

THE GRAHAM LEADER
Young County, Texas

With this issue, we begin abstractions from the Graham Leader, made by your editor, Catherine Troxell Gonzalez, from microfilm in the Fort Worth Public Library. The following introduction to the series was written by Nancy Timmons Samuels, a native of Young County, whose ancestors—2 grandparents, 5 great-grandparents, 1 step-great-grandparent, and 2 great-great-grandparents—are buried in the county. Her step-great-grandfather, A. B. Medlan, was the first Treasurer of the county, and her husband's ancestor, Peter Harmonson, was the first Chief Justice of the county.

Introduction

The Graham Leader, west Texas' oldest newspaper, is still in existence. With the motto, "Hue the line, let the chips fall where they may," it was established as a weekly newspaper at Graham, Young County, Texas, in August 1876, by CSA veteran, Major J. W. Graves. Issue Number 1 of Volume 1 came out on Saturday, 19 August 1876.

Major Jonathan Webb Graves was of a newspaper family. He was born 29 September 1830 in Indiana, was reared in southwest Missouri, took up printing at the age of sixteen, set his first type in 1847, and by 1849 had his own print shop. Prior to coming to Texas, he was connected with various newspapers in Springfield, Neosho, and other places in southwest Missouri. During the Civil War he served in the 3rd Missouri Cavalry, General Sterling Price's Army, CSA.

In 1855 J. W. Graves married Sarah Inman, native of Alabama. In 1868 he brought his family from Missouri to Johnson County, Texas, where his wife's family already lived. It is said that his sole possessions were a wagon and team and a twenty-five-dollar gold piece. He sold his wagon and team, invested in a printing press, and (associated with Jack Davis) began Cleburne's first newspaper, the Chronicle, the first issue published in October, 1868. Davis, who previously had been publisher of the Observer in Rusk, Texas, for two or three years, remained in Cleburne but a short while. Graves became the sole owner of the Chronicle after five or six issues, and Davis moved on to other places, including brief stays at Junction City, Kansas (as editor of the Tribune), and at Weatherford, Texas.

Major Graves was a hardworking man, who required top performance from his employees. Beginning with few assets, by 1870 he was listed on the Johnson County census as owning $1000.00 worth of real estate and $1500.00 worth of personal property. In later years, he mentioned having given several well-known Texans their start, including James S. Hogg (later Governor of Texas), Martin Crane (later Attorney General of Texas), William Ramsey (later a noted barrister), and Alonzo Scurlock (later owner of the Chronicle). Seventeen year old James S. Hogg, a "printer's devil," came with Jack Davis from Rusk to Cleburne, remained to work for Graves, but, finding him too demanding, returned to Rusk before 1870.

In 1876 Major Graves sold the Chronicle and moved to the frontier. In Graham, Young County, Texas, he announced his intention to begin a weekly newspaper, the Graham Leader. At that time there was not a newspaper that far west in Texas. Young County had been one of the few earlier-organized western counties in the mid-1850s but was disorganized during the late 1860s, due to the Civil War and Indian depredations. When the county was reorganized, the new town of Graham became the county seat.

The earliest subscription list for the Graham Leader is dated 16 August 1876, and the first issue came out on 19 August, although the date is not discernible on microfilm, the first issue being somewhat in tatters. In the beginning, the paper was published on Saturday, later changing to Friday and/or other days of the week. Subscriptions were $2.00 a year. All issues are extant, except for the period of June, 1919 through the year 1921.

The Leader's "Carrier and Office List" of subscriptions [in possession of NTS], August 1876-January 1881, lists a number of other western Texas newspapers, which evidently came into existence ca. 1877-1881, some being of short duration, others more permanent. Some of those listed are:

Many other newspapers in Texas and other states are on the list, as well as the names and addresses of individual subscribers, both in and out of Texas.

J. W. Graves continued with the Graham Leader for many years. His oldest son, W. Lester Graves, became a printer and editor and later managed the paper for his father. Lester was also connected with the Texas Newspaper Union at Galveston, ca. 1890. Lois Sophia, the major's third daughter, married in 1889 to Phlete A. Martin, who later managed the Leader, and, decades later, wrote a history of the county, which was published, serially, in the paper.

Major Graves' brother, O. C. Graves, was editor of various papers, including the World, at Ottumwa, Wapello County, Iowa. Another brother, Warren H. Graves (from Neosho, Missouri) moved ca. 1875 from Weatherford, Texas, to Cleburne, where in March 1886 he and Dr. Andrew Young established the Cleburne Tribune. A nephew, James W. Graves, a printer working for his uncle, the major, in Graham in 1880, later moved to Amarillo, where he became Tax Assessor of Potter County in the late 1880s.

J. W. and Sarah (Inman) Graves celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in 1905. He died 3 April 1911. Sarah, born 5 January 1839, died 1 September 1924. Both are buried in Oak Grove Cemetery, in Graham.

FROM BRECKENRIDGE: January 10th, 1877.(?) "...The examination of Dr. H.S. Broiles, for the killing of Dr. A. Miller, was held on the 27th ult. The leading facts in the case, are Dr. Broiles, in the official capacity of Vice grand, preferred charges in the Odd Fellows Lodge against Dr. Miller of "lying and swindling," which action Dr. M. made the pretext of a personal quarrel with Dr. B....At this instant Dr. B. was heard to say "don't shoot," and immediately two shots were fired almost simultaneously, Dr. Miller missing his aim was mortally wounded near the heart. Belknap, in the year 1852 where he remained until the war, when he was elected Captain of a volunteer company of Texas rangers. Captain Peveler, with State Cox, Perry Harminson, George Hunter, and Cole Duncan, were driving a small bunch of cattle on the prairie, near the Murphy Station on Salt Creek Prairie when they were attacked by about seventy-five Comanches, who charged them on horseback. They being out of reach of any timber, with the exception of two small mesquite trees, they took a stand and found the Indians until State Cox was mortally wounded, when he said to Captain Peveler and the other men, "Boys, save yourselves if you can and don't stay and be killed on my account." At which saying he dismounted from his horse and fought them in deadly conflict until he was overpowered and fell as a hero. Perry Harminson after being shot through the right arm made his escape with George Hunter and Cole Duncan. Capt. Peveler was shot in the temple, in the neck, and in the right shoulder with arrows, and in the arm with a rifle; he made his escape to Flag Springs, where he remained from the 5th to the 22nd of September, 1864, and died. He was buried by the side of his brother Grenup Peveler, who was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and a member of the Belknap Lodge where Capt. SHILOH CEMETERY -- MARION CO. TENNESSEE AN EXERCISE IN FINDING A LOST CEMETERY

by Mike Patterson
2205 Glade Road
Colleyville, TX 76034

About 1972 I made my first trip to Marion County, TN looking for the graves of a couple of ancestors who died there before 1850. That first trip was unsuccessful, despite a long siege of driving backroads, talking to old residents, and wading through overgrown abandoned graveyards. In 1974, I returned, this time armed with a better idea of where within the county they had lived, thanks to a map made by a Yankee engineer during the area's occupation during the Civil War--he had thoughtfully included their homesite and had named the family living on it. Another two or three days of intensified walking, interviewing, looking, and searching followed, with no results. An old family reminiscence, second-hand to me, talked about "standing in the cemetery at her mother's grave..." so I was fairly sure there was a burial ground to be found and not just a couple of isolated and forgotten graves.

By the end of the second trip there from Texas, I was fairly sure I had canvassed the cemeteries that the residents there now were familiar with and which were still pretty visible. After returning home I bought a United States Geological Survey map of the specific area I had searched, and divided it into grids.

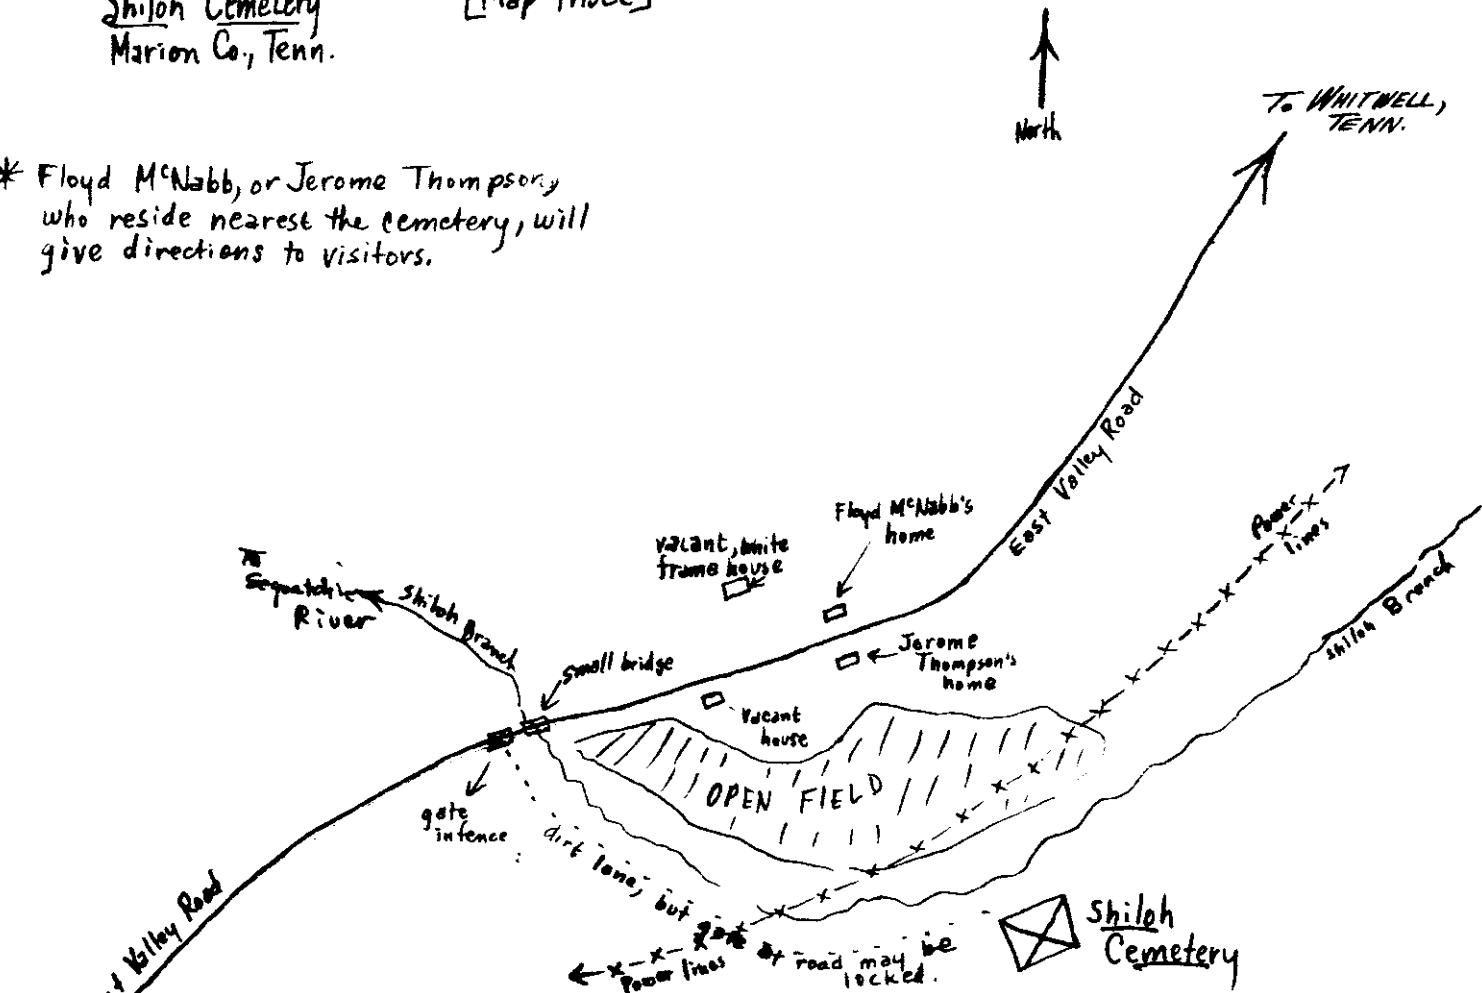

On my third trip there, I talked to landowners and got permission to carefully walk over every part of an area of about two square miles in which I believed the folks were buried. I first walked down the west line of my tract, from north to south, and then moved east about one hundred yards, after which I walked due north back to the north line--then east again another hundred yards and back to the south line--etc. Eventually I found the cemetery known as Shiloh Cemetery, and the graves of my folks who died in 1833 and 1844. To my knowledge it has not been inventoried by anyone else. It was such a pain to locate that I decided to copy all the inscriptions while I was there.

(Editor's Note: Publishing an out-of-state cemetery is contrary to our policy, but Pat Chadwell Jackson and Paul Campbell thought this work such an excellent example of the way to work on locating a lost cemetery that we felt it important enough to publish. The maps and cemetery listing that follow are part of Mike's work. Mike Patterson is with the Tarrant County Historical Commission.)

BROOM, DOVER, DOOLY, HEATH, GAZZAWAY

Henry David Broom, born 3 July 1831, South Carolina, died 1 November 1885, son of John Broom, was in 1850 census Walker County, Georgia. Who was his mother? He married Julia Ann Dover (born 3 April 1831, Georgia, died 28 August 1899) on 6 January 1851 in Habersham County, Georgia. H.D. fought in the Civil War, returned to Jacksonville, where the family was at the time of the 1870 census. The 1880 census shows them in Rockwall County. They homesteaded southwest of Whitt in Parker County shortly before he died. "Julian" Broom returned to Jacksonville and is buried at Jarratt Cemetery, supposedly where her parents, William Simpson Dover and Lucy Alice Dooly, are also buried.

INDEXING FOR THE 1910 CENSUS

According to The 1910 Federal Population Census, the catalog published by the National Archives Trust Fund, the 1910 Federal Population Census Schedules for Texas are indexed by Soundex.

Many users have indicated that the sheet numbers given on the Soundex cards for the 1910 Census do not exist. I did some investigating and determined that, frequently, the numbers shown on the cards as sheet numbers were, in fact, visitation numbers.

The basic difference between Soundex and Miracode, as explained in the Catalog, is that Soundex Cards refer to the Sheet Number and Miracode cards to the visitation number. Obviously, workers who did the Texas, and perhaps other state, indexes were confused.

The bottom line is this: if the index and sheet numbers do not conform, look to the visitation number, the first number to the left of the names, in order to find the family for which you are searching.

PETITION OF CITIZENS OF TARRANT COUNTY
AGAINST THE SUNDAY LAWS

28 Feb 1891

To the Honorable, The 22nd Legislature of the State of Texas:

REALIZING the pernicious evils that have blemished the history of the nations of the Old World, by the combining of church and state, and fully appreciating the sublime wisdom of the founders of our country in their unmistakable condemnation and inhibition of such an evil.

THEREFORE, we, the undersigned citizens of Texas, would most respectfully represent that nothing is more obvious than that all Sunday Laws contained in our Statute Books are infringements upon our Liberties and Natural Rights, as defined by our fathers and clearly set forth by them in the Declaration of Independence and Constitution of the United States, and we would most respectfully petition your Honorable Body to repeal all laws requiring the observance of Sunday as a religious institution, or tending to that end.

Fort Worth, March 2nd/91

These Petitioners are all Citizens of Tarrant County, State of Texas---and request you as their Representatives to present the same to the House of Representatives.

B., 2nd U.S. Dragoons, stating that he had put to death the Indians who killed Col. Stem. As I was a member of that company and one of a detail of twenty-five men under the command of Lieut. Tree, who was sent in pursuit of the Indians, permit me to state more fully how their death was brought about. After two unsuccessful attempts to follow the trail, by scouts, under H.H. Sibley, a third was ordered under A.D. Tree to proceed to Fort Arbuckle, where upon arriving, we found the Kickapoos flying through the post in great alarm at our approach leaving, as it would seem they knew our business. One George Thompson, a son of Black Bear, then a chief in the tribe, remaining to make some terms with the commanding officer, which terms were substantially as follows: That he (Thompson) would deliver the two murderers at the Post if the Dragoons were not permitted to follow the tribe, which was agreed to. After an elapse of two days they brought in the head of one of the murderers, tied to a saddle. In a few more days they brought the other within three miles of the post and there shot him. The Dragoons went to the place, charged the dead Indian, captured him, and throwing his body into a wagon returned to the Post without losing a man, and thence back to Fort Belknap without having their military fame tarnished by any other smoke than that of a camp-fire. *The earliest entries in the 1814 Bible appear to have been made about 1815, probably by William or Nancy (Shiffer) Cornet, the oldest couple here recorded. Later entries appear to have been made when convenient and by various parties. Around 1817, with a change in handwriting, the second "T" is added to "Cornet." The very latest entries and notes about relationships were probably made by Olivia Cornett.

LETTER FROM ELIJAH P. AND LOUISA JANE YOUNGER CROWLEY TO ISHAM AND ELIZABETH MEDLIN CROWLEY, 2 AUG 1866

(The original of this letter is in the possession of Jack Crenshaw Grantham, Jr., 10102 Lanshire, Dallas, TX 75238. He is the great-grandson of Frances L. Crowley Geeo, daughter of Richard C. Crowley, son of Isham Crowley.)

Greenville, Clay County, Mo. August the 2, 1866

Dear Mother and Father, Brothers and Sisters:

I once more embrace this opportunity of writing to you to let you no that we are on the land among the living and our health is tolerable good at this time except myself. I am just getting over a spell of sickness. I was confined to bed three weeks. My hert (sic) is not good but I do hope that when these lines reach you they will find you all well and doing well for it has been a long time since we have had the pleasure of writing to each other.

We have seen and felt a great many hard trials since this most cruel and unholy war commenced. Doubtless you have heard that my dear and lovely boy Jack as we always cauled (sic) him was murdered shortly after he came back to Missourie (sic) by a pack of those thieves and murderers called feds for that was their business whenever they thought they had the chance.

He came home on tuesday night the 28 of March 1865 which was very unexpected to us for we told him if he ever got to Texas to stay there until the war ended, but I expect he wanted to see us and no (sic) what had become of us again. He was at home three times, tuesday night, thursday night and friday night. He went to tries (sic) to get away, for the feds was after them and had killed too of the young horses that day. On saturday night he and James Charley was taken prisoner as they was going through Smithville. They kept them there till late Sunday evening. They told them they was going to take them to Ridgely and try them. They went about a mile and a half, took them out in the woods and shot them and left them laying there. An old man heared (sic) their groans and went next morning to hunt them and found them and made his too little boys bury them.

We heard that they were killed we got a union man to go and find about it. We then had a coffin made and sent for him and brought him home on friday and buried him at Bethel Church on saturday the 2 day of Aprile (sic) and I do hope and pray that he is better off than his murderers ever will be and if they do not meet with justice in this world, they will be sure to in the world to come. I have his tintype that is dear to me. He had it taken and gave it to me before he left home. We have also got the little gray mare that he left home on. Perhaps you have heared (sic) him speak of her. He called her Kate. We all think a great deal of her. We would not part with her for no mention on his account. He told us he was with you all and how kind and good you was to him. I hope the Lord will bless every one that was good and kind to him while he was gone. He professed religion several years ago and joined the Methodist Church. I hope he had not forgotten it. He was a good and kind boy to us all and beloved by all. His acquaintance Robert Ellington professed religion last fall and joined the church. He is a good soldier and he had a spell of typhoid fever last winter and came very near dying. He lay....weeks before he could set (sic) up. We had a serious time of sickness in our families at that time. There was five down at the same time there was fever. Nancy, Elizabeth with rhumatism (sic) of the heart.

The doctor said she was liable to die at any time. There was several seeks we had to set up with them but our neighbors was good to come and set up with us but thank the Lord they all got well by the help of a good doctor that had practised in the Confederate Army, ever since the war began.

Our friends and relatives are all well as far as I no (sic). Uncle Travis Finley was here yesterday he is well. He had been down to James P. Crowleys a few days ago. They was all well perhaps you heared (sic) that James had lost his wife and was married again. He married Miss Thude..., and Margaret Crowley was married last spring to a Mr. Hugh Fields. He is a very fine man. Uncle Jack Crowley and family are well.

The blacks have all left him but four, three women and one boy. My mother and stepfather are well. They living in Greenville. This is a real nice little place there is too stores here one blacksmith shop, one wood shop, saddlers shop and too good doctors Denham and a doctor Sheets, a good church. We have preaching once a month by the circuit preacher, southern Methodist and generally every two weeks. they are going to commence a tented meeting here the tenth of this month.

I hope we all have a good meeting. The crops looks well. Corn is very good, wheat, rye and oats are good. We have a good sugar cane patch. We make melons enough every year to do us. The people have got to raising right smart cotton in Missouri, some raise as high as three and four hundred pounds.

I have been wanting to rite (sic) to you a long time but did not no whether letters could get to you or not. Neither do I no whether this will reach you but I hope it will.Crowley has been talking of writing ever since he got a letter from Benjamin but did not think they would get it. If you get this immediately and let us hear from you all once more, for we are serious to hear from you all and no how you are getting along. Mr. West left here week before last going to Dallas. We would send a letter by him if we had known when he was going to start rite (sic) soon. Give my love and respects to all and receive a portion yourselves. (Change in handwriting)

This war has been reched (wretched) on us. We have lost a great deal by it. We greatly feel the Knead (sic) of what we have lost. Taxes is about to breake us up. They have been very high for several years but double this year to last year. Times are rather unsettled here. Every few days some are killed. The policy of our State is very bad. The radicals has the rule. We look for bad times at the next election, but the people are determined to change policy. There is a large majority of Johnson men in this state, if they can vote. Our county has but few radicals. In upwards of 2 thousand in favor of Johnson's reconstruction policy.

I will give you a short history of the times. Money is a little searser (sic) than it has been, property high good horses 2 hundred dollars, mules about the same, milch cows from 35 to 75 dollars, 3 year old steers 50, 2 year old 35, one year old 20 to 25, hogs from 8 to 10 cts groce per pound. hemp about 12 dollars per hundred. We greatly mourn the loss of our dear brother hiram but we hope he is where all the angels of heaven is rejoicing. Tell his companion to weep not for him for he died in a good cause but trust in God and persevere in holiness.

Louisa J. Crowley

(Return to original handwriting.)

We have eight children living, four girls and four boys. Our too youngest are boys Charley Davis and Edward Lee. He is in his third year.

(Handwriting of Louisa.)

When this comes to hand please write fourth with direct to Prospect Hill, Clay Co. Mo. Yours in true love in Simpathy (sic) through life.

PETITION OF CITIZENS OF YOUNG COUNTY REGARDING HOG LAW

15 Mar 1887

To the Senate and House in Legislature assembled:
We most respectfully petition for the passage of a general hog law requiring owners of hogs to hold them on their own lands or to so amend the existing law to prohibit hogs running at large in localities where the hog law has been adopted and to enforce it with proper penalties. The fact that hog proof fences cannot be made of the timber growth in this section of the state, that vast damage is annually done to crops and that by existing law all the trouble and expense of impounding is cost on the injured, is just cause for our appeal to the Legislature for relief.

BOOK REVIEWS by Patricia Chadwell Jackson

Massgee, Robert Riley (Bob). Fact, Fancy, Legend: A History and Genealogy of the Masselgees and Associated Families. Edited by Judy Goldston. Granbury, Texas: Author, 1985. $50.00 plus state sales tax.

Mr. Massgee begins with Benjamin Massaque-Massague, who died in 1697 in Albemarle District, North Carolina, "A Frenchman and an alien" and his wife Mary Ann Waller, and brings the descendants down to the present. He does not claim descent, but makes it very clear where he believes but cannot prove descent. He includes an account of the family by Charles Massgee, along with a number of family stories which have passed from generation to generation.

The book is well illustrated, with many photos of family members and places associated with the family, and facsimiles of public documents and family letters and other records.

Mr. Massgee is to be commended for including an every-name index in his work, one which has been carefully done. Names prominent in the index include Beam, Boatright, Buckner, Cameron, Cloer, Dellingen, Edwards, Hare, Johnson, Jones, Large, Farmer, Robbins, Sanders, Smith, Stockton, and Tharp.

Mr. Massgee has also included some lovely poetry by George Massgee, his father, much of which is inspirational in nature.

All in all, a solid, well-done book.

FOSTER, GUSTAFSON, SWIFT, STERLINE, MAY, KNAPA, ROSEN, PETERSON

Would like to find any kin of John August Foster and his wife, Ida Kristine Gustafson. In the 1880's the family homesteaded a farm near Horney Bend, about 8 miles from Austin. Earlier they lived near Decker, where they were members of the Methodist Church. Children were: Mary, born 1888, never married; Amanda 1890, never married; Ruth, 1892; David, 1894, married; Edward, 1896, never married; Lillie, 1898, married a Swift (her daughter thought to be Connie who married a Sterling); Belle, 1901, married a May. Last known addresses for David Foster and Belle F. May were in Austin, but the families lost contact in 1972. Does anyone know if these families are still in the Austin area? John August had two sisters, Mrs. Ben Knapa, a resident of Austin, and Mrs. Clara Rosen, who lived at Manor. Ida's family also came to the Austin area. They included a brother, Malcolm Gustafson, sisters Hulda and Amanda, and a half-sister Amalia Peterson. I have the ship passenger lists of the last four, which I received from an archivist in Sweden.

PEVEHOUSE, MOONEY, ROSS, CALLICOTT, LASTLEY

Lost -- the Jacob Pevehouse Family Bible. It was listed in the inventory of Jacob's possessions 9 April 1841 at the Probate Court of Austin County, Texas, presided over by Judge J.H. Mooney, but did not appear in the list of things sold by order of the court. Widow Hannah Ross Pevehouse, executrix of the estate (later married James Callicott), was dead by 1855, and assume she would not have given this Bible to any of Jacob's children by his first wife. Have made connection with all except Catherine Pevehouse Lastley, who was dead before Jacob passed away in December of 1840. To whom would Hannah have given the Bible? Is it still in existence today? ANDREWS, ALLEY, BAKER, STARNATER, VENDLE, SUTHERLAND

John Andrews, along with John Alley, Andrew Baker and Francis Starnater applied for Spanish land grants in the Louisiana Territory in 1794. John Andrews, Sr., John Andrews, Jr., and William H. Andrews appear on the 1823 tax list for St. Francois County, Missouri. Nancy Andrews, who married John Baker, son of Andrew Baker and Nancy Vendle, is believed to be the daughter of John, Sr. John Andrews and Margaret his wife sold their Missouri land in 1825.

The names of John (Sr./Jr.?) and William Andrews appear on a list of "Austin's 300 Colonists," but apparently William returned to Missouri as he married in 1826 and appears on the 1830 census. William died in October of 1852, and among his effects was a promissory note for $300 signed by John Andrews of the State of Texas. In February 1838, Jackson County, Texas, John Sr., died and his estate was administered by John Jr. The will proven by William Alley stated that $1,000 was to be paid to William Andrews and $1,000 to Lydia A. Baker among others from the sale of Texas land to George Sutherland. John, Jr., said that John, Sr., had heirs then living in the United States of the North.

BOOK REVIEW

by Patricia Chadwell Jackson

McLean, Malcolm D. Papers Concerning Robertson's Colony in Texas: Introductory Volume. Arlington, Texas: The University of Texas at Arlington, 1986.

At long last we have the introductory volume of this fine series, Robert Leftwich's Mexico Diary and Letterbook, 1822-1824. Most of the groundwork for Leftwich's story was established in a biography which was contained in Volume I of the series, which was published eleven years ago; however, in this volume, Dr. McLean reprises the details of Leftwich's life, quoting from the material contained in the diaries and letters (a letterbook was, in the 1820's what a file of carbon copies or a floppy disk are today; that is, a way to keep a record of letters one has sent to others) to demonstrate Leftwich's character, which was not a conventional one.

The body of the book is made up of facsimiles of the diary and pages of the letterbook, accompanied by a typed transcription of the pages, which is well-annotated. The notes appear at the end of the text, and include comprehensive biographical sketches of those persons mentioned in the text whose background is not likely to be known to the casual reader. Two appendices make this book particularly valuable: one outlines the three Mexican colonization laws; the other is a list of Texas Colonization Contracts formed under the Mexican government. There is an extensive bibliography and a comprehensive, every-name index. An epilog takes Leftwich to a courtroom in Nacogdoches, down to his last sixty-two and a half cents, at which time he vanishes from the pages of history. Dr. McLean challenges the Junior Historians of Texas to find out what ever happened to Robert Leftwich. We hope that some one of them answers his challenge.

The book is a sesquicentennial project of the University of Texas at Arlington, assisted by a grant from the Sid Richardson foundation, and, is, of course, something very special. Unlike the volumes of the series which were bound in bright blue, the cover is scarlet buckram, stamped in gold with the title, and, on the front cover, the imperial coat-of-arms of Mexico, and on the back cover, the roses which were the imprint of the Viceregal Printing Office. A ribbon bookmark, in the tricolor of the Mexican flag, serves as a bookmark. There are numerous illustrations. It is a truly fitting introduction to a series of books which are among the most acclaimed publications of Texana.

1880 CENSUS OF EASTLAND COUNTY, TEXAS

(Heads of Household Only)

Contributed by Weldon Hudson

Notes by copier: Please check all names regardless of spelling. They are copied exactly as they appear on the microfilm. Enumerator does not indicate surnames of wards living in families and was not consistent in listing birthplace of parents. Film is difficult to read. Capital P is made the same as T; I and J look alike; Capital B, R and P are not closed. House numbers of many families are omitted. Several households had men who worked on the railroad and were given family numbers although they lived with other families.

HELP US TO HELP YOU!

YOU can help make FOOTPRINTS what you want by indicating the type material you would like to see included.

We particularly want county records - marriages, deeds, probate, wills, naturalizations, tax lists, birth and death, etc. Bible records and cemetery listings are also most desirable. Perhaps you have unpublished materials (Texas related) which you would like to share with others by submitting them to be printed in FOOTPRINTS.

Your queries are always welcome and will help both you and others who are researching the same families. It is easy to put off sending one in, but think of the benefits. Newspaper queries, while reaching many people, have a short life span. But queries in a genealogical periodical can go on and on and on! You may receive an answer immediately - or it may be years later. So don't waste time - get your query in the mail right now. It can mean a lot to you and to others. Just remember - please - it must have a Texas connection.

Johnson County News
 Grange Hall, April 1894.

"Mrs. E. B. Reeves, who lived near Nathan, died Sunday. Her married daughter, who lived in Hall County, had been in a visit to her mother and was called back home by the sickness of her sister-in-law. The sister died. Mrs. Reeves' daughter became sick and summoned her mother. The daughter died and was carried to Nathan to be buried. The mother was then taken down and died Sunday."

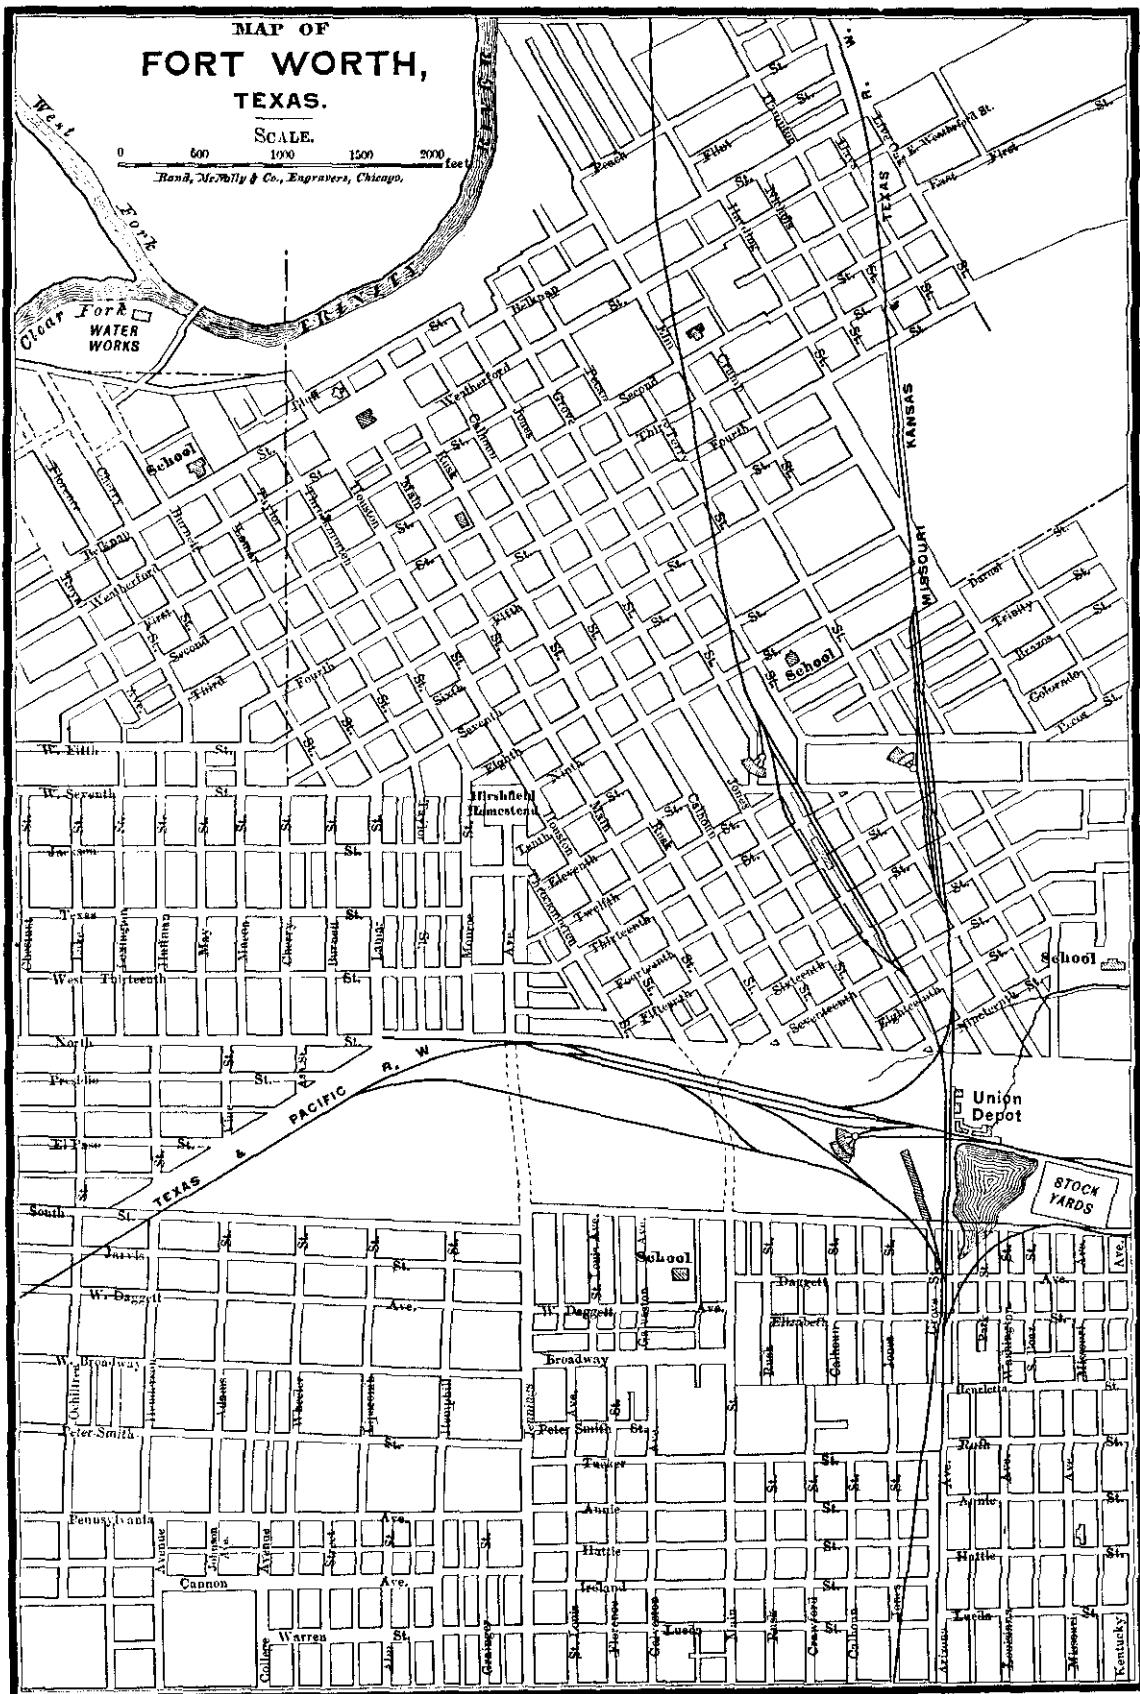

December 1894.

"Mr. Nanny, who has been living in Cleburne for the past two years, has moved back to his farm in this community.

Our school, under the came of Prof. Hewitt and Miss Ella Hurley, is moving along nicely.

Last Wednesday evening William Maxwell and Miss Josie Menefee were married at the residence of the bride's father, Rev. T. W. Wilshire officiating.

Sunday school is at a very low ebb just now. Considerable moving is being done around here this winter. Whooping cough is said to be raging in this community."

When David Dunnett saw the above map advertised recently, he contacted W. A. Satterwhite to ask if the Society could purchase it for the Library's collection. Dated 1892 it is the oldest original map of Fort Worth in the collection.

"A Horrible Tragedy"

[From The Dallas Times Herald]
August 29, 1857

It becomes our duty to record one of the most desperate and heart-rending tragedies that has ever been enacted in this region of the country. JOHN ROBINSON living some four or five miles from Birdville in Tarrant County, on Friday morning of last week, without previous provocation as we are informed, almost without an intimation of his fiendish intentions, shot and killed dead, two brothers, GEORGE and JAMES ANDERSON, brothers of his wife, then attempted the life of his wife, and failing in that, proceeded deliberately to his neighbor, old man SUBLETT, a distance of nearly two miles, and while the old man was begging for mercy shot him dead. Returning to within a short distance of his home, Robinson finished this horrid and un-natural tragedy by placing the muzzle of his gun against his own forehead, and pushing the trigger with the ramrod put an end to his own life instantly. The whole affair occurred in less than one hour. While the spirits of his victims were arraigning him before the Final Judge, his own guilty soul was precipitated by his bloodstained hand within the awful Presence, with all his horrid crimes crowding after him as witnesses. Charity would prompt us to hope that insanity or some fatal derangement of reason had prompted these actions.

We give here the version of the affair as furnished by a correspondent. We hope never to be called on to record such another.

[From the Clarksville Northern Standard]
[September 19, 1857]

Never before has it fallen to our lot to herald such a demoniacal occurrence. It seems that Satan swayed at his will one of the subjects of this unfortunate affair. We here give the proceedings of the Coroner's inquest.

An inquisition taken on the 21st day of August, A. D. 1857 at the houses of M. G. Anderson, William S. Sublett, and Shelton Robinson, in the County of Tarrant before James Harrison, Justice of the Peace, in and for said county, Precinct No. 8, upon the very dead bodies of James Anderson, George William Anderson, William S. Sublett and John Robinson.

By the oaths of W. E. Parker, John Harrison, William Cockrell, William L. Boyd, Anderson Barnes, R. C. Ford, Thomas J. Dalton, J. H. Kelly, D. C. Harrison, J. B. Marshbanks, good and lawful jurors of said County, who being duly sworn say: that the said Anderson to all appearances came to his death by a musket, or the discharge of a musket, discharged by John Robinson and taking effect in the right corner of his mouth thereby causing his death immediately.

SECONDLY, we the jurors of inquest say, upon close examination that the said G. W. Anderson to all appearances and from the testimony given us, came to his death by a rifle ball, taking effect in about the left shoulder, fired by the hands of John Robinson thereby causing his death immediately.

THIRDLY, we the jurors of inquest report from the evidence before us that W. S. Sublett, to all appearances, came to his death by a rifle ball, taking effect in the centre of his breast, thereby causing his immediate death, said wound was inflicted by the hands of John Robinson.

FOURTHLY, we the jury report that John Robinson the executioner of the above named murderers, from the evidence of Horace Robinson his brother, and strong corresponding evidences, came to his death by a rifle ball, taking effect in the forehead and lodging in the back part of his head, thereby causing his death by his own hands, decided by us an act of suicide, by evidence here as found.

It seems that it has long since been the intention of Robinson to take the life of his uncle, (Sublett) for an injustice he thought done him some few years ago, by being instrumental to sending him to the state prison.

Whether he bore malice toward the two young Andersons, previous to the morning of their murder, we know not. But a few days before the fratricide his wife, a sister of the young men, left him and on the morning of the 21st they repaired to his house for their sister's clothing - she having gone the night before and remaining with her husband during the night. On the arrival of her brothers, Robinson commanded them not to advance-upon this his wife ran out; bearing a gun to her brother - but was, it seems, intercepted and quietude restored; until they had loaded the wagon. Then Robinson, in quick succession felled to the ground both of her brothers; he then loaded his musket and rifle - went in pursuit of his uncle, and on finding him shot him through with the rifle and as he fell fired his musket but without effect; however the work had been done with his rifle. He then loaded his rifle and winded his way homeward whistling; and seemed to be merry indeed but he had not proceeded far before he placed the rifle to his forehead and blew out his own brains; thus closing the scene of the tragedy.

EARLY CHURCH BUILT WITH LUMBER FROM SALOON

The first church established in Mansfield, Texas, according to a story written by Katie Casstevens in her weekly column in "The Mansfield News", published November 7, 1952, was the Walnut Creek Church, of the Cumberland Presbyterian faith, and believed to be the first Presbyterian congregation in Tarrant County.

The church was organized August 25, 1854 and two documents recording the affairs of the church in its early beginning were in the possession of Mrs. Norma Man Prichard, daughter of R. S. Man, one of the founders of the church and Clerk of the Session from 1872 until 1881. After the death of Mrs. Prichard, the records were lost but later located by a nephew, Alphonso Man of Decatur, Texas, and given to Mrs. Casstevens who placed them, for permanent record, in the Archives of the Fort Worth Public Library as a gift from the Man family.

Mrs. Casstevens recalled that in the first census, in the early 1850's, there were only 664 residents in all the 877 square mile area of Tarrant County, and in places, miles and miles stretched out without a habitation in sight.

Eight charter members signed the historic document which led to the establishment of the church. It read, "We whose names are hereunto subscribed, wishing to have the ordinances of God's house administered among us, and being willing to support the gospel as God may prosper us, agree to associate ourselves together as a worshipping congregation bearing the name of Walnut Creek Congregation, and being in the bounds of Tiwicana Presbytery, we pray to be taken under her care and we will look to her for such supplies of the means of grace as she may be able to afford us."

The names of those who signed the document were: William Howard, Elisabeth Howard, Tracy V. H. Renfro, Abraham Howard, Frances Bratton, Elizabeth Howard, Lucinda S. Howard and L. C. H. Howard.

For the first ten years the church grew slowly. According to the minutes, new members in 1855: the five children of the Richard Bratton's were baptized (Ann, John, Martha, Andrew and Hannah). In 1856, members added were: Richard Bratton, Sarah Howard, George A. and Amanda H. Southerland, Elizabeth J. Gibson, and Mary C. Smith. In 1858, Jessie Russel and Tennessee and Sarah Tummins; in 1861, Mary Bratton; in 1862 Julian and Henrietta B. Field, Margaret Moody, William and Margaret Ramsey, I. C. and T. P. Spencer. From then on the church grew more rapidly, some years having as many as 15 to 30 additions. By the end of 1868, 118 names were on the church roll.

For a number of years the congregation met in homes of the members and at the Howard's School House. In 1868, the first church building was erected. Lumber was extremely scarce and usually had to be hauled long distances. An old saloon building was secured from Fort Belknap in Young County, torn down, hauled by ox-wagon to Mansfield, and rebuilt as a church. On August 4, 1868, this first church building was dedicated.

It is reported that in the early church the men sat on one side of the church house and the women sat on the other. There was no mingling!

The Church Session kept a close watch over the morals of its membership. When there was a report of someone's using profane language, gambling, dancing, selling goods on the Sabbath, being intoxicated, or having indulged in any unchristian conduct, a committee was speedily dispatched to confer with the offending member. Usually the transgressor saw the error of his or her ways, repented and promised to refrain from such action in the future, whereupon, he or she was allowed to continue in church fellowship.

The church building was soon outgrown, and in 1879 a Sessions committee met with Dr. John Collier, president of the Mansfield College Institute (more commonly known as the Mansfield Male and Female College), and agreed to defer the building of a new church, and instead to purchase or rent the college chapel. A still larger and more modern building was erected in 1892, and this building, which was torn down in 1949, is the one that most older Mansfield residents will remember.

Some of the better known citizens who later joined the church were: 1864, Mrs. Hannah A. Hodges (mother of Mrs. Sallie McKnight); 1865, L. H. Stephens; 1865, R. S. Man, Calvin and Phebe Wyatt; 1868, Calvin Guest, P. M. House, and P. G. Davis; and in 1869, Bro. John Collier and family.

The first pastor of the Walnut Creek Church was a Rev. William Kelly who served in 1855-56; followed by several visiting pastors who served for brief periods, and then, Rev. R. M. White, who served from Feb. 1864 through July, 1869. It was July 30, 1869, that the church formally changed its name to the Mansfield Congregation.

Rev. C. B. Hodges was pastor in 1870, Rev. W. D. Wear in 1871-72, at which time Rev. R. M. White was called again and served through Dec. 1876. Rev. A. J. Haynes served in 1878 and part of 1879, when Rev. A. S. Hayter (the founder of Arlington, Texas) came to the church and was still pastoring the congregation when the records closed in 1881.

Old timers report, said Mrs. Casstevens, that the first congregation of Methodist in Mansfield had their church meetings in the home of Johnnie Wyatt, north of town. Later, they shared the meeting house of the Cumberland Presbyterians, since for many years, it was the only church house in town, each using the building for two Sundays each month.

20 Aug 1880. THE MONUMENT: "On last Sunday we visited one of the most noted historical spots in Young county, viz: the monument 8 miles North east of Graham, on the old Belknap and Jacksboro road, where seven teamsters in the employ of Capt. Henry Warren, of Weatherford, were killed by a band of 100 Kiowa Indians, commanded by the noted chief, Satanta, on the 18th of May 1871. There were nine teamsters with the wagon train, six of whom were butchered, one chained between the wheels of a wagon and burned to a crisp, one wounded, and two made their escape. The names of these unfortunate men who were so cruelly massacred by the red devil, Satanta (who signed the treaty of peace between his tribe and the United States a year or two previous, under which he and they were being fed and protected by the government on the reservation at Fort Sill,) are N.S. Long, John Mullins, James S. Elliott, Samuel Elliott, M.J. Baxter, Jesse Bowman, and James Williams. The mutilated remains of these men were buried where they fell, and a pyramid of planks was there erected by Capt. Warren, to mark the spot, which since has been known as "The Monument." We regret to see the monument going to rack--the planks have been torn off by cattle and the structure has tumbled down. Some substantial mark, however rude, should be placed there to the memory of the ill-fated teamsters and as epoch in the history of the county."

"On last Friday night everybody was in a hurry and bustle preparing for the War Dance by the Tonkawa Indians, in our park. About dark the trees were hung with lanterns, and numerous fires burned bright lighting up the scene beautifully. When the music began, (which was made by several of the Tonks, with tin pans) the quaintly dressed figures commenced moving around the fire in a fashion which was entirely new to some and quite amusing to all. After some time "captives" were called for, and Messrs. Randolph and Clay Glasgow offered themselves as such. Pete was first, and kept his position on the ground, making a very good "dead man," till the scalping knife was raised above his head--this was too much and up he jumped and ran like a deer, much to the amusement of the Tonks. Clay acted "dead man" to perfection, was danced over and scalped in the approved style. As to the number present, be it sufficient to say everybody, everybody's baby and mother-in-law were in attendance." "Mr. George W. TEXAS 150

FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF SAN JACINTO

The first anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto is recorded as being a gala affair. Citizens gathered at noon at Roberts' Hotel, adjourned to a new building owned by a Mr. Gray where the Declaration of Independence was read. The assembly sat down to an elegant dinner followed that evening by a magnificent ball.

The following toasts were given:

"Col. W. B. Travis - he lives in the memories of his countrymen. He taught a tyrant how free men will live and how free men can die."

"Uncle Sam's big corn field and his son Sam's cotton patch - may they soon be united in one great plantation."

"The lamented Milam - one of the first to fall in the cause of Texas struggle for liberty. His memory is embalmed in the heart of every Texian - a monument more lasting than marble."

"Sam Houston - the man who is contented to be called Sam and who has proved a Sam's son to the enemies of Texas."

"Texas - the house of the brave, the asylum of the oppressed."

"Texas on the 2nd of March 1836 and Texas now."

ANCESTOR REFERRAL SERVICE

The FWGS Ancestor Referral Service was established to bring together two or more people who may be working on the same family line/lines. This service is free to each member of the Fort Worth Genealogical Society.

Here's how it works:

1. Fill out the 3 x 5 card printed by the Society [or use your own card using the FWGS card for reference] for each ancestor. Give as much information as possible, but you must include a time and a place [even though approximate.] A pedigree chart is always helpful, so please include your chart with your cards.
2. Prepare a self-addressed stamped envelope which will be used to let you know if a fellow researcher has been found. It is necessary for us to have such an envelope in our files at all times.
3. Mail your cards and envelope to the Fort Worth Genealogical Society, Box 9767, Fort Worth, Texas 76107.

When your cards are received, the files are checked for cards with the same name, living in the same general area about the same time. If this information indicates two lines may be connected, both researchers will be notified. In that case, we will need another SASE from you to keep in case we find another connection.

The printed cards are available from the Society at the following prices:

1 card	$0.10	Plus mailing cost of 25¢ for each
10 cards	0.75	10 cards [or less.]
25 cards	1.50

It is always exciting to find someone working on your same family - who perhaps has a lot of information you don't have. And it's always nice to meet new "cousins" whether they really are or not! Don't miss out on this opportunity to help yourself as well as others. If you don't send in your cards, you'll never know what opportunities you may have missed.

We look forward to a box overflowing with mail from each one of our members.

One final word - this service is also available to non-members of the Society for a $1.00 fee. Should you not be a member and still like to take advantage of this service, your cards will remain in our permanent file so that we can be on the lookout for possible connections in the future.

"Men of mark from old Missouri,
Men of daring from Kentucky,
Tennessee, Louisiana,
Men of many states and races,
Bringing wives and children with them,
Followed up the wooded valleys,
Spread across the rolling prairies,
Raising homes and reaping harvests.
Rude the toil that tried their patience,
Fierce the fights that proved their courage,
Rough the stone and tough the timber
Out of which they built their order.
Yet they never failed nor faltered,
And the instinct of their swarming
Made them one and kept them working
Till their toil was crowned with triumph,
And the country of the Tejas
Was the fertile land of Texas."

TEXAS AND HER LAND

By Weldon Hudson

Ed. Note: Mr. Hudson was the first speaker for the Society's Sesquicentennial Year.

Researchers in Texas will benefit greatly from a working knowledge of the land grants of Texas. Early records will refer to a league and a labor. A "league" was 4428.4 acres (or 5,000 square varas; a labor was 177.2 acres (1,000 square varas.) A vara was equal to 33½ inches. Texas did not adopt the rectangular system of land measurement as instituted by the United States at the end of the Revolutionary War, but instead used township and range base lines and meridians.

Texas land laws might be considered a combination of Spanish civil and English common law, but the system was basically Spanish. We can consider four time periods:

1. Spanish grants: 1758 - 1821. Granted by the King of Spain, usually for a league and a labor, they were mainly located in the Rio Grande River area.
2. Mexican grants: 1821 - November 1835. Usually for one league. Several empresarios contracted with the Mexican government to bring in certain numbers of families to live in a designated area. Some names are familiar - Haden Edwards, Stephen F. Austin, David G. Burnet, Benjamin Milan, Green DeWitt and Martin DeLeon. Only Austin and DeLeon actually filled their quotes. The Mexican government was agreeable to selling land outright - on their terms. Mexican citizenship was required and the Catholic religion must be adopted. Consequently some Americans became Mexican citizens in order to qualify as recipients of the land. By November, 1835, relations with Mexico were badly strained. Subsequent events led to the Declaration of Independence, winning that independence, and the adoption of the Texas Constitution.
3. The Republic of Texas: A general land office was established in 1837, using American land laws - probably as a convenience. The President of Texas authorized land script to be issued for not less than 55¢ an acre. The grantee was not required to live in Texas and the land could be assigned to another person. Four classes of certificates were issued:

1st Class - for a league and a labor to the head of a family with 1/3 league to a single man. Person must have been in Texas by March 2, 1836 and received no grant from the Mexican government.

2nd Class - 1,280 acres of land to the head of a family; 640 acres to a single man. Persons must have settled in Texas during the period March 2, 1836 to October 1, 1837, and stay at least three years, plus pay survey costs.

3rd Class - 640 acres to head of family; 320 acres to single man. Persons must have settled in Texas during period from October 1, 1837 to January 1, 1840; remain at least three years and pay costs.

4th Class - 640 acres to head of household; and 320 acres to a single man. Must have settled in Texas during period October 1, 1837 to January 1, 1840. At least ten acres of land to be under cultivation. Other requirements the same.

Bounty land grants were given for service in the War for Independence. A man received 1,280 acres for one year's service and 320 acres for three months service. From 1835 through 1888 almost 7500 grants were issued for a total of 5-1/3 million acres of land. Special grants were provided widows and heirs of those who died at Goliad and at the Alamo. In July 1876, approval was given for a $150 annual pension to surviving indigent veterans and signers of the Declaration of Independence. When money was no longer available, land was substituted for a total of 1,300,000 acres. Again, it is important to remember that all grants of any kind were not necessarily used immediately and most of the certificates were transferable.

When Texas was annexed to the United States in 1845 she kept her land system. The first Homestead (pre-emption) Act was passed by the Legislature the same year. It allowed a settler to live of 320 acres of vacant land for three years, improve it, and obtain title - payment of 50¢ per acre. In 1853 a true Homestead Act was passed which allowed 160 acres and a three year time of occupancy. This Act was repealed in 1856, resumed in 1866, and continued until about 1898 when the Texas Supreme Court declared the public lands to be exhausted. All of these later grants were free with the exception of survey costs and some paper work.

By 1881 a 1,280 acre confederate script certificate was approved for all disabled surviving Civil War veterans or widows whose husbands were killed in action. An applicant appeared before his or her county judge to establish eligibility and the certificate was issued by the commissioner of the General Land Office. By that time the public domain existed only in far west Texas. Land was cheap but many times a person was forced to have half the land in order to get it surveyed. A good reference for this period is Thomas Lloyd Miller's "Texas Confederate Scrip Grantees, CSA."

Over the years many other laws were passed pertaining to Texas and her land. No one article or book can fully cover the subject adequately. The best single source of information is another book by the same author, "The Public Lands of Texas, 1519 - 1970."

Most of the land records as discussed are on file in the General Land Office in Austin. Their address: Room 811, 1700 N. Congress Avenue, Austin 78701. County survey maps may be obtained from the Land Office for $12 each plus $1 mailing charge. These surveys show the name of the original grantee and are designated bounty, pre-emption, donation, script, etc. Sometimes numbers will also indicate headrights.

Texas was generous with her land because she wanted to encourage colonization as rapidly as possible. Money was also needed to pay taxes. Things haven't changed too much today in the latter respect!

TEXAS AND PATRIOTISM

By Mrs. Jerry R. Minton

Editor's Note: Marty Minton was guest speaker for the Society's June meeting.

As a goal during this Sesquicentennial year, carve another notch in your ancestral tree. "Native" Texans are particularly interested in a very special organization - the San Jacinto Descendants. If you're not a member, see if you can document your roots between the cactus and the sagebrush, circa 1836, and prove your eligibility.

Founded in Fort Worth, Texas, by the Reverend Albert Clinton Walling, the San Jacinto Descendants was organized on March 2, 1965. Its objective: "To perpetuate the memory and spirit of the heroes who fought at the battle of San Jacinto under General Sam Houston on April 21, 1836, or were on the baggage train at Harrisburg handing out supplies and tending the wounded."

Should your ancestor have taken up residence in Texas during the ten years following independence, another prize organization might be added - The Sons of the Republic of Texas - committed to encourage, foster, promote, observe, commemorate and perpetuate anything relating to those gallant souls who achieved and maintained independence for Texas and chartered its course from Republic to State. General Sam Houston's sword is used to honor an active or honorary member for outstanding service, sacrifice or contribution for, to, and/or on behalf of Texas.

Equally important is the sister organization - The Daughters of the Republic of Texas - which allows the recognition and participation of the female descendants of that memorable period of Texas history.

The underlying purpose of these three "Texas Connections" is to encourage a sense of appreciation for the labors, motives and contributions made by the men and women who fought and worked to fulfill a dream in what was to become the Lone Star State.

Having struggled through reruns of "Gone With The Wind," "Shenandoah," "The Blue and the Grey" and "North and South" (Parts I and II) I have come to realize the importance of producing a Confederate veteran. This can be especially frustrating if your spouse just happens to have one (or more) while yours is still illusive since an overwhelming number of Union forces happened to live in your home state! Even worse is the fact that the state in question happens to be north of the Mason-Dixon line! Three organizations come to mind for this time period: Sons of the Confederate Veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Military Order of Stars and Bars. The latter requires proof of lineal or collateral descent from a commissioned officer or an elected/appointed official of the Confederate government. Of course, in my own case, if the grey uniform is not to be found, there does remain the Sons and Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War!

The Statue of Liberty celebration in July coupled with the upcoming Bicentennial of the Constitution in 1897 causes one to want to march to the drummer of a Revolutionary period. Two societies stand head and shoulder above all others if only by number of members - the Daughters of the American Revolution and their male counterpart - the Sons of the American Revolution. Others more restricted by limited numbers involved, one location or one incident, etc., include the Descendants of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence, Society of the Descendants of Washington at Valley Forge and the Society of the Cincinnati.

The latter is particularly interesting not only because it includes those descended from the officers of the Continental Army but also representation is restricted to only one living descendant for each officer. So unless you can wait until someone resigns or dies, perhaps you had better look elsewhere. There is, however, no greater pride for an American than membership in the Society of the Cincinnati. The Diamond Eagle ring given to General George Washington by the French Navy is worn by every President General (the national head) on formal occasions as his badge of office. It is interesting to note the provision of consideration for an officer of the Continental Army: Served to the end of the war (October 19, 1781); resigned with honor after three years service; rendered supernumerary service; killed in battle or died in service.

Colonial organizations prior to the Revolution number, among others, are Founders and Patriots, Colonial Dames of the Seventeenth Century, and the Society of Mayflower Descendants. One that stands out primarily because it represents the oldest military organization in the New World is the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts organized on March 13, 1638. It was established along the lines of its London namesake to encourage the advancement of military art and exercise of arms and training of officers in tactics and drill. Its membership is most difficult to prove as documents containing the members are not easy to come by.

Call it patriotism, love of country, or whatever you like - tangible proof of lineage to any period in the history of the United States of America causes one's heart to swell with pride knowing that you have had a part, through such lineage, in the history of our country.

The word "patriotism" has a special meaning to all Texans this year -both native and adopted. I am proud to be a Texan and proud to have a part in this celebration of one hundred and fifty years of independence.

TEXAS, FORT WORTH AND AN ENGLISHMAN

In 1925, Governor Pat M. Neff made a dramatic and impassioned speech to the Texas Legislature concerning the need for a state song. ". . . . Texas is a great state. Our history is inspirational - it reads like an epic. Our vast empire is filled with blood bought spots and sacred shrines . . . we should have a state song. Too long has this matter been delayed. It is universally known that the loyalty, fidelity and patriotism of a people find the highest expression in song. Just as the people of other nations such as England and France are inspired by their own anthem, so do the liberty loving citizens of the United States thrill to the music of "The Star Spangled Banner"

The Governor then proposed a contest to determine the winner of the best TEXAS ANTHEM that would "properly symbolize our matchless history and the state's growth and glory." A group of interested friends collected prize money of $1,000.00.

Of the 286 songs and poems submitted, all but six were eliminated. First place went to "Texas, Our Texas" by William J. Marsh and Mrs. Gladys Yoakum Wright of Fort Worth. However, rather than award the prize outright, the Legislature decided to "give the public a chance "to get to know the songs and sing them" before a winner was actually chosen.

Time passed. Administrations changed. The next two governors were not interested in a cause initiated by their predecessor.

Four years later Senator Margie Neal of Carthage was appointed to head a committee to choose a state song. Plans were again made for a state wide contest with the final competition to be held during the State Fair of Texas. In order to be completely fair, it was decided to include the original six songs in this second competition. Judges deliberated for three days before choosing "Texas, Our Texas" from over 1,000 songs.

In May, 1929, both House and Senate unanimously passed a Resolution adopting "Texas, Our Texas" as the official song. The following year a victory celebration was held during a joint session of the Legislature at which time the winners were presented. Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis, of Fort Worth, sang the song and Governor Neff was the main speaker.

During the next several years not too much was done to acquaint the general public with the song. It was printed in school textbooks and almost every child then attending elementary school learned to sing it, but it was still relatively unknown to most Texans.

In 1953, Mrs. Charles Stephens, then president of the Fort Worth Music Study Club, initiated a state wide campaign to publicize the song. The Mayor of Fort Worth wrote to other Texas mayors. The President of Texas Christian University contacted college presidents asking that the song be used on all official occasions.

A resolution was adopted by the Legislature in 1954 concerning use of the song: "At the inauguration of governors of Texas; at openings of sessions of the Legislature; at all official appearances of the governor; on all occasions when Texas is to be officially recognized; on all holidays commemorating events of historical significance (such as March 2 and April 21) and on other appropriate occasions."

And what does this have to do with an Englishman?

William John Marsh, composer of "Texas, Our Texas," was born near Liverpool, England. He came to Fort Worth in the early 1900s, and on New Year's Day, 1920, became Choirmaster-organist of St. Patrick's Cathedral - a position he held for nearly fifty years, as well as a number of others. Known to his friends as "Bill" and to a host of Texas Christian University students as "Uncle Billy," he was also recognized nation wide for his musical compositions. His works included cantatas, over 20 masses, dozens of anthems, and even an opera. He was chosen to write the Centennial Mass which was performed by a choir of 3,000 in Dallas in 1936. Long-time chairman of the Texas Composer's Guild and a member of the music faculty of T.C.U. and Our Lady of Victory Academy, his name appeared for many years in "Who's Who in America" and "Who's Who in the Southwestern International Music Association." The 1950 T.C.U. annual was dedicated "To the popular all-time favorite of students and alumni alike" He was honored as Fort Worth's "Senior Citizen of the Year" in 1959. Although forced to retire because of ill health, he continued his musical work until his death at the age of 90.

This, then, is the "English connection." William John Marsh's long life spanned two continents and the music he gave Texas spanned three religions. But most important this Sesquicentennial Year, he created our state song, "Texas, Our Texas." These are the words which won first place in two contests.

Texas, our Texas! all hail the mighty State!
Texas, our Texas!
So wonderful so great!
Boldest and grandest, Withstanding ev'ry test
O Empire wide and glorious. You stand supremely blest.

Texas, O Texas! Your freeborn Single Star
Sends out its radiance
To nations near and far.
Emblem of Freedom! It sets our hearts aglow
With thoughts of San Jacinto And glorious Alamo.

Texas, dear Texas! From tyrant grip now free,
Shines forth in Splendor
Your Star of Destiny!
Mother of Heroes! We come your children true
Proclaiming our allegiance Our Faith Our Love for you.

God bless you Texas! And keep you brave and strong
That you may grow in power and worth, Thro'out
the ages long.
God bless you Texas! And keep you brave and strong
That you may grow in power and worth, Thro'out
the ages long.

TEXAS AND HER GENERAL

After Texas declared independence on March 2, 1836, her armies, for the next several months, continued to meet with disaster and defeat. Ultimately, the responsibility for saving Texas from destruction by the invading army (not to mention threat of Indian attack) rested upon the shoulders of General Sam Houston. Three things need to be remembered. First, the Texas forces were always outnumbered by the Mexicans. After the massacre of Fannin and his men, the only army in Texas was the one commanded by Houston. Made up of volunteers who came and went as they pleased, untrained and poorly equipped, it is difficult to think of it as a real army. Second, the Texas government, newly formed, did not have enough time to get help in either men or money. And perhaps the most important factor was that Houston was left to see that women and children were moved to safety in front of the advancing enemy, no small task in addition to controlling, equipping and feeding his men.

Taking all this into consideration, it is no surprise that Houston's actions were cautious and controlled. He did not plan to be forced into battle until he was ready. However, once a decision was reached, action was swift. By April 19th, he had moved to Buffalo Bayou. He then knew that General Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna, in command of the Mexican army, was moving ahead of him down the Bayou. His men were eager to attack, seeing a golden opportunity to capture the person responsible for the massacre of their friends and fellow Texans. Still cautious, Houston did not give the order to attack until the afternoon of April 21st. With all units in proper place, Houston, riding his white stallion, Saracen, beside the flag of the Republic, raised his sword. As the famous "Twin Sisters" began fire, Colonel Sidney Sherman ordered his regiment to move and they took the first burst of fire from the thoroughly surprised enemy force. Sherman has been credited by some as the originator of the cry, "Remember the Alamo - Remember Goliad!" Regardless of its beginning, it was taken up on every side by the lines of men as they moved steadily forward across the plain. And in this action, the Texan army was truly united at last. Many Mexicans, seeing escape impossible, shouted back, "Me no Alamo!" "Me no Goliad!" There was no time to check service records and no quarter was given. And above the yells and the noise of the battle could be heard the strains of "Will You Come To the Bower I Have Shaded For You?"

From Houston's report to President Burnet: "...the conflict lasted about 18 minutes....until we were in possession of the enemy's encampment....pursuit of the main army continued until twilight....in the battle our loss was two killed and 23 wounded, six of them mortally. The enemy's loss was 630 killed....208 wounded." The Texans also took 720 prisoners, among them the self-styled "Napoleon of the West" - General Santa Anna.

The Battle of San Jacinto ranks as one of the most important in the world. The freedom attained by Texas resulted in the acquisition by the United States of the present states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, California, Utah and parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and Oklahoma - nearly a million square miles of territory and almost one third of the present area of this country.

The original of the following letter is in the possession of the Editor. Written some ten years after San Jacinto, it reflects the concern of a husband and father as written to Sam Houston's friend, Joseph Ellis.

12 June 1857

My dear Joe.

I thank you for your kind & welcome letter. You will see that at the end of five weeks, I have not completed the journey of five days.

On Monday I hope to get to Huntsville. Tom has been quite sick, but is now up and about, and able to talk about "Uncle Joe, & Uncle Ben". He ^{has} been really ill, poor fellow. I hope we will now meet with no further detention. I have not complied with my promise to Judge Worsham, as I have not seen Miss B....

I will send down Joshua, & a Buggy for Mother, and suggest her for one of the Mr. Ellis' or the judge's to ride up in company with Mother, and take a look at the ladies and men, about Huntsville.

It is said to be healthy there. Since I came here, I have traded for another place within two or three miles, of Denison. It is a bang up place! What say you to a look at it? Mrs. Haustell I think is in better health, than when we were at your house, and little Anna, is faster than she has ever been.

He sends his kind regards to you, our Brother, and all the family kept in this also.

Mrs. Moore, has been quite ill, with an affection in her side

P. S. Sam says he has ^{May} a birth day present- which his Pa gave him, of a pretty Gold pencil, for his Uncle Joe. so soon ^{Yours} ^{Friend} as he can see him, if it is not too long!!!

BEGINNER'S CORNER

Editor's Note: This is a new feature. Your comments and suggestions are welcome. Our first article offers suggestions for reading and copying census records.

In genealogy we begin with the present and work backward, generation by generation, linking each together with proofs and documentation. For those beginning research, the 1850 census schedules (as well as later ones) are usually most helpful. Each time you find your family on a census record, you have additional facts - not to be taken at face value - but to be checked and verified with your other documentation.

Sometimes you may feel as if you've encountered a foreign language when faced with some handwriting in census records. For the most part census enumerators were not their best with cursive writing which makes reading (and reading correctly) at times very frustrating.

It will be helpful to scan an entire census before beginning to copy any information. That will give you an opportunity to become familiar with the enumerator's handwriting. When you find your family, be sure to copy the information exactly as it appears on the census record. Even though you know that Grandpa's name was "Edwin" and his name is shown as "Edward" on the census, don't correct it. By noting "m" and "f" in the sex category, you won't have to depend on your memory as to just who Willie, Jessie and Frances were - son or daughter. If you see the word "do" used under a surname, it is another form of a ditto mark. Don't second guess on birth places. Indiana, and not Iowa, appears as "IA" on some 1850 and 1860 records. What looks like "Tenn" may turn out to be "Texas" after a closer look - or vice versa. Don't let "Unk" stump you. It only means that the birthplace was "Unknown." If a name, or a part of a name, is not clear to you, make a dash for each letter that is in doubt, i.e., "Mary El----." Or you might try "drawing" the word and ask someone experienced in reading oldstyle handwriting to help you.

Remember the saying, "Birds of a feather flock together." If your ancestor moved from North Carolina to Kentucky, it is very likely that he brought along some of his kinfolks. Therefore, it is important to take particular note of the neighbors. Copy the names of the heads of household and if time will permit, copy the entire household. You may find out that some of them belong in your family. It was not unusual for sons (and daughters) to marry and live next door, or in the same neighborhood, to their parents.

The following are some very good examples of the way many letters were written which can easily be misread.

Mrs. Parker adds these notes about the family:

James Madison Springfield was the son of James L. and Nancy (Styles) Springfield and grandson of Thomas and Laodicea (Langston) Springfield. His grandmother, "Dicey" was a heroine of the Revolutionary War. Descendants are eligible for membership in DAR/SAR.

James M. Springfield was born in Traveler's Rest, South Carolina and came to Texas sometime between March 2, 1836 and October 1, 1837. He received a 2nd class headright of 640 acres which is now located in a position cut by the county lines of Leon and Freestone counties. Although he always listed his occupation as a farmer, family tradition says that he owned a store or trading post in the Kosse-Eutaw area. He is buried in the Eutaw Cemetery, his tombstone indicating that he was a Mason. He died November 14, 1870 (the Mortality Schedule gives cause of death as typhoid fever.)

James Springfield first married Susan F. Gentry October 18, 1848. They had two daughters, Nancy Emaline (Mrs. Parker's ancestor) and Sarah Jane. Susan Gentry Springfield died when only 19 years old and her daughter, Sarah Jane, died less than a year later.

James Springfield married Crecidus McKinley in 1855 and they had 7 children. It is not known just how many children lived to adulthood. The Bible record refers to a "Eula Reese ____ Springfield, a daughter, who died in 1894.

After her husband's death, his widow, Crecidus, married J. P. Brown. The hand-writing in the Bible changed. Mr. Brown's birth date was added along with dates of his three marriages and the death dates of his first two wives. Mrs. Parker thinks that all of the Brown information was added at one time. The only marriage date for any of the children is that of Nancy Emaline Springfield to John L. Perry. This was fortunate since it seems to have taken place in Falls County, Texas, where the records have been destroyed by fire.

Ed. Note: Mrs. Parker first received a copy of this Bible record from a Dallas fellow researcher. Another copy came later from a cousin, Tom Perry, Jr., of Tyler, Texas. In 1984 Mr. Perry visited Mrs. B. G. (Lula) Harlan (owner of the Bible) in San Antonio, Texas and carefully compared the copy with the Bible.

DENTON COUNTY, TEXAS TAX ROLLS

Transcribed from microfilm, Archives Division,
Texas State Library, Austin, Texas

By Nancy Timmons Samuels

Denton County was created in 1846 from Fannin County. It, Cooke and Tarrant Counties were the most northwestern Texas counties to have an 1850 census.

Of the northwestern counties (prior to 1850) Denton and Dallas Counties were created by 1846, thus some records pertaining to people in their neighboring counties can be found in these counties. A few of the people who appear on the earliest tax rolls of Denton County will also be found on Dallas County tax rolls. Likewise, a few of the Denton County people will be found on the earliest tax rolls of Tarrant County (early 1850s.)

The tax rolls of Denton County, herein, do not give the land owned. At this early time, few of the Peters Colonists had obtained rights or titles to their lands. Generally, it was around 1852 that most of the colonists' titles were cleared.

COOKE, DAILY, BARNES, EATON, LEWIS, MCCOY

Seeking information on my great-grandmother, Ara Daily Cooke, born 23 October 1825, Blount County, Alabama, daughter of George and Barbary Ratliff Daily. Married Ausburn Cooke 21 January 1841, Blount Co. Eight children: William Greenberry (Green), my grandfather, George A., Amanda O., Robert P., Dorcas Emily, Sena L., James Austin, Eliza Minte. The family moved to Texas about 1855 and is believed to have settled in Wood County.

Bible records state that Ausburn died 14 April 1855, and his widow married Samuel Barnes 25 May 1855. This is the only mention of Samuel, as the 1860 Wood County census lists Ara Barnes and all the Cooke children. The 1880 Rains County census lists Ara Cooke and daughter, Sena Eaton with little daughters Lester and Minte Eaton living in the same household. Both women's marital status is listed as divorced. Where did Ara live and when and where did she die?

William Greenberry Cooke served in Co. E. 10th Texas Regt., Confederate Army. He married Elizabeth Lewis and had two children, George Franklin and Alice Leticia, my mother. After the death of his first wife on 19 August 1876, he married Lucy McCoy, Sommerville County, Texas, ca 1876. Five children. William died 8 August 1922, Vanderpool, Bandera County. Need information on other seven children of Ausburn and Ara Daily Cooke. Will exchange information.

TOWNSEND, KESTERSON

Searching for the parents of John R. Townsend, whose tombstone reads that he was born July 27, 1831 and died December 25, 1898. The Howard County, Arkansas, census gives his age as 36, born in Arkansas, married to Mary M. Kesterson, with five children. He enlisted at Galveston, Texas, age 19, on December 21, 1861. I don't know which figures are right. Can't locate him in his parents' home.

Jones, born 30 June 1798, Vermont, died 27 October 1857, Upshur County, Texas. Both are thought to be buried in Calloway, Texas. RASH

Have compiled a great amount of information on the Rash family which was in western North Carolina, middle Tennessee, Jackson County, Alabama, Missouri, Arkansas, and Texas. It is not a direct line of mine but an allied one. Many descendant families lived in the Johnson-Hood counties area of Texas, some having been in other Texas locales prior to that. Am interested in obtaining information on the families who left Hood County in early 1900s and went to Stonewall County, Texas. Will be glad to help anyone interested. I have too much to "send everything I have," but will be glad to add to, correct, or furnish additional information to anyone who will send me pedigree chart and group sheets regarding the families they are interested in.

BEER, SMITH

Would like to know the antecedents and siblings of Nathan Beer, born 7 February 1828, Illinois; died 12 May 1909, Texas; married 17 April 1856 in Arkansas to Ann Smith, born 1 February 1839, Arkansas; died 3 March 1905, buried Mount Olive Cemetery, Cooke County, Texas. They were in Cooke County by 1857 and still there 1900; had 12 children.

Would like to know more about Ann Smith's parents, who were Andrew and Rebecca Smith, perhaps the Andrew M. Smith who married Rebecca R. Smith in Rutherford County, Tennessee (lic.) 26 January 1836, lived in present Lonoke County, Arkansas, in 1850, and were in Cooke County, Texas by 1860, living next to the Nathan Beer family. Andrew and Rebecca were both age 40 in 1850, age 50 in 1860 and age 60 in 1870.

According to the censuses, the Smith children were: Elizabeth, [illegible], Ann, Wilbern or William, Allen, Jane and Alvin. The youngest four children ages 18, 14, 12, and 9, respectively, were still at home in 1860. Ann married Nathan Beer, and the two oldest children were not found in 1860. Alvin and Jane were still with their parents in 1870. Allen Smith married ca 1868 to Elethe L. ? and Wilbern Smith ca 1869 Mary A. ?

GONCE, STEWMAN, KIMBALL, SHEWMAKE, WHISENHUNT, DAUGHERTY, REYNOLDS

Would like to know the antecedents and siblings of Lewis Cleveland Gonce, born 4 May 1856, Pennsylvania or Tennessee; died 16 December 1924 at Gordon, Palo Pinto County, Texas, buried there; married 1879-80, possibly Georgia, to Sarah Frances ____ (possibly Sally Stewman), born 3 April 1865, perhaps Georgia; died 25 December 1918, probably Gordon, Texas. Had children: Josie, Mattie (married John Kimball), Bert, Mollie, Tom, Ida and Ada (twins who married Arthur Shewmake and ____ Whisenhunt, respectively), Ruth, Gertrude (married "Snipe" Daugherty, and lived Stephens Co., Texas), Ollie Better Check (married Nettie E. Reynolds), and Worney Frank. The last two were born 1901 and 1904 at Aquilla, Hill County, Texas.

Where was the family prior to coming to Texas? Lewis Cleveland is believed to have been of some relation, perhaps a younger brother, to John A. Gonce, born 1844 Tennessee, died 1886, buried in Salesville Cemetery, Palo Pinto County. Was in the area prior to 1880 and apparently came to Texas from Missouri between 1874 and 1878.

WARREN

Joseph M. Warren, born 1791, South Carolina, died Henderson County, Texas ca 1856. He was in the 1850 census of Newton County, Mississippi. His brother, John rode a horse to Texas when Joseph died to get Joseph's daughter, Louisa, because there was no one to take care of her. Would like to contact descendants of Joseph.

MOSS, BROOKE, ABBOTT, BOGER, HILL

Would like to know names of the children of Felix and Edna/Eddy Moss, both born ca 1800, South Carolina. Married ca 1822 and lived in Cherokee County, Georgia, by 1833. There were at least ten children. Some of the older ones may have remained in Georgia, but the family moved to Texas ca 1850-53, lived in Williamson County. Felix either remained in or returned to Georgia to attend to business, then started to Texas to join his family "in late fall of 1853." He died in Cass County, Texas. Did his widow "Eddy" remain in Texas or return to Georgia?

Several of their children remained in Texas: Elizabeth G., born ca 1826 South Carolina, died 1861, Lampasas County, Texas; married (1) John Franklin Brooke; married (2) Alexander Abbott. Seek information on her Abbott descendants. Frances Theresa, born ca 1829, South Carolina, died Clay County, Texas, is said to have been buried at Big Sandy or Charlie, near Henrietta; married 1846 Daniel Cicero Boger. Martha, born ca 1830 South Carolina, died probably Bosque County, Texas; married 1846 Harrison D. Hill, lived in Bosque County 1860, and in their household were the two Brooke orphans of her sister Elizabeth G.

According to censuses, Felix and Eddy Moss had at least two other sons, William "Billy," who died as a young man, and Andrew F. Pickens, born ca 1835 Georgia. There were two daughters, born 1830-35, and two other daughters born 1835-40, who were perhaps Malinda and Caroline. The oldest sons are believed to have been W. R. D. (Warren Rayford David), born ca 1826 and Jeptha, born ca 1822. W. R. D. remained in Georgia, at least until after 1870. Where did Jeptha live? Information on any of these families would be appreciated.

The Baker family lived in southeastern Denton County except for a short period ca 1870 in Jack County. He died in 1877 in Denton County. Julia married L. A. Jones 12 August 1880, Denton County, and Mary married J. W. Swisher 14 December 1882, Denton County. Elizabeth died ca 1888, Denton County. She may have been a second wife.

President's Page

The Fort Worth Genealogical Society appreciates very much the successful work done in 1985 by then President Patricia Chadwell Jackson and the Officers, Directors, and Committee Members of her Administration. Also, I want to express my appreciation to those who have agreed to serve in the various offices, as Directors, and as Chairmen and Members of the several Committees, for this New Year of 1986. I am well aware, of course, that a successful 1986 year rests very much in their hands, with the support of the loyal and caring Membership of the Fort Worth Society. We hope to continue serving the Genealogical Community as the Society has done for more than twenty-eight years.

In this new year we expect to give recognition to TEXAS 150, in an appropriate manner. And we look forward to the regular society meetings each month on the last Monday night of the month at 7:00 p.m., for the Programs arranged by Mrs. Barbara Knox, Second Vice-President and Program Chairman. There are no meetings in December, and please mark your calendar for a Society meeting on Tuesday Night, May 27, 1986, in lieu of May 26, which is a holiday for the observance of Memorial Day.

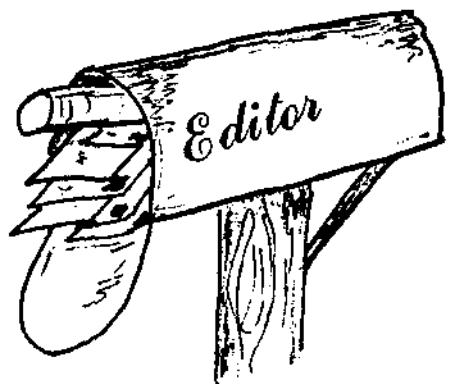

The Publishing Committee, with Mrs. Mildred Smith as Chairman, is continuing its work, and they may have something new for us during the year. We plan to have some workshop-type Seminars during the year, with at least one of them being for those on the beginners' level. There will not be a Seminar in the spring as has been done for the past several years. If there is sufficient interest, the Society may have an all-day course on computer use in Genealogical Record Keeping, on a Saturday. If the Society Membership desires it, a Special Interest group for computer users might be established after proper changes in the By-Laws.

We expect to have printed list of our membership for sale by the end of March. Do send items of genealogical interest and value from our area to Mrs. Catherine Gonzalez so that she can keep FOOTPRINTS full of useful information, and do attend as many of the monthly meetings of the Society as you may find it convenient.

May this be a good year for you.

W. L. Atterbury

From here and there

Another year has passed, and here it is time to begin my second term as editor of FOOTPRINTS. I worried last year that I would not be able to find enough material to fill four issues of 56 pages each. Now, I am wondering if I can manage to fill another two hundred and twenty-four pages!

As you read this issue, you will notice the excellent work that Mike Patterson has done in locating the Shiloh Cemetery in Tennessee. Also, Nan Samuels has written an interesting introduction for the GRAHAM LEADER abstracts. These abstracts will continue for the remainder of this year. Paul Smith's records of the Thompson Funeral Home will continue through another issue or two. Helen Hovey's Marriages of Palo Pinto County will end with the May issue. These dedicated genealogists and historians deserve much credit for their efforts in abstracting records for our use. I have other materials planned for FOOTPRINTS, but I shall need more material before the end of the year. The Wise County Index to Deeds has ended, but I hope someone else will provide records from other counties in our area. There are many ways that we can bring needed information to our readers.

I want to thank those workers who have been faithful in coming to the Fort Worth Public Library four times this year to label and arrange for the mailing of FOOTPRINTS. W.A. Satterwhite has taken on the job of sorting, bagging and carrying over 800 copies to the post office each quarter. Pit Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Fikes, Merle Ganier, Helen Markgraf, Florine and Carolyn Waters, Frances Young, and Pat Chadwell Jackson make up the rest of the mailing committee. Bertie Dancer has always provided us with a neat, attractive advertising section, and Merle Ganier edits and types all of the queries. They have worked hard and diligently to get your copies to you on time. My fervent gratitude goes to each of them. Ralph McKenzie, our printer at Chelle-Kirk Printers, always gets our books to us at 10:00 a.m. of the mailing dates. Also, W.A. Satterwhite has already set up our mailing dates for 1986 as near the 15th of the month as possible! And I thank FWGS for allowing me to perform a job that I thoroughly enjoy.

Sincerely,

Catherine Gonzales

The Fort Worth Genealogical Society has continued on its course in 1986, working on projects initiated previously and bringing some of them to successful conclusions, and starting a few new ones. Books, as memorials, and microfilm supplies, have been provided for the Genealogy Section of the Fort Worth Public Library, Marc B. Smith, Jr. gave the Society another roll of microfilm of its quarterly, FOOTPRINTS, being roll number two, covering the issues from 1971 to 1980 inclusive. Mrs. Nancy T. Samuels gave the Society a large number of her book, "1810 Census, Old Pendleton District, South Carolina."

Helen Markgraf began the copying of the Sexton's records of Oakwood Cemetery in Fort Worth and Margaret Kimbrell took over the Ancestral Referral Service and has it moving along. Elizabeth Schober continued her processing of the Exchange Quarterlies so that they may be bound and placed on the shelves of the Library for all to use.

Betty Gerth helped with lists of Bible Records and Cemetery Records from these exchange quarterlies for Billie Beth Moore and Joyce Johnson. Merle Ganier handled the Queries for the Editor. Eleanor Hutcheson headed a collating team which reduced the printing cost of FOOTPRINTS and Bertie Dancer did the Ads for FOOTPRINTS.

We thank Catherine Gonzalez for her good work as Editor, which position she gave up in the middle of this year after about three years as Editor. And our special thanks to Barbara Knox who picked up as Editor for the August issue of FOOTPRINTS and continued a good Bulletin. Patricia Jackson printed and mailed the monthly Newsletters, and printed the address labels for mailings of the Newsletters and Quarterlies with some assistance from Beverly Nelms. Nelita Snow directed a very successful bus trip to Austin for research in June. Jari Emmons and Paul Campbell did a Workshop on September 13th; Jari was Director and also gave a part of the program. Frances Malcolm will be the speaker for a Beginner's Workshop on November 15th. Weldon Hudson is planning a Seminar for Spring 1987.

Florene Waters was always there for registration of Members and Guests at the monthly meetings and was in reality a one-person public relations committee. Bernice and Scott Fikes took care of the Genealogical Supplies at all times for your convenience; Lynda Hill managed the Gifts and Memorials made to the Society, and Mildred Smith continued selling books.

The Society is indebted to those Officers and Directors who did so many things during the year for the Society, from arranging for Texas oriented programs to answering requests, and kept track of the Membership, its moneys, and its activities. And special thanks to Barbara Knox, Beverly Nelms, Marie Gooch and Olyve Abbott.

And thank you, the Members, for your support and participation.
