. Only prompt action in Massachusetts exempted professional genealogists from a $5000 bond and a license fee of $500 for the first year and $200 per year after that. Let us be alert to see that such laws are not passed in other states. A small fee where our tax dollars have not helped pay for the creation of records might be in order, but not sums of hundreds of dollars.

CIVIL WAR GRAVES LISTED BY COUNTY SURVEY GROUP

--Mineral Wells Index (Texas) * - Jan. 21, 1963

Fourteen Civil War Graves -- all Confederate -- have been reported to the Palo Pinto County Historical Survey Committee, according to Jake Varnell, chairman.

However, Varnell points out that the following information about each Civil War veteran must be obtained in order to secure a marker for the grave:

Name, rank, birth place, location of grave, unit number and date of death.

This information is passed on to Washington where it is confirmed, Varnell said.

The county committee is part of a state-wide program to stimulate greater historical tourish interest in Texas.

Medallions will be placed at the County's historical sites. Special markers will be placed at the Civil War graves.

Here is a list of Civil War Veterans and burial places reported to Varnell:

Jim Bradford, Dobbs Valley Cemetery; Charles Carlin, McAdams Cemetery; W. J. Caviness, Staggs Prairie Cemetery.

J. O. Couger, burial place not listed; William J. Creighton, East Hubbard Cemetery; A. W. Dobbins, Blue Spring Cemetery; Reece Edmondson, Sr., Hittson Cemetery; Dillard Goen, Goen Cemetery; Louis Goen, Goen Cemetery; James Alexander Pharris, Oran Cemetery; Marcus L. Sell, Rock Creek Baptist Church Cemetery.

Children: John D., Johnson; Mary Ann, Sarah Elizabeth, and M. D. Johnson Kittrell married into the Howell family in Ark., and later moved to Texas. Any data will be appreciated; letters will be answered.

FROM THE EDITOR --

Big correction for each of you to make -- numbering of the Bulletins, for I've bungled them woefully. No, I was not asleep; just became confused with the fiscal year of our Society and the publication year of the Bulletin. The twelve issues of 1962 make up Volume 5, numbers 1 (January) through 12 (December). January 1963 begins Volume 6. Thus this June issue is Vol. 6 No. 6. The whole number also was wrong in the August 1962 issue. It should have read 64 --- No alibi. Funny thing - only one reader wrote me about the errors. I truly appreciated that letter.

A note from our President, Mr. Chalmers W. Hutchison, who is out of the city at this writing, tells me that he and Mrs. Abby Moran went to the annual Book Fair held in Fort Worth, and after inspection of the books offered bought the following publications to present to the Library in the name of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society:

- Who's Who in the South and Southwest, 1956 edition.
- Connecticut State Register, 1951 edition.
- The Junior Aggie Yearbook of North Texas Agricultural College for the years 1942, 1943, 1944, 1946, 1947, 1948
- TXWECO, 1941 edition (annual of Texas Wesleyan College)

The recent cool days found me at my favorite pastime - copying inscriptions in cemeteries. Soon all of Tarrant and Parker counties will be completed. The project has taken longer than we contemplated; yet when we stop to think that all of us doing the copying are busy people, perhaps we ought to say, very busy people, and that the weather controls our work to a great extent, maybe we have done well. Another two years ought to see the job finished. It is interesting, rewarding work and definitely an important field for genealogical research.

Thanks for reading.

"BOB" PRICE ONE OF COUNTY'S BEST LOVED PIONEERS

A Tribute to Hon. Robert J. Price by Eva H. Karling

--Pioneer Homecoming edition, Bastrop Advertiser,
Aug. 2, 1956

Among the men who helped to make Bastrop County (Texas) well known for progress, and his own community of Hills Prairie, a center of Christian culture, was "Bob" Price as he was known and loved to be called.

Mr. Price came to Texas from Mississippi as a boy of 15 and lived for a while in the home of his uncle, Major A. Woods Moore. He later returned to Mississippi and was married to Miss Sallie Mitchell, in Aberdeen, Miss. They came to Texas and made a home where the atmosphere was fragrant with hospitality and good cheer.

Ten children were born to them. The eldest, Robert E. married Miss Bettie Trigg. He died in 1900. Tom Price died while a student of A&M College. Joseph B., who served the county as a judge, married Katie Thompson. Worth (or J.W.) .., married Mary Leigh Burleson of San Saba. Charlie Price died in 1912. Stella, the only daughter died at the age of 13 in 1886. David Price married Lassie Green. Wesley Wright Price is a captain in the U. S. Army.

Robert J. Price served in the Confederate army, a member of the 8th Texas Cavalry, Terry's Texas Rangers. He was a devout Christian, a member of the Methodist Church . . . He served the county in the Legislature for ten terms. . .

Mr. Price was a cousin of General Price of Missouri. In "Early Settlers of Alabama" by Saunders, I find that Chas. Price was living near Richmond, Va., in 1785. He had two sons, Robert and William. William moved to Missouri and was the father of General Sterling Price. . . Robert was married in 1806 in Charlotte Co., Va., to Frances, a daughter of Rev. John Chapell, a Methodist preacher.

In 1819 Robert Price sent out some of his slaves to Lawrence Co., Ala., and he followed with his family in 1820. . . He died in 1824. His third son, Robert J., married Martha A., the daughter of Major James Moore of Aberdeen, Miss. Our Mr. Robert J. Price was their eldest son.

Ralph E. Pearson reports that the Austin American Statesman plans to publish a weekly genealogical column. He asks that people send in queries and material which can be used in such a column. Mr. Pearson is editor of the column and is also the newly-elected president of the Austin Genealogical Society. Write him in care of the newspaper or at 2218 Alta Vista Avenue, Sherwood Oaks, Austin 4, Texas.

The Bulletin of the Local History and Genealogical Society of Dallas for March and June has a very helpful and informative article by Mrs. Harry Joseph Morris on "finding Our Immigrant Ancestors." It is 28 pages of very practical information on where to search, meaning of terms, public records of various kinds with data and dates included.

The same two issues of the Dallas Bulletin also have a very interesting article by Banks McLaurin, Jr. on "Highland Scotch Settlements in the Carolinas."

The State Board of Public Works of Maryland has authorized an appropriation for the preparation of an analytical index of the first fifty five volumes of the Maryland Historical Magazine covering the years 1906 through 1960. There is no indication of when the work will be completed but such a big job will take some time.

Most genealogists realize the value and importance of church records in their search for those elusive ancestors. On the whole such records have not been copied and published as extensively as marriages, wills, and other civil records. Even to locate depositories of church records is sometimes difficult and frustrating. A start might be made by consulting The American Archivist of October, 1961, the whole issue of which is devoted to church records. The articles are: "American Church Archives --An Overview" by Mabel E. Deutrich; "The Struggle of Church Archives for Respectability" by August R. Suelflow; "Catholic Archives and Manuscript Collections" by Thomas T. McAvoy; "The Moravian Archives at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania" by Kenneth G. Hamilton; "The Records of the Moravian Mission in Labrador" by W. H. Whiteley; "Protestant Episcopal Church Archives" by Dorman H. Winfrey; "Methodist Archives in the United States" by William E. Lind; "The Baptist Sunday School Board and Its Records" by Belden Menkus; "A Manual for Church Archivists" by Melvin Gingerich; and "The Small, Limited, or Specialized Church Archives" by Pascal Marie Varieur.

Another article along the same lines appeared in the National Genealogical Society Quarterly for December, 1962. There Edwin Schell writes about "Sources for Genealogical Research in Methodist Records."

Be sure to take a look at the "Perfect Genealogist" as displayed by the Genealogy Department of the Fort Worth Public Library. His anatomy includes everything from a filing case mind to fingers that end in pencils. It may take some help from the geneticists to produce such a genealogist!

AUGUST MEETING OF FWGS CANCELLED

There will be no meeting of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society in August. Plans had been made to hold a luncheon meeting August 26, in honor of Mrs. Abby Moran, head of the Southwest and Genealogical Department of the Fort Worth Public Library, who is retiring in August.

It was our understanding that Mrs. Moran would be in the library through the month of August, and thus we went ahead with the arrangements as a surprise measure for her. However, when she returned from Washington, where she had attended the Institute of Genealogy, she told us that she and her husband were leaving on August 22 for an extended trip. After due consideration it was decided not to move up the date of the proposed meeting, but to accord Mrs. Moran the honor later in the year.

We wish for the Morans a delightful vacation and safe traveling everywhere they may go.

MRS. CHAS. L. SARRAZIN, SPEAKER AT JUNE MEETING OF F. W. G. S.

At the June meeting of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society, Mrs. Chas. L. Sarrazin spoke on the "Aspects of Research in North Carolina." Incidentally, that state was the home of her paternal ancestors and therefore is very "dear to her heart."

She pointed out the early areas of settlements: Eastern North Carolina, the scene of the first settlement in Virginia, as the territory at the time Sir Walter Raleigh tried to colonize Roanoke Hundred; the much heralded Cape Fear region settled by the Scots; the Quaker settlement in Guilford and Orange Counties, led by one Thomas Hunt from Pennsylvania; and the colony of Presbyterians in Mechlenburg County, well-known because of the Mechlenburg Declaration of Independence.

Mrs. Sarrazin read a very interesting account of Raleigh's Colony found in the pamphlet, called FORT RALEIGH NATIONAL HISTORIC SITE and published by the United States Department of the Interior.

"...Raleigh's first colony, consisting of 108 persons, departed from Plymouth, England, April 9, 1585, under the command of his cousin, Sir Richard Grenville. A settlement was made on the north end of Roanoke Island; and Ralph Lane, a connection of the English Royal family, was made governor, while Grenville returned to England for supplies. Lane built Fort Raleigh calling it simply 'the new Fort in Virginia.' . . .

"Grenville's supply was late in returning to Roanoke. Open war with the Indians ensued and food became scarce. When on June 10, 1586, Sir Francis Drake en route from the West Indies, anchored off the coast near Roanoke with a mighty fleet of 23 ships, many of the settlers were dissatisfied with colonial life ... and Drake took the surviving members of the colony back to England.

"Shortly afterwards, Sir Richard Grenville arrived at Roanoke. He found the colony gone. After searching for it elsewhere on the coast in vain, he left 15 men on the island with provisions for 2 years to hold the country for Queen Elizabeth, and returned to England.

"Raleigh's second colony, consisting of 150 men, women, and children, arrived at Roanoke Island in the latter part of July 1587, under the government of John White and 12 assistants, incorporated as the 'Governor and Assistants of the citie of Raleigh in Virginia.' They found only the bones of one of Grenville's men. The fort had been razed, but the houses were standing. ...

"The old houses were repaired and new cottages built. August 13, pursuant to Sir Walter Raleigh's orders, the friendly Indian Chief, Manteo, was baptized and created Lord of Roanoke. On the 18th, Eleanor, daughter of Governor White and wife of Assistant Ananias Dare, gave birth to a daughter who was christened Virginia, because she was the first English child born in 'Virginia.'

"After some wrangling among the assistants, it was decided that Governor White should return to England for supplies. He found England in imminent danger of invasion by Spain and could not return to Roanoke as soon as he had expected. ...

THIS DAY IN TEXAS

By Curtis Bishop

A Texas couple received a marriage license on July 16, 1837 -- probably the first issued over the seal of the Republic of Texas.

The Texas congress had passed a statute regulating marriages within the new nation appropriately enough during June, the traditional month of brides. It seems highly unlikely that a whole month passed before anyone took advantage of the new law, but at any rate the oldest license on record bearing the seal of the Republic was granted to Hugh McCrory and Mary Smith who were married a week later by the Reverend H. Matthews, a Methodist minister.

The traditional "they lived happily ever after" cannot be tacked on the end of this story, however. Young McCrory, a Kentuckian who had come to Texas with Felix Huston's volunteers and later established himself in business in the thriving new city of Houston, died less than two months after his marriage.

And the widow returned to her family home where a newcomer in Texas was boarding. Three years later the widow married the boarder and thus became the wife of Anson Jones, last president of the Republic of Texas.

The earliest recorded marriage in the Lone Star domain took place among members of LaSalle's expedition.

GLEANINGS

By Mildred Dulaney

When you come across the phrase "Lares and Penates," do you realize that the family Lares or Lars were held to be the souls of the ancestors, who watched over and protected their descendants?

Not many genealogists of today have the attitude which caused Giovanni Batiste Basile (1575-1632) to deride them in the lines quoted below -- and the change is a healthy one. The quotation is from Il Pentamerone: of The Tale of Tales, being a translation by Sir Richard Burton, from Giovanni Batiste Basile. New York, Boni and Liveright, 1927, pp. 95-96.

But what wilt thou say of a genial man
 Who treadeth on the air,
 Whose self-conceit is great,
 Who boasteth of himself
 And of his ancient race,
 Referring to Achilles or Alexander,
 And all the day draweth trees of genealogy,
 And from a chestnut-bough
 Bringeth forth an holm:
 Writing all the day,
 Stories and biographies
 Of fathers who never had children:
 Insisting that a vendor of oil by quart
 Is noble in his quarters:
 With privileges, upon parchment writ,
 Hung in a smoky place, so as to seem old,
 To feed his self-esteem, and overbearing pride.
 He buyeth a mausoleum,
 And hath engraved thereon a lengthened epitaph,
 With praise of virtues which have birth in the clouds;
 And prayeth well for stock
 To amend his worn old coat;
 Willingly giveth to put new bells
 Into a church-steeple;
 And to lay a new foundation
 In a tumbling old house
 Wasteth on stones his gold.
 But put him in the crucible,
 And thou wilt see, that he who delayeth longer,
 And he who pretendeth more,
 And weareth sumptuous robes,
 And exacteth more encomium,
 His hands have yet the corns of when he worked the fields.

The other day I picked up a copy of the South Carolina Historical Magazine and discovered some marriage and death records abstracted from newspapers. Since it was a continued article, I tried to go back to the beginning, only to discover that such articles from various papers and by various abstracters had been published continuously since 1916 and possibly before. There is a gap in the files of the Fort Worth Public Library so the actual beginning date could not be ascertained.

FORT RALEIGH

"When at length in August 1591 Governor White returned to Roanoke Island, he found the colony had disappeared. The houses had been taken down and the place of settlement enclosed with a high palisade, with curtains and flankers very fort-like. One prominent tree or post at the right side of the entrance to the palisade had the bark peeled off and on it was engraved in capital letters the word CROATOAN, without the cross mark, the signifying distress that White had agreed should be used in the event of difficulties or enforced departure. White concluded that the colonists, including his granddaughter and another child born in Virginia to Mr. Harvie, would be found on Croatoan Island (modern Ocracoke) south of Cape Hatteras ... but the tragic mystery of what became of the 'Lost Colony' has never been solved." ...

CORRECTIONS

Price family in Alabama -- EARLY SETTLERS IN ALABAMA was written many years ago, and all genealogists have not been particular to separate fact from supposition, a glaring error as stated in the above cited volume.*

Years of careful research, comparison of records, et al, has yielded an almost complete record of all descendants of Pugh Price 1st, of Henrico and Prince Edward counties, Va. It is therefore quite well-known and documented, recorded, etc., that his youngest child was born soon after his death and named by his mother (...) Pugh Williamson Price.

This Pugh Williamson Price was the father of General Sterling Price, who had a genial nature, and indiscriminately welcomed all surnamed Price as his "cousins" - which perhaps if one went far enough back they might be.

There is record, also, of the progeny of Pugh Williamson Price as well as of each of his brothers and sisters of the whole as well as the half-blood.

It is hoped that the libraries will make note that the Charles, with sons Robert & William spoken of (in) the EARLY SETTLERS OF ALABAMA did not produce through his son William, General Sterling Price.

Neither the direct progeny of Pugh Price, I, nor to date, that of his only brother (John of Goochland) to leave progeny, can account for the Charles cited. It has taken an exhaustive, detailed study to be able to make such a statement, yet unless additional evidence is uncovered the parentage of that Charles is undetermined, to date.

Sincerely

/s/ Margaret Scruggs Carruth

Editor's Note: Thanks, Mrs. Carruth, for these corrections.

By Iva Dell Cochran Hudson

A Cochran reunion was held in Tupelo and Belden, Miss., on June 16, 1963, at the 175 year-old home. The materials for the old house, which was built by our great grandfather and his sons, was hauled by oxcart from Nashville, Tenn. One of the grandsons, Murry Cochran of Belden, still owns 768 acres of the original 1000 acres.

Lunch was served to 70 relatives under the huge trees planted by our grant grandfather in the five-acre yard. Many more relatives came in the afternoon, some thirteen being from out of the state of Miss.

While there I was able to bring the genealogy of the family to the present generation, and obtained copies of wills, deeds, family records, old pictures, and other such material. I prize greatly the copy of the oil portrait of great grandfather, Silas Maxwell (James) Cochran, which hangs in the old homestead.

The Old Quilt
 By Elizabeth Dobbs

This old quilt's a shabby thing
 Far past its use for covering.
 It's tattered, faded, worn, I know,
 But Mother made it long ago.
 Stitched by loving hands with care
 And bits of cloth from everywhere:
 Scraps from gowns of Joan and May
 And Carrie's graduation day;
 Party frocks of Meg and Sue
 And Grandma's robe, to name a few.
 The coverlet's an open door
 To looking through the past once more;
 Reminder of those precious years
 Of hopes and dreams, of joys and tears.
 I'll fold and store this reliquary
 Of dear and priceless memory.

GLEANINGS

By Mildred Dulaney

If all the hours spent each day by genealogists reading census records were added together, it probably would make a staggering total. Much of this time and energy could be saved if there were indexes to the census records. The 1790 records are indexed, and there are a few other indexes here and there. Some of the county histories print census records and index the whole book. Others appear from time to time, such as the 1830 census of Montgomery County, Alabama, which has just been printed in the Alabama Genealogical Register. In pamphlet or book form one may find the 1830 census of the state of Florida indexed by Aurora C. Shaw and the index by Mrs. Clarence Giles of the first census of Texas, 1819-1836. Now another valuable index is about to be added to the list, Index to U. S. Census of Georgia for 1820.

This index has been carefully compiled under the auspices of the Georgia Historical Society by a committee headed by Mrs. Eugene A. Stanley. It gives over 30,000 names of "heads of household" and the counties in which they lived. No longer will it be necessary to read the census for the whole state to find where a person lived. Check this finding list and go directly to the right county. It will be off the press September 15th and may be ordered from the Georgia Historical Society, 501 Whitaker Street, Savannah, Georgia 31401. Prepublication price is $7.50, after Sept. 15 the price will be $8.50.

It would be a most wonderful boon to genealogists everywhere if every state genealogical society would undertake the project of indexing and publishing every census available for that state.

The Ancestral Notes from Chedwato, July issue, carried "Marriage Records from a register kept by the Rev. John Alderson, Jr." This is a Baptist congregation record of the Greenbrier River area of Virginia. The dates covered are Jan. 4, 1776 through March 20, 1780.

Flint Genealogical Quarterly, Flint, Michigan, for July has an outline to follow on "Research in Old Cemeteries" by Merle G. Berry, Jr. We wish the whole talk could have been printed, for the problem is one that concerns every searcher.

The Arkansas Family Historian is beginning its second year and continues to be a fine publication. There are articles on various families, cemetery records, queries and other features.

"We are credibly infor'd, That a young Man living not far from Providence, has lately had a sudden and surprizing Produce in a numerous Offspring, such as can scarce be parrallel'd; no less than eight Boys, all Twins, born of four Women within a Fortnight's Time, being of them father'd upon him. A fine Hand this, to assist in peopling some of our new Townships, which ly desolate and unimprov'd for want of Inhabitants: and without some such Assistance may continue so, for some scores of Years. --The Boston Weekly News-Letter, August 5-12, 1742. (Quoted by Lawrence W. Towner, in his welcoming address to the Rare Books Institute, July 12)." The above item copied from Antiquarian Bookman, August 5, 1963. What a problem for some poor genealogist to cope with!

WHAT'S NEW IN SAN FRANCISCO?
A GENEALOGICAL LIBRARY
IN CIVIC CENTER

Members of Daughters of American Colonists Chapters in California have been active in the recent establishment of a Genealogical Research Center in the downtown area of San Francisco. The section has been opened unofficially in the new Department of Special Collections on the third floor of the Main Branch of the Public Library in Civic Center.

Two years ago, books on Genealogy, Heraldry and Local History which were on widely separated stacks in the Public Library were inventoried. ... It was discovered that there were over 3,000 volumes available as a nucleus for a Genealogical Section. Shortly thereafter, representatives from other patriotic organizations met with the City Librarian to determine the amount of interest in a downtown genealogical library. Support was enthusiastically promised.

In less than two years, books valued in excess of $3,000.00 have been contributed by the various patriotic organizations.

VEAL STATION OLDEST OF PARKER
COUNTY CEMETERIES

--The Weatherford Democrat
July 19, 1963

Veal Station Cemetery is one of the oldest cemeteries in Parker County (Texas) and perhaps the most attractive in the area.

The first burial in Parker County was that of Maggie Lee, an orphan girl traveling with the family of Rev. Pleasant Tackett, pioneer Methodist preacher and founder of the Goshen Methodist Church. She was buried west of Springtown in Oct. 1854.

As far as can be determined the first burial in Veal Station was in March 1862. There are graves throughout the cemetery marked only by uncut rocks.

The community was settled in 1852 and in 1858 Capt. W. G. Veal organized it into a community. Veal was a Methodist minister, a leading Mason, and operated a store. He was a Confederate soldier during the Civil War. ... (Among the families in the Veal Station community were the Levi Swallows, B. W. Akards, Prof. L. A. Johnson, Wm. and Elizabeth Woody, and the Hemphills.

The earliest burial determined from inscriptions on tombstones was that of Dr. J. W. P. Johnson, who according to the marker, was assassinated on Mar. 13, 1862, "aged about 53 years."

Other burials of the period were those of Robert H. Thompson, July 1862; Robert A. Riggs, March 1864; Benjamin Thompson, February 1865; Tennessee H. Riggs (girl) 1866; and a Thompson girl, Aug. 1867.

Though a cemetery reminiscent of the early days of the county, Veal Station is also attractive. In recent years a cemetery association has been organized ... and provides perpetual care.

FAMILY MANUSCRIPTS FOR THE READING

By Laura Wisdom

Why not take a look at the family manuscripts in the Genealogy collection of the Fort Worth Public Library?

Our sincere gratitude is extended to Mrs. Ione Nolan for the splendid job she has done in painstakingly analyzing the contents of our family manuscript collection, noting the relevant information on individual slips of paper. When Mrs. Moran returns to Fort Worth in October, she will take these slips and translate the information onto catalog cards according to professional library practice. By so doing, she will make this valuable material readily accessible. Meanwhile, all you have to do is ask and one of the staff members will be glad to bring to you the desired information.

We regret that we cannot analyze the material for our patrons, but as stated before, all is available upon request.

Collateral lines are also included, but to list them all would take an entire issue of the Bulletin. Therefore, I am giving only the main families in the list that follows:

77-7 CADDILL

Billy F. Caddell, 721 Northwest 18th, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, is writing a history of the Caddell family, and is having difficulty in connecting the families who came to Texas in 1850/1860, settling in Raines, Van Zandt, Wood, Grayson, and Hopkins counties, with their parent states. Any help would be appreciated.

NOVEMBER MEETING OF F. W. G. S.

Tentative plans call for a meeting of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society with the Tarrant County Historical Society in the early part of November. An announcement may be made at the October meeting. Watch for notice in the newspapers. If plans cannot be worked out for this joint meeting, the Bulletin for November will advise you of the regular November meeting.

THIRD ANNUAL GATHERING OF THE SCOTTISH CLANS OF TEXAS - Salado

On November 9 and 10, 1963, the Third Annual Gathering of the Clans of Texas will convene in Salado, Texas. At 7:00 P.M., November 9, there will be a Ceilidh (Kay-lee), a Scottish Social evening, followed by a Tartan Ball and reception at the beautiful Stagecoach Club. The tartan banners of about 60 clans will wave from flag poles seven feet tall at "The Gathering." On Nov. 10, the program will continue with registration from 9:00 to 10:00, followed by a picnic lunch at 12:00, and on through the afternoon there will be piping, dancing, etc. The Stagecoach Inn will prepare boxed lunches, if desired.

The colorful and educational Gatherings in Salado, sponsored by the Central Texas Area Museum, have captured the imagination of all Texas, and her neighboring states. The first Gathering attracted 800, representing 42 clans. Over 1500, representing 59 clans, came to the Second Gathering. For the Third Gathering, Scots have pre-registered as far east as New Orleans, as far west as Redwing, Colorado, and north from St. Paul.

The talent coming to entertain is the best. Our Highland Lassies will return, as will the R. C. Forbes family of Dallas. A fine Highland band of the Midwest will make its first Texas appearance. This is one of the "keenest" bands in the country - uniformed with individual clan tartans, pipes, drums and accessories meeting all of the standards required of Highland Regiments. In addition to the above artists, individual Scots are cordially invited to participate in the program at The Gathering.

Some of the important outgrowths of The Gathering in Salado have been establishing a Scottish Library at the Museum for research and information; establishing a book shop where Scottish books and other printed material can be purchased, and establishing a contest for students whose researched, documented papers on Scots will be judged and awards given. Also, very important and the first of its kind, is the Council of the Scottish Clans of Texas, which has been formed to help plan and carry out the annual program and to represent the Clans and their members. And, last but not least, the Salado Gatherings have awakened and aroused the greatest interest that has ever been in the cultural traditions and achievements begun by the early Scots on a wild frontier in the Southwest.

Just as they were the vanguards of civilization in other regions of America west of the Appalachians, the Scots formed the first large group of settlers in Central Texas. This type was indomitable, hard and sometimes ruthless, but always independent, courageous, and had a passionate love of knowledge and freedom. Major Sterling C. Robertson, second generation removed from his Scottish emigrant ancestor, was surveying in Central Texas the winter of 1825-26. Most of the 600 families that he introduced into Central Texas were of Scottish origin. Their descendants, still pioneering on all worthy frontiers, are dependable workers at the Annual Gatherings. Major Robertson's friend and helper in the later part of the colony was Alexander Thomson, another Scott. In fact, many Texas counties bear the names of Scots.

Clan gatherings ante-date written history. The Gathering of the Clans will always be an educational and historic affair, both enjoyable and profitable. Considering the important role performed by emigrants and sons of emigrants from Scotland in bringing about the independence and the development of Texas, we the Museum trustees, and the Scottish councilmen, call all Scots, descendants of Scots, and friends to convene in historic Salado on NOVEMBER 9 and 10, 1963.

--Mrs. Sterling P. Robertson

SCOTCH-IRISH NAMES

Contributed by Mrs. Glen Armstrong

Editor's Note -- We regret that the article of excerpts from a book entitled "The Scotch-Irish in History" written by Rev. James Shaw D.D. and published in 1899, which was prepared by Mrs. Glen Armstrong of Carlsbad, New Mexico, was too long for publication in its entirety in our 16-page Bulletin. However, we feel it is appropriate to print, in part, the list of Scotch-Irish names listed therein. The article will be presented to the Genealogical Division of the Fort Worth Public Library.

GLEANINGS

By Mildred Dulaney

CORRECTION: In the August Bulletin, it was reported that there was a gap in the Library's holdings of the South Carolina Historical and Genealogical Magazine. The statement was in error; the Fort Worth Public Library has a complete file of this magazine.

In the D.A.R. Magazine for 1931, vol. 65, p. 394, there appears this bit of information, which may save someone from being led astray by an abbreviation. "In the 'Revolutionary Public Claims for Virginia,' the letters 'M.D.' following a name were more apt to be an abbreviation of 'mule-driver' than of 'doctor of medicine.'"

It is not long before the newest beginner in genealogy learns about census schedules and the clues or confirmations they suggest. However, many more advanced or skilled genealogists are unfamiliar with the so-called "Mortality Schedules." Microfilms of the censuses are available in many libraries, but the Mortality Schedules are relatively unavailable. What are they? In 1850, 1860, 1870 and 1880, census enumerators were directed to secure information as to all persons dying within the twelve months preceding the taking of the census. While the information given varies somewhat, usually one may find the name of the person, his state of birth, date of death and age at death as well as the cause of his death. Derek Harland in volume two of A Basic Course in Genealogy states, "As these schedules antedate the establishment of vital records in the majority of the states, they are of especial value. They report 13 per cent of all deaths during a 31-year period, and that 31-year period is just when those born in the 1790-1810 decades were completing the normal lifespan." The 1850 mortality schedule for Georgia alone lists over 12,000 deaths of white persons.

The Fort Worth Public Library has the 1860 Texas Mortality Schedule on microfilm. With this one exception, so far as is known to this writer, Mortality Schedules must be consulted at the place where they are deposited for keeping. Most of the states have their own records somewhere in the state--in the state archives, in a university, or a historical society collection. The disposition of the various schedules and the dates available may be found in the book named above, which has a good chapter on censuses of all kinds.

The states whose Mortality Schedules are not in the states themselves are Arizona, Colorado, District of Columbia, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana and Tennessee, and Oklahoma for which there are none anywhere apparently. Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana and Tennessee are in the D.A.R. Library in Washington, D.C., where, it is said, the quarter million deaths included in them are being, or have been, indexed.

"Don't mention it. I am, in point of fact, a particularly haughty and exclusive person of pre-Adamite descent. You will understand this when I tell you that I can trace my ancestry back to a protoplasmal, primordial, atomic globule." ...Sir William Gilbert in The Mikado.

EARLY MARRIAGE BONDS and CONTRACTS in TEXAS

When Texas was a part of Mexico, Stephen F. Austin assisted in securing the passage of a law establishing a state religion: "the Government of the Mexican Nation will protect the liberty, property, and civil rights of all foreigners who profess to the Roman Apostolic Religion, the established religion of the empire." (H. P. N. Gammel, Laws of Texas, I, 28). To be legal a marriage ceremony had to be performed by a priest of good standing. The colonists entered into a form of civil marriage through contracts, agreeing to present themselves to the first legal priest visiting the colony.

Andrew Robinson and Mary G. Allen, Austin's Colony, Precinct of Victoria, March 17, 1829. Marriage Agreement.¹ Full Text:

Be it Known that we Andrew Robinson and Mary G. GLEANINGS

By Mildred Dulaney

One of the difficult problems of genealogy is the discovery of the maiden names of wives and mothers. Some ways of approaching the problem are suggested by Archibald F. Bennett in Chapter 15, "Missing Maiden Names of Mothers," in Advanced Genealogical Research.

Frank E. Bridgers published an article entitled "Passenger Arrival Records in the National Archives" in the National Genealogical Society Quarterly for September, 1962. He discusses such records in general and then gives two tables. Table A contains the name of the port or district; dates or originals, copies and abstracts; State Department transcripts; Immigration passenger lists. Table B lists Indexes to the Passenger lists, divided into card indexes and book indexes. Mr. Bridgers tells what is necessary to get a search made in these records.

Three new genealogical magazines have been received by the Fort Worth Genealogical Society and have been placed in the Genealogy Department of the Fort Worth Public Library where they may be used by all. One is the Luker Family Historical Society Newsletter, volume 1, number 2, October 1, 1963. This issue contains the constitution of the group, articles on Sarah Ann Moses Luker, Caleb Luker and a directory of Lukers in England, Canada, and various states of the United States.

Another new magazine is Pioneer Heritage, edited by Gene Price of Larchmont, N. Y. who writes that, "It will be published three times yearly and subscription rates will be $3.50 per year. We are making you (i.e. Fort Worth Genealogical Society) a gift subscription for the first year and your comment and criticism will be much appreciated." It is a periodical of heretofore unpublished genealogical data and includes Bible records, family records, cemetery records, wills and deeds.

The third new periodical is Virginia Genealogical Society Quarterly Bulletin, volume 1, number 3, July, 1963. It carries articles, queries, and announcements. Among the announcements is this: "The Mormon Church is the Second Largest Client of IBM because of Genealogy. The Government is first. IBM is now in the process of perfecting a machine for the Genealogical Society of Utah that will hold twenty-five million cards. It is hoped that within a year a person interested in a certain family, in a certain county will be able to write and ask for all material on "X" family in Amelia County. Cards will be put into the machine on all families of the County and all material on the family asked for will be printed on a tear sheet within seconds."

YESTERYEARS is a very fine quarterly magazine for the appreciation and study of New York regional history. Genealogy. Archaeology. Folklore. The September issue 1963 has brief biographies of Samuel Crittenden of McLean, N. Y. and Benjamin Genung of Besemer, N. Y., a list of Revolutionary War soldiers from N. Y. bearing the name of Terry and many other interesting articles. The editor is Francis V. Grifone, Scipio Center, N. Y. Subscriptions - $3.00 per year.

NEWSLETSCABOT LIONS RESTORING CONFEDERATE CEMETERY

Cabot-- A clean-up campaign is underway by the Cabot Lions Club to restore Camp Nelson Confederate Cemetery near here.

The cemetery, which had been left unkept for the past several years, is located about $3\frac{1}{2}$ miles southeast of Cabot adjoining the Earl Cherry farm. The area can be reached by vehicle only by crossing the Cherry farm, which is on the Mount Carmel and Oak Grove Road.

The project is the brainchild of Earl M. Cherry . . . Also backing the project are the local American Legion and Veterans of Foreign War Posts. . . the project is expected to be completed in about a month.

Cherry's grandfather, James M. Gately, donated the land for the cemetery when it was set up by the state as a Confederate cemetery in 1905.

... Nearly all of the graves at the cemetery are those of a Texas Confederate unit which had used the area as a campsite. Cherry said an epidemic of German measles struck the unit, wiping out almost every member. It is believed the cemetery was named for a general of the Texas unit.

Cherry said a recent survey revealed at least 450 graves in the cemetery. He said the soldiers were buried in trenches, but when it was made a Confederate cemetery by the state, the bodies were dug up and put in separate graves with unmarked headstones.

There is a stone, weighing 20,000 pounds, in the center of which is engraved the record of the state establishing the Confederate cemetery and part of the history of the Texas unit.

 BOOK DEALING WITH AREA IS RELEASED

Agua Dulce (Sp) -- A book written by former Nueces area resident, Mrs. Lena Henrichson Crofford, "Pioneers on the Nueces" has been released from the press August 22. The book deals with changes which have taken place in the fast-developing area of Texas around Corpus Christi and the lower reaches of the Nueces River.

Mrs. Crofford was born in San Patricio County, received her A. B. and M.A. degrees at Texas A&I, and taught in Agua Dulce schools for 18 years.

A descendant of the early settlers on the Nueces, Mrs. Crofford has augmented her personal knowledge with family histories. Her book will be considered a reference source for other writers doing research on life and customs of the area.

GLEANINGS

Kansas Kin is publishing the 1855 Territorial Census of Kansas. Information given includes name, occupation, age (minors are merely marked Min), sex, emigrated from, native of U. S., naturalized citizen, declarant, negro, slave, voter.

Genealogical Tips, published by the Tip-O'-Texas Genealogical Society, in the first two issues published "Biographical Index of Columbian Industrial Edition of the Fort Collins Express (1894)." This is an alphabetical index giving name, where and when born, where and whom married. Many states and several countries may be found in the list.

Folks Huxford in the Georgia Genealogical Magazine comments on the fact that when people migrated they usually chose a new home in country similar to that from which they came. If they were accustomed to low, marshy country they would settle in low areas of the new state, just as people from the hills would locate in hilly areas again. In the October 1963 issue of the magazine, he lists South Carolina counties whose terrain matches that of certain Georgia counties. Bear this fact in mind when trying to trace migrations. It has certainly proven true in my own family.

Did you ever come across such a phrase as, "to satisfy fifa issued in favor of" and wonder exactly what was being said? The dictionary states that fifa is an abbreviation for the Latin phrase fieri facias. Black's Law Dictionary then says of fieri facias that it "Means that you cause to be made. In practice, a writ of execution commanding the sheriff to levy and make the amount of a judgment from the goods and chattels of the judgment debtor."

FOR GENEALOGICAL FRIENDS

Merry Christmas to you all
Each and every one!
Riches of wealth and health and mind
Round your Christmas tree may you find.
Your family tree, too, we hope will grow tall.

Charts showing all the cousins and aunts,
Homes and marriages, even family ha'nts,
Repose among your gifts, we hope,
Including notes on those who did elope.
Such gifts rank with a new mink
To those searching for a missing link!
More ancestors, more descendants on your tree,
And as you receive, also give for free
Such is our wish for you through a Happy New Year.

NOTE FROM THE COMPILER, MRS. GLEN ARMSTRONG, 410 Soper, Carlsbad, N.M.:

"There are many more Scotch-Irish names in 'The Scotch-Irish in History' by Rev. James Shaw, published 1899. I have endeavored to extract what I thought would benefit the largest number of people."

NEWS LETS.

Austin, October 17, 1963 -- An extensive collection of genealogical information acquired during the lifetime of a well-known Austin authority, which has been processed and incorporated into the holdings of the Texas State Library, is gaining favorable comment and use, Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, director and librarian, Texas State Library, told a meeting of the Austin Colony Chapter, Texas Society of Daughters of the American Revolution today.

The gift of the Paralee Parrish Genealogical Collection is "an imposing addition," the director and librarian remarked. ...

Dr. Winfrey said the collection included census records from dozens of counties and parishes in six Southern states. ... the addition of certain volumes Paralee Parrish owned of the Knorr series, listing early Virginia marriage records, has completed a set the State Library has long needed.

Photostatic copies of original wills, land grants, deeds and other miscellany acquired in tracing 17 families have been bound by the Library for the use of posterity.

The valuable reference acquisition is located in the Reference Division of the State Library which is open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Originally the collection was given by the heirs to the Austin Colony Chapter. The chapter, in turn, presented it to the Texas State Library as a memorial to Paralee Parrish.

Library.

Austin, Nov. 7, 1963 -- Books in memory of the late Mrs. Gross R.

Scruggs of Dallas are an addition which genealogy researchers at Texas State Library will use for generations to come, Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, director and librarian, stated today. He spoke briefly at a presentation of the memorial collection, conducted in Austin today by the Texas Society, Daughters of the American Colonists, a society organized by Mrs. Scruggs.

The Society established a memorial fund for purchase of genealogy books at the time of Mrs. Scruggs' death in 1961. Selection of titles was made by Mrs. Margaret Scruggs Carruth of Dallas, the daughter of Mrs. Scruggs.

Dr. Winfrey pointed out that Mrs. Carruth has also personally made additions to the collection, which largely consists of wills, Bible and census records from various states, pension lists, obituary notices and subscription book purchaser lists.

To assist patrons, the collection is listed not only in the main catalog of State Library, but it also has its own index conveniently located in the Library's Genealogy Room. ...

The memorial collection may be used by the public in the Reference Division of State Library.

--Release from Texas State
Library.

Fort Worth, Nov. 9, 1963 -- At long last in the genealogical department of the Fort Worth Public Library are two indexes which will be of tremendous value to the genealogical researcher. These splendid additions are the result of a great deal of work by three members of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society.

preface by N. McDermott Harding and historical introduction by Wm. Dodgson Bowman) published by R. Sydney Glover in London, was indexed by Mrs. R. N. Grammer. Mrs. Hallie Gibson cooperated on this project by typing the index.

The Memorial and Biographical History of Dallas, County, Texas, published by Lewis Publishing Company in 1892, was indexed by Irene Chenault Davis. This was typed by Cathleen Spitzenberger, former clerk in the Southwest and Genealogy Department.

These two indexes have now been bound and catalogued and are shelved with their respective books.

Many thanks to these energetic and generous women for their interest in helping us make our materials more easily used.
