

Search & Seizure Research Guide

Overview

This research guide includes information and resources on search and seizure. The Fourth Amendment of the United States Constitution prohibits unreasonable search and seizures by the government. In criminal law, "search and seizure" refers to law enforcement's examination of a person or property to find evidence when he/she believes a crime has been committed. (Cornell Law School) The resources listed below are not exhaustive and may not include the most up-to-date information. It is for information purposes only and should not be construed as legal advice or act as the substitute for counsel.
